

THE WOBURN JOURNAL.

George A. Hobbs, Publisher. Office at 204 Main Street. $2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

VOL. XXXV.

WOBURN, MASS., FRIDAY, JANUARY 2, 1885.

NO. 2.

WILLIAM W. HILL, Druggist,

Opposite the Common.

Business Cards.

MOSES BANCROFT,
SEWING MACHINES AND FINDINGS,
101 MAIN ST., WOBURN, SOLE'S BLOCK

CENTRAL HOUSE
Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable,
BALED HAY & STRAW, FOR SALE,
212 MAIN ST., WOBURN

A choice assortment of Harnesses, robes, Blankets
Whips, etc., constantly on hand for sale.
G. F. JONES, Proprietor.

FOR Chapped Hands and Face
— USE —

Leeds's Glycerine Lotion,
THE BEST THING OUT.

WILLIAM WINN & CO.,
AUCTIONEERS.

Sale of Real and Personal Estates intended to be realistic terms. Orders left at Woburn JOURNAL
Office, T. H. Hill & Co., and at H. F. Jones's Store, 101 Main Street, Woburn, will receive prompt attention.

W. H. WINN, S. E. PRIOR,
H. F. ESTABROOK.

Farming Tools & Seeds,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES.

STOVES AND KITCHEN Ware,
L. THOMPSON, NO. 213 MAIN STREET

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,
Watchmaker & Optician,
No. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,
21 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class
Bakery can be found.

224-25

W. A. REYNOLDS, D.D.S.,
Dental Rooms

George Winn and Pleasant streets. Open evenings.
Gas and Ether administered.

Connected by telephone: No. Telephone, 7549

GEORGE P. BROWN,
DRUG DEALER IN
Drugs and Medicines,
And Druggists' Sundries.

WINCHESTER, MASS.
Physicians' prescriptions carefully compounded.
And prescriptions frequently dispensed. The public will find our stock of medicines complete, warranted genuine, and of the best quality.

PIANOS TUNED FOR $1.50.

Offer by Paul Cade, which may be obtained at his shop, 101 Main Street, Post Office, and H. F. Jones's Store, 101 Main Street, Woburn, and at Brown's Drug Store, Winchester.

W. F. CLEMENT,
Woburn, July 15th, 1880.

71

M. J. COREY,

Organist at Unitarian Church,

Will receive pupils in PIANO, FORGE, ORGAN AND HARMONY. Inquire at LEEDS'S DRUG STORE or 28 Worcester Square, Boston.

48-4

THOMAS H. HILL & CO.,
Lyceum Building,

WOBURN, MASS.

Real Estate Agency

Fire Insurance.

Stock and Mutual Companies.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Notary Public, Justice of Peace.

TELEPHONE 7525.

SUMMER TIME TABLE.

North Woburn Street Railroad.

Leave Woburn at 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30,

8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30,

1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30,

11:30, 12:30, 1:30

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JAN. 2, 1885.

The Journal is to be sold at the stores of S. Hart, 103 Main Street; R. Robin, 108 Main Street; F. Carter's, Cummingsville; J. P. Tyler's, North Woburn; Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot and at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All Advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Massachusetts General Court for 1885 will convene next Wednesday, on which day also the new State government will be inaugurated. There has been no business of paramount importance suggested for the new Legislature and yet it is reasonable to presume that there will be enough to prolong the session well into next summer as the custom heretofore has been. Members from remote rural districts love the metropolis too well to be in much of a hurry about getting through the work and it is likely that the period of final adjournment will very closely approach next laying time, if it does not run a week or two into it.

The session might profitably go at the matter of biennial elections for which public sentiment is ripe and take the necessary steps for a change in the State constitution in this respect. Massachusetts is behind the age on this important question and it is time she should quit lagging behind. The people are ready for the change and their servants should not hold back.

It is expected that the temperance societies in the State will appeal to the session to adopt a measure to give the people an opportunity to vote on the question of constitutional prohibition; and the female suffragists will also, it is presumed, ask for some sort of legislation, which, with sundry other matters, will furnish employment enough for the members to last six months, unless they are more diligent than former Legislatures have had the reputation of being.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS.

They are encouraging. The opinions of business men everywhere sustain this view. The signs point unmistakably to a good winter's trade and to something like a boom next spring. A few days since a representative of the Boston Herald interviewed the heads of the mercantile houses of Jordan, Marsh & Co., R. H. White & Co., and others in the city from whom he received very favorable reports as to the present condition and future outlook of business. During the Christmas season the receipts of these houses were many thousand dollars in excess of any previous year, and at the date of the interview the usual after-Christmas falling off had not been experienced. The same story is told by the leading firms in New York, Chicago and other great cities. And more: in every instance the parties from whom information was sought predicted a general revival in business and gave good reasons for their opinions. They believe that this year will be one of the most prosperous the country has seen in a long time and will make arrangements accordingly. There is no reason why business should not be good this year. There are oceans of grain and plains covered with cattle in the West the sale of which will increase the demand for New England manufactures, set the wheels of trade in motion, and make money plenty. This is the way business Solons regard the situation.

GENERAL GRANT'S POVERTY.

The saying that republics are ungrateful is strongly illustrated in the case of Gen. Grant. The man to whom our country owes its existence to-day is in poverty and some men in New York are trying to devise ways to help him out of his financial straits. No business man himself he entrusted his comfortable competency to incompetent or dishonest hands and lost about all he had. Vanderbilt has attachments on all the property the General owns including things which nobody but a Vanderbilt would be guilty of attacking, and it must go unless his friends come to the rescue, for there is no hope that the government will. It is a human shame and disgrace that the great General who saved the Union and who has occupied its Executive chair for eight years should be compelled to battle with poverty in his old age and broken down health.

CLEVELAND SPEAKS.

In a recent letter addressed to George William Curtis and others President-elect Cleveland reiterates his determination to stand by and uphold all civil service rules and laws and to make no changes in the members of offices on purely partisan grounds. In a certain class of cases, meaning postmasters, etc., he says removals should not be made during the terms of the present holders of such places, and goes on to write very fairly about the business. If the Democrats of the country believed the writer sincere in his statements to the "reformers" his words would be a very wet blanket to their hopes and expectations.

*W*e have received one of Henry H. Faxon's temperance broadsides wherein he goes for the Quincy and other rum-sellers with his usual vigor and acerbity.

OPPOSED TO IT.

About a week ago Post 119, G. A. R., of Lexington, held a meeting at which resolutions were adopted in opposition to the Lowering pension bill, and notification of the action of the Post ordered forwarded to our member of Congress. Previously a different vote had been secured by the few friends of the eight-dollar pension to all soldiers bill, and the action the other three weeks ago, since which she has not spoken although conscious. At the present time her condition is very critical.

We saw a fine marine view in oils at the drugstore of Mr. W. H. Hill the other day which was executed by a lady of this village. It was a handsome and artistically finished painting.

Mr. Lincoln Emerson and Mr. Goddard have gone into the insurance business for which they have rented a fine suite of rooms in the new College block on Main street. They will make it win.

Next Monday evening Miss Jessie Gilbert, the 15-years-old cornet soloist, will give one of her popular exhibitions at Munroe & Newton's rink. It will be a good thing. Prices as usual.

Last Monday morning saw Charles Hart back at his post in Hart & Co's express after a long absence from the same. It looked natural to see him there, and he appeared to be very much at home.

Mr. George W. Jenkins has a new card in this paper which is of interest to the public. He carries a large and well selected stock of all kinds of goods in his line, and his prices are always reasonable.

Mr. Edwin P. Crosby who resides on Pleasant street had his hand severely bitten while interfering with a dog fight. He kindly attempted to separate the belligerents and came off the worse for it.

Major H. C. Hall has returned to Woburn with the intention of wintering with us. He has been railroad-building in Connecticut for a year or two, and will probably go to Philadelphia in the spring to engage in the same business.

The following are the newly elected officers of Charles Merriam, No. 3, S. of: Capt. J. E. Cutler; 1st Lieut., Charles Story; 2nd Lieut., D. K. Colgate; Camp Council, G. E. Spaulding; B. F. Story, Jr., Clas. M. Wendall.

By a rearrangement of the force Deputy Chief Walsh is seen much more numerously on the streets by day than has been the case for some time past. For a good many months he performed night-duty, but has got into the sun-light again.

The M. E. people watched the old and the new one in at their church as usual. There was a very good attendance and a pleasant meeting. There were three services at St. Charles Church yesterday morning, at 5.30, 7.30 and 9 o'clock. No other religious meetings were held to usher in the new year.

The old store recently vacated by H. A. E. Thompson, in the Wade block, is undergoing repairs and renovations to some extent by the College folks to make it inhabitable. When Mr. Thompson went out of it, a few months ago, it was at the end of a continuous occupancy, as boy and man, of over fifty years. The interior of the old concern is an architectural curiosity.

Winter is speeding on its flight. A third of it has gone into the records of the past and in a couple of months more spring will be here again. The days have lengthened five minutes already and when they turn it always seems like getting over the worst of it. Of course there is a good deal of tough weather in store for us yet this winter, but the sun is getting nearer every day, and that is a comforting reflection.

Last Wednesday morning James Warren, son of Mr. John Ellard, had his left hand so badly injured in a splitting machine at Rollin's shop that it became necessary to amputate the third and fourth fingers. It was a very serious accident for the young man.

Mr. W. F. Ruggles, dealer in pictures, picture-frames, etc., in the new College block on the Wade estate, is doing a good business. People find it very handy to have their frames made at home, and less expensive than in the city.

Mr. C. Cummings makes a change in his advertisement to which we call the attention of the reader.

No. 5 House has been overhauled and repaired. No. 6 will be subjected to Dr. Kelley, his physician.

Mr. Charles M. Munroe has some things to say in another column of this paper which are worthy a careful perusal.

Mr. B. T. H. Porter, insurance agent, will please accept our thanks for a good large supply of handsome 1885 calendars.

There is no doubt but that the organ concert at the M. E. Church on this Friday, evening will be a splendid musical treat.

Owing to the lateness of the season Gage & Co. are offering to sell heavy suits and suiting at a great reduction of prices.

The next lecture in the Lyceum course will be given in the evening of January 22 by Rev. Bernard Carpenter, D. D., of Boston.

Mr. James Vye, elsewhere referred to in these columns, was not so seriously injured as feared and is doing well. He must be tough.

About thirty Swiss attended the Methodist watc-meeting Wednesday night and listened to a good sermon at 9 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Fisk.

The Dakota blizzard switched its tail over this place yesterday afternoon resulting in a slight fall of frozen rain. It was far from being severe.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Selectmen for the approval of bills and other business will be held on next Tuesday afternoon.

We are indebted to Mr. John Brainer for lots of cedar kindly left by him at the door of the place where we sit. Brother Brainer is good to the poor always.

The holidays are over and things have quieted down considerably. The rush has subsided and the lundrum of every-day life has set in again. And it is all right.

The Sunday School of the First Congregational Church gave their Christmas concert on last Sunday evening. It was very well attended and quite pleasant.

Rev. Mr. Westall's lecture on "The Higher Education of Woman" will be given in the Unitarian church next Sunday evening. A cordial invitation extended to all.

It is said that Mr. James T. Dow bargained for the Mower residence on Academy Hill, which is one of the best in this village. It is a pleasant location for a fine house.

There was no quorum at the meeting of the School Board on Tuesday evening so of course no business was transacted. It was adjourned to 7.30 o'clock this evening.

As near as we can make out the evening school as we have not commenced running yet and in the judgment of this scrivener no great damage is done by delaying the opening of them.

The walks on Pleasant's street have been perfectly horrid this walk. With the amounts of money appropriated for highways by the town the people are entitled to better sidewalks.

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, JANUARY 2, 1885.

Attention is called to the fact that there will be general skating at Munroe & Newton Olympian rink this evening. Everything will be done to make the session a pleasant one.

For one cent an hour a room fifteen feet square can be kept warm and comfortable by using a Garland Oil Stove with the Drum attached. See them at Jenkins Hardware Store.

The wife of Nathan Wyman, Esq., was stricken with paralysis about three weeks ago, since which she has not spoken although conscious. At the present time her condition is very critical.

We saw a fine marine view in oils at the drugstore of Mr. W. H. Hill the other day which was executed by a lady of this village. It was a handsome and artistically finished painting.

Mr. Lincoln Emerson and Mr. Goddard have gone into the insurance business for which they have rented a fine suite of rooms in the new College block on Main street. They will make it win.

Next Monday evening Miss Jessie Gilbert, the 15-years-old cornet soloist, will give one of her popular exhibitions at Munroe & Newton's rink. It will be a good thing. Prices as usual.

Next Monday evening saw Charles Hart back at his post in Hart & Co's express after a long absence from the same. It looked natural to see him there, and he appeared to be very much at home.

Mr. George W. Jenkins has a new card in this paper which is of interest to the public. He carries a large and well selected stock of all kinds of goods in his line, and his prices are always reasonable.

Mr. Edwin P. Crosby who resides on Pleasant street had his hand severely bitten while interfering with a dog fight. He kindly attempted to separate the belligerents and came off the worse for it.

Major H. C. Hall has returned to Woburn with the intention of wintering with us. He has been railroad-building in Connecticut for a year or two, and will probably go to Philadelphia in the spring to engage in the same business.

The following are the newly elected officers of Charles Merriam, No. 3, S. of: Capt. J. E. Cutler; 1st Lieut., Charles Story; 2nd Lieut., D. K. Colgate; Camp Council, G. E. Spaulding; B. F. Story, Jr., Clas. M. Wendall.

By a rearrangement of the force Deputy Chief Walsh is seen much more numerously on the streets by day than has been the case for some time past. For a good many months he performed night-duty, but has got into the sun-light again.

The M. E. people watched the old and the new one in at their church as usual. There was a very good attendance and a pleasant meeting. There were three services at St. Charles Church yesterday morning, at 5.30, 7.30 and 9 o'clock. No other religious meetings were held to usher in the new year.

The Cottage Hearth, which we give with the JOURNAL for a single subscription of two dollars, is liked very much by all subscribers who have made much return to this office. It is an excellent magazine containing a large amount of valuable and entertaining reading, well illustrated, and the cheapest one in the country compared with its actual worth.

A notice of the death of the wife of Mr. William D. Grammer appears in another place in this paper. It was so sudden and unexpected that the blow falls with increased weight on the hearts of the bereaved husband and all the family and friends. Many will deeply lament her death and they will have sympathy of the community in their sorrow.

The Cottage Hearth, which we give with the JOURNAL for a single subscription of two dollars, is liked very much by all subscribers who have made much return to this office. It is an excellent magazine containing a large amount of valuable and entertaining reading, well illustrated, and the cheapest one in the country compared with its actual worth.

The remains of Mr. John H. Connolly, who died on Friday last, were interred in Calvary cemetery on Monday forenoon. The funeral was attended by a very large number of people, the procession reaching from St. Charles church up to Main street. The deceased had many friends in Woburn and vicinity by whom his death is deeply regretted. He was a whole-souled, open-handed man, kind and generous to poor people, and helpful to all. He will be missed in this community, especially by his countrymen and women, whom he has all along in his business life aided and abetted. Strictly upright and honest in all his dealings he had the respect and confidence of those who knew him. He left a wife and two sons to mourn his loss.

The subject of an article by William R. Cutler, Librarian of the Public Library, in the January number of The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, is the last of a series of publications begun many years since by the father of Mr. Cutler on the genealogy of this and neighboring towns. In the same number of the Register is the following description of Woburn in the year 1660, by Samuel Maverick, one of the earliest settlers of Boston:

Woburn—Four or five miles above Moulton [Malden] west is a more considerable Town called Woburn, they live by furnishing the Sea Towns with Provisions as Corn and Flesh and also they furnish the Merchants with such goods to be exported.

Winter is speeding on its flight.

A third of it has gone into the records of the past and in a couple of months more spring will be here again. The days have lengthened five minutes already and when they turn it always seems like getting over the worst of it.

Of course there is a good deal of tough weather in store for us yet this winter, but the sun is getting nearer every day, and that is a comforting reflection.

The old store recently vacated by H. A. E. Thompson, in the Wade block, is undergoing repairs and renovations to some extent by the College folks to make it inhabitable. When Mr. Thompson went out of it, a few months ago, it was at the end of a continuous occupancy, as boy and man, of over fifty years. The interior of the old concern is an architectural curiosity.

Winter is speeding on its flight. A third of it has gone into the records of the past and in a couple of months more spring will be here again. The days have lengthened five minutes already and when they turn it always seems like getting over the worst of it.

Of course there is a good deal of tough weather in store for us yet this winter, but the sun is getting nearer every day, and that is a comforting reflection.

The old store recently vacated by H. A. E. Thompson, in the Wade block, is undergoing repairs and renovations to some extent by the College folks to make it inhabitable. When Mr. Thompson went out of it, a few months ago, it was at the end of a continuous occupancy, as boy and man, of over fifty years. The interior of the old concern is an architectural curiosity.

Winter is speeding on its flight. A third of it has gone into the records of the past and in a couple of months more spring will be here again. The days have lengthened five minutes already and when they turn it always seems like getting over the worst of it.

Of course there is a good deal of tough weather in store for us yet this winter, but the sun is getting nearer every day, and that is a comforting reflection.

The old store recently vacated by H. A. E. Thompson, in the Wade block, is undergoing repairs and renovations to some extent by the College folks to make it inhabitable. When Mr. Thompson went out of it, a few months ago, it was at the end of a continuous occupancy, as boy and man, of over fifty years. The interior of the old concern is an architectural curiosity.

Winter is speeding on its flight. A third of it has gone into the records of the past and in a couple of months more spring will be here again. The days have lengthened five minutes already and when they turn it always seems like getting over the worst of it.

Of course there is a good deal of tough weather in store for us yet this winter, but the sun is getting nearer every day, and that is a comforting reflection.

The old store recently vacated by H. A. E. Thompson, in the Wade block, is undergoing repairs and renovations to some extent by the College folks to make it inhabitable. When Mr. Thompson went out of it, a few months ago, it was at the end of a continuous occupancy, as boy and man, of over fifty years. The interior of the old concern is an architectural curiosity.

Winter is speeding on its flight. A third of it has gone into the records of the past and in a couple of months more spring will be here again. The days have lengthened five minutes already and when they turn it always seems like getting over the worst of it.

Of course there is a good deal of tough weather in store for us yet this winter, but the sun is getting nearer every day, and that is a comforting reflection.

The old store recently vacated by H. A. E. Thompson, in the Wade block, is undergoing repairs and renovations to some extent by the College folks to make it inhabitable. When Mr. Thompson went out of it, a few months ago, it was at the end of a continuous occupancy, as boy and man, of over fifty years. The interior of the old concern is an architectural curiosity.

Winter is speeding on its flight.

A third of it has gone into the records of the past and in a couple of months more spring will be here again. The days have lengthened five minutes already and when they turn it always seems like getting over the worst of it.

Of course there is a good deal of tough weather in store for us yet this winter, but the sun is getting nearer every day, and that is a comforting reflection.

The old store recently vacated by H. A. E. Thompson, in the Wade block, is undergoing repairs and renovations to some extent by the College folks to make it inhabitable. When Mr. Thompson went out of it, a few months ago, it was at the end of a continuous occupancy, as boy and man, of over fifty years. The interior of the old concern is an architectural curiosity.

Winter is speeding on its flight.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JAN. 9, 1885.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. Horton, 195 Main Street, R. Robie, 196 Main Street, F. Cutters, Cummingsville, J. P. Tyler's, North Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot and at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Massachusetts Legislature met on Wednesday forenoon and promptly organized. The Republicans have a very large majority in both branches and harmony prevailing in the ranks, they made quick work of it.

The Hon. A. E. Pillsbury of Boston was elected President of the Senate by a unanimous vote, which was different from what was generally looked for. There had been several candidates for the honorable position and it was thought there would be a strong and probably protracted contest over it. Hon. Stephen N. Gilford of Duxbury was elected Clerk of the Senate without opposition, and Capt. O. F. Mitchell sergeant-at-arms.

In the House the proceedings were equally prompt and harmonious. On the vote for speaker J. Q. A. Brackett, Esq. of Boston received 217 out of 234 votes and was duly elected the choice of the members. Edward A. McLaughlin was elected Clerk.

The machinery having been duly arranged both houses proceeded to business at which they will, as the great lamented used to say, keep pegging away as long as there is anything to be done or ingenious minds can invent excuses for staying at the capitol.

It is observed that many civil service associations in the country have officially endorsed Mr. Cleveland's late letter on the subject. When the construction which Democrats place on the letter and which the writer will be forced to adopt after his inauguration is considered it will be the possible "reformers" may regret their haste.

Senator Hawley states that the Administration did not interfere with the Republicans in the late national election. He is careful not to say however that President Arthur and his official surroundings laid back and refused to help the Republicans win a victory.

Mr. Randall has made himself solid with the South by his very active and zealous opposition to the bankrupt resolution in the national House early this week. Just what the Hon. gentleman's little game is no one fully understands.

The Mexican Pension bill met with defeat in the House the other day. It was thought to be a just measure but for some reason or other failed to meet the approval of a majority of the members.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

W. E. Carter—Rink.
J. O. Carter—Lecture.
J. M. Gerrish—Clothing.
Woman's Club—Lecture.
J. C. H. Thompson—Notes.
Geo. P. Howell & Co.—Mis. ad.
Emerson & Goddard—Insurance.
Woburn Club—Entertainments.

A dozen parades were picked from a yard on Pleasant street New Year's Day.

Thomas H. Hill represents a large number of the best insurance companies that do business.

By addressing P. O. Box 76 any one wanting a good store on Main street can learn of one to rent.

The days have increased in length 14 minutes and is still quietly pegging away in the same direction.

G. C., W. H. Solomon will install the offices of Woburn, this evening.

The First National Bank will hold their annual meeting on next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Bank parlors.

Crystal Fount Lodge, I. O. O. F., will give their annual ball in Lyceum Hall on Wednesday evening, January 14. Ticket 1.00.

The Advertiser has counted up thirteen snow storms for the season. With that number it is strange that we have no sleighing yet.

There was a very heavy rain storm on last Tuesday which made mud enough to satisfy the most particular and exacting disposition.

We don't ask for anything finer in the shape of winter weather than yesterday gave us. Well, there it was just as fine as anything could be.

After protracted period of rain, mud and slush the weather took a clearing up turn on Wednesday evening, after which things were different.

For all people at the Academy tonight to witness the League game between the Woburn and Brookton City.

Railroad matters appertaining to the Branch extension are very quiet here. Very little is heard about it and apparently not much interest felt.

Several wealthy people of this town helped the M. E. Society pay for their handsome organ with liberal donations for which they were very grateful.

This is the annual Week of Prayer. Religious meetings have been held in all the evangelical churches in this place, and the season generally observed.

Mr. Jenkins, the hardware dealer, has hired one of the best tin-roofers in the country and is now ready to respond to all calls for work of that kind promptly.

There is considerable sickness in these parts, and interments are quite numerous. Frequent and extreme changes have a deleterious effect on bodily health.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

The Star Minstrel Troupe, which gave so much pleasure at Unitarian Christmas Sunday School celebration at the Centre, are billed for a "show" in the Chapel at No. Woburn on Tuesday evening, January 13. They'll make fun for them up there.

A correspondent call attention to the matter of evening drawing schools, which we are glad to see. We are told that a large number of men would be glad to attend the school, which if put into running order and duly appreciated would make a good showing.

Mr. C. E. Smith, painter, paper-hanger, etc., will soon move into the store on the corner of Main and Everett streets, where he will be able to accommodate his customers better than ever. It is a fine location for business, and Mr. Smith will keep it full of the goods people want.

It rained on Tuesday so the schools closed for the day to give the children an opportunity to paddle around outdoors in the wet all day and improve their health. How much better are the pupils on the street in a nasty day than in good, comfortable school-rooms?

We learn that the committee chosen by the citizens of No. Woburn to confer with Mr. George Baldwin at Quebec on railroad matters have returned. If they have made any report the same has not reached our ears. We trust however that it will be a favorable one when it comes.

Mr. H. G. Pollard has sold out his business at Stowham and returned to town. To be sure his home was here while employed in trade over at Stowham, but we are glad to know that he contemplates going into business and will be about our streets more than he has been for a couple of years past.

Attention is called to the large advertisement of a clothing store opened yesterday in the Wade Block by Mr. J. W. Gerrish, manager, who is a citizen of Woburn. The stock of clothing is large and consists of a great variety of goods, and the best of it is more reliable one in the world. Its calendar for 1885, representing the Company's magnificent building on the corner of Milk and Congress streets with neighboring buildings, was executed by famous house of John A. Lowell & Co. and is a gem in design and pleasant low prices.

Isn't it about time for the Advertiser to trot out its perennial non-partisan Board of Selectmen? We greatly fear our esteemed co-worker at the lower end of the street is losing sight of grave public questions while devoting all his spare time and energies to rolling all his spate right and be on opposition.

Copland, Bowser & Co. are a good firm of dry goods merchants in this town. They are popular with the buying public and enjoy a handsome trade. Please look at their card in this paper.

This has not been the best winter there ever was for plumbers. There has been but very little bursting of water pipes, but the guild hope to get in considerable profitable work between this and June.

Officer Bryan McSweeney was taken ill last Friday by typhoid-pneumonia with which he is still suffering. Though pretty sick the doctors say he will pull through all right and be on duty again soon.

We would respectfully suggest to Brother Thomas Sudinen that the Pleasant street sidewalks have been very bad again this week. It may be that the Journeymen have hitherto made some allusion to this subject.

The best programme for a concert at the New England Conservatory of Music that has been put out is that of yesterday's in which Mr. Fred H. Lewis was pianist, and Mr. Ben Carter, violinist. It was classical all through.

The statement of the condition of the Five Cents Savings Bank by Mr. Thompson which we publish elsewhere is the best ever made and reflects credit on its management. It is a sound and successful financial institution.

The St. Charles parochial school is a hive of intellectual industry. It contains some 400 or 500 pupils who are taught by a half dozen or more sisters. Were boys admitted the size of the school would be largely increased.

The temperance men of this village are considering the matter of speaking advocates of the cause for a series of eight lectures to be given in Lyceum Hall during the winter. There is a fair prospect that the course will be given.

In the last few days hundreds of people have paused in their travels in front of Mr. J. W. Hammond's clothing store to look at the "walking doll" therein exhibited. It is a genuine curiosity and no wonder people stop to look at it.

At a meeting of the committee on evening schools held last Friday evening, Mr. E. V. McDonald of Fall River was appointed Principal in which Mr. Fred Foley and Misses M. E. Briggs and Ettie Larkin were appointed assistants at $1.00 per night.

The organ concert given in the M. E. church last Friday evening was well attended and gave good satisfaction. Several prominent musical people took part in the exercises each of whom did well. The concert was also a success financially.

At the close of 1884 the Clerk of the Board, Town Treasurer and Auditors compared accounts of the town's receipts and expenditures and agreed in their figures exactly. The amount received by the Treasurer during the year, in cash and transfers, was $363,813.67. The commitment of taxes for the year was $165,072, of which the collector reported paid $127,000.

Not much business was transacted at the regular meeting of the Board of Selectmen on Tuesday last. The monthly report of the Chief of Police on account of some legal obstacle the matter of abatement of taxes on application of John H. Connolly was dismissed. The application for the release of Patrick Foley and John Clark from the House of Correction were referred to Probation Officer Simonds.—Voted to offer a reward of $100 for the apprehension and conviction of persons committing depredations on public shade trees.—Adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Swan celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Wednesday, Dec. 31st, at the residence of their son, Mr. Geo. Swan at Beverly. They were the recipients of numerous and valuable gifts from their many friends, and take this method to express their thanks to their friends in Woburn, Winchester, Beverly and elsewhere, who so kindly and generously remembered them on that occasion.

This is the annual Week of Prayer. Religious meetings have been held in all the evangelical churches in this place, and the season generally observed.

Mr. Jenkins, the hardware dealer, has hired one of the best tin-roofers in the country and is now ready to respond to all calls for work of that kind promptly.

Mr. Sparrow Horton of the Old Woburn Bookstore made us a present a 1885 diary the other day and now we hope to experience no more difficulty in keeping ourselves straight and within bounds. We thank Mr. Horton for the useful and valuable present.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian folks have covered the granite steps to their church with boards so as to break the force of that passage about some people standing on slippery places.

Have the goodness to read the card of the Woman's Club in this paper. It is in relation to the lecture of Dr. Boles which is to be given on next Friday evening.

The W. H. S. Class of '81 were handsomely entertained on last Friday evening by one of their old teachers, Mrs. Charles D. Adams, at her residence on Church street. Generous provisions were made for the reunion and a delightful evening was spent.

We have received several letters for publication within a day or two past, among them one from Winchester.

The Unitarian

B. & L. R. R.

From Boston to Winchester 6:15, 7:30, 7:35, 8:30, 9:05, 9:45, 10:11, 11:30, A. M., 12:10, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30 P. M.
From Winchester to Boston 6:05, 6:25, 6:38, 7:10, 7:45, 7:55, 8:30, 9:15, 10:25, 11:45, A. M., 1:30, 1:50, 2:55, 3:25, 4:00, 4:55, 5:15, 5:25, 6:25, 6:42, 8:45, 8:55 (Wednesdays only).

WINCHESTER.

There are 76 pupils in the High School.

The Methodists watched the old year out and new year in, as usual.

Revival meetings have recently been held in the Congregational church.

Whitney & Sons' establishment has been considerably improved of late.

Our schools are in good condition according to the monthly report of the Superintendent.

Tramps continue to visit this town many of whom find good lodgings in the village cabarets.

Joseph Shattuck is about to build a house on Mt. Vernon street. It is to be a nice one.

Mr. Wyman Locke, a prominent citizen of this town, died last week at the age of 65 years.

Messrs. D. N. Skillings and E. D. Bangs with their families are wintering at the Vendome in the city.

Our town is filling up with doctors pretty fast, but the old stand-bys hold their own against all new-comers.

Miss Lena R. Brackett, teacher in the Washington school, has resigned to accept a position in the Melrose Schools.

"Our Young People and the Church" is the theme selected for the discourse at the Unitarian Church next Sunday morning.

The next lecture in the Good Will Club Course will be given on next Tuesday evening. Subject: "Picturesque Mexico."

On the organization of the House Representative of this town was appointed chairman of the committee on returns of votes for executive officers.

The newly elected officers of Winchester Connell, No. 150 A. L. of H. were deeply installed in Harmony Hall, on the evening of January 1, by J. H. Osgood, G. C. and suite.

Our young people are not right well satisfied with the sort of winter we have had so far, nor will they be until the ponds give them real, smooth, glary ice for skating pleasures.

The prospect for a large amount of building here next spring and summer is good. Boston people are fast finding out that Winchester is a very desirable town to live in which will have a tendency to increase our growth rapidly and very much.

The Star says:—For more than a year Mr. James Russell has been the bar singer in the quartette of the Congregational Church, Woburn. His voice has been missed in the village chorus. We regret that our own churches are not able to retain with us such musical talent as Mr. Russell possesses.

I'm not hearing much concerning the scheme of some irresponsible visionary to consolidate all the towns around here in this section of country into one city, which leads me to think it has been abandoned, if ever seriously contemplated. Nothing more Utopian was ever hatched from a disordered brain than that. [Our correspondent must remember that it has the endorsement of some prominent people in Medford.—Ed. of JOURNAL.]

Our esteemed sister town of Medford is in a state of intense commotion which is not restless, uneasy being who inhabit the west-part of it—principally denizens of the little hamlet of West Medford—are putting forth impudent efforts to get the town divided and have themselves set off and incorporated under the euphonious name of Brooks. They are making a great deal of noise about it, and there is quite a little tempest in a teapot down there. It will all wash out in time probably.

The following concerning two citizens of Winchester is taken from the Boston Journal of Wednesday, January 7th. Mr. Coffin is a member of the Governor's Council and Mr. Elder is a member of the House.

Hon. Abram B. Coffin of Winchester is a lawyer and is a native of West Medford, where he was born March 31, 1811. After preparatory studies in Phillips Academy, Andover, he entered Dartmouth College, and was graduated in 1835. He has been a member of the school Committee and of the Board of Health in Winchester, was a member of the House in 1873, when he held the Chairmanship of the Committee on Elections, and was a State Senator in 1877 and 1878, serving each year on the Judiciary Committee and as Chairman of the Committee on Taxation.

Samuel James Elder, Republican, lawyer, of Winchester, was born in Hopeville, R. I., Jan. 4, 1850, and is a graduate of Yale College.

CROCKERY
And everything pertaining to the business. Large store in the city, recently opened to retail buyers. 156 Franklin St., Woburn's furniture block.

ROGERS & CO., Estd. 1815.

BUCKNER'S ANTIMONIUM SALVE.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Worms, &c. Skin Eruptions, and particularly Cures Piles, or no required. It is guaranteed to effect instant satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box for sale by W. W. Hill.

The library committee have just purchased a large number of books for the town library.

Mr. Lester Skelton, one of our young trappers, has captured five foxes in traps this winter.

Many Burlington people went to hear Sam Lucas at the skating Academy last Wednesday evening.

There will be auction of the personal property of the late Elijah Marion at his late residence next Wednesday.

The meetings in observance of the week of prayer have been held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and one will be held Saturday evening at the house of Mr. Benjamin Carter, in the north part of the town.

The Sunday School gave their annual Christmas concert in the church Sunday evening. The programme consisted of a concert exercise appropriate to the season and a number of fine musical selections. The songs by Miss Bertha Wood and little Miss Edith Foster were worthy of especial notice. Miss Lizzie Foster gave a pleasing recitation. All the scholars performed their parts very creditably.

News.

The Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania have resolved to erect a large hospital for the treatment of domestic animals.

Senator Pennell and General Hamlin are to preside over the two branches of the Maine Legislature.

The pews of Henry Ward Beecher's church were sold at auction Tuesday. The premiums and rentals aggregated $27,256. Last year the sum was $34,839. The largest sum ever realized was in 1875, when it footed up $68,997.

An $80,000 Catholic Church was burned in Montreal Tuesday.

Chicago is said to have within her borders two thousand armed Socialists.

The estimated cost of collecting the customs revenue at Boston for the next fiscal year is $569,331.

The Harvard Faculty has forbidden the students to participate in the inter-collegiate ball contest.

Another fruitless effort has been made in New York to induce Chauncy M. Depew to be a candidate for the United States Senatorship.

London papers are vigorously attacking the Gladstone Cabinet.

Elbert P. Cook, of the private banking house of Cook & Sackett, of Havana, N. Y., is charged with embezzling the funds of the concern and absconding.

The temporary removal of the Old Liberty Bell from Philadelphia to New Orleans will be accompanied by an imposing demonstration.

The New York Legislature convened Tuesday and Governor Cleveland sent in his resignation.

Burglars were busy Monday night in Plymouth and Kingston, Mass.

An alleged case of contempt of court in the publication of a communication in the Boston Post alleged to have been written by John M. Perkins, in which Judge Lowell and Judge Nelson were attacked, is to be investigated.

Secretary McCulloch believes that better times will be experienced throughout the country soon.

Another effort will be made before the close of the session to bring the Bankruptcy bill to a vote in the House.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething to pleasant with the taste, and the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

LITERARY NOTICES.

The Musical Record for January is an unusually interesting and excellent number. It is filled with good things including some new music which cannot but be appreciated by musical people. The Record is published by the Musical Record Co., Boston.

The New Year's number of WAKE AWAKE supplements the beautiful Christmas issue in a delightful fashion, filled as it is with holiday stories, pictures, and poems. The frontispiece, by Langren, represents one of Boston's merriest scenes—skating in the Public Garden. The drawing is accompanied by a charming poem by Margaret Sidney. A crisp and merry winter story follows, Snowy Peter, from the pen of Susan Coolidge, finished piece of literary work, and in its fancy suggestive of Hawthorne. Another story, fine in its literary finish, is from the pen of Edward Abbott, the editor of the Literary World; it is entitled Light on the Hills. The first of the promised Group of True Western Stories is given in this number; Wagon-Tire Camp, by Kate Foote, recording the first discovery of gold in the West, and illustrated by Mary H. Foote. David Ker also has a bright traveling sketch, A School in the Faroe Islands, and Yan Phou Lee, in his curious series, When I was a Boy, describes a Chinese house. The serials enter on entertainingly; the Tennessee Story, Down the Ravine, by Charles Egbert Cradock, the historical story in Leisher's poem, is giving dramatic readings for a livelihood.

Ex-Senator S. B. Conover of Florida was a drab clerk before his election as Senator, has been an Assistant Surgeon in the Marine Hospital Service since he left the Senate. He has now come to the Senate, and his story is quite as remarkable as that of his predecessor.

Coningly Dismal, who is Beaconsfield's heir, is reasonably considered a little close. When notified that he should go and pay his respects to the Queen, he hesitated on account of the expense involved in getting his hat ironed.

Aaged Washington states that the aged and invalid daughter-in-law of General Jackson has lately been compelled to pledge the gold medal voted the hero of New Orleans and other souvenirs for means of subsistence.

"Pearl's White Glycerine" is not a quick preparation but standard article in the market for four years and the acknowledgement superior of all articles used to help the skin and improve the complexion.

Mr. Henry Watterson will take notice that the venerable widow of the late President Polk has told Mr. Randall that he is a great man and fit to occupy the Presidential chair.

Send to C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass., for a book containing statements of many remarkable cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Magwump organ is delighted to find Democratic Congressman approving of Mr. Cleveland's civil service letter. Exactly; they know what it means and consequently are happy.

According to an old law of Pennsylvania a hanging cannot be witnessed by more than thirty-seven persons. These include a jury of twelve appointed by the judge of the circuit, court, two spiritual advisers, the sheriff, twelve special deputies, three members of the condemned man's family, and seven representatives of the press.

Any one sending a two cent postage stamp to Snow & Erie, Providence, R. I., will receive free, by mail, a trial package of Baking Powder.

The library committee have just purchased a large number of books for the town library.

Mrs. Blunker asked Matilda, the house servant, a few nights ago: "What dreadful scratching is that out in the kitchen? It must be the dog trying to get in. I never heard anything like it in my life." "Dat's no dog scratching door; dat's de cook writhin' a lub letter to her honesysuckle who works ober in Chatham."

The power never varies. A man of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than any other. It is the only powder that will not multiply the load test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. Royal Baking Powder Co., 100 Wall St., N. Y.

Cummings' Dry Goods House.

We acknowledge with gratitude, the very marked public favor shown us during the past season, indicating a growing appreciation of low prices and a very large and well selected stock. We assure our patrons that it will be our endeavor to merit a still higher appreciation of our effort to meet every want of the trade. We shall certainly offer many special bargains the coming season.

A. CUMMINGS,

150 Main Street.

A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT!

An Immense Stock of Fine Clothing

To be sold at about Half Price!

At No. 3 Wade Block, formerly occupied by A. E. Thompson.

Now is the time to buy your Clothing. If you are not in immediate want you will be amply repaid by purchasing for future use, the PRICES BEING SO LOW no argument will be required to convince you of the fact.

Please call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

J. M. CERRISH, Manager,

Woburn, Mass.

Notes.

A citizen of Pittsfield lately invested $400 in an African gray parrot.

The New Orleans Exposition is running behind at the rate of $1000 a day.

The number of cattle in California is less than it was thirty years ago.

Winter raspberries, which are as good as summer product, are selling at Los Angeles, Cal., for 30 cents a pound.

A crane capable of lifting 147 tons is being constructed at Hamburg. It will be the largest in Europe.

It is probable that Mr. Winthrop will be able to attend the celebration of the completion of the Washington Monument, and that his son will read the address.

Gen. N. P. Banks was unable to administer the oath of office to the new Mayor of Waltham, Monday, according to the plan on account of the illness of his son.

William H. English pays taxes in Indianapolis on $676,000, and Thomas A. Hendricks on $61,000.

The Cobden Club is about to publish a primer of tariff reform" by David A. Wells.

President Arthur said to a friend not long ago: "I think I am unusually strong man, yet after I have been receiving visitors for two hours I am as fatigued as I shall never see them again." President—"Done, Uncle—for 100 marks."—[La Ilustracion.]

Victoria's note paper is black-edged, with "Windsor Castle" in plain black and gold letters at the top. On the upper left hand corner is "V. R." and the crown in red, black and gold.

It is reported that the bodies of fourteen men, who fell victims to the recent blizzard, have been found frozen between Valentine and Gordon City, New Haven.

Student—"Uncle, lend me 50 marks!" Uncle—"What again? I am afraid I shall never see them again." Student—"Done, Uncle—for 100 marks."—[La Ilustracion.]

One female editor flourishes in Georgia, Miss Ella J. Dorch, and she illustrates the Carnesville Register.

In West Newton on Monday evening, it was the usual size, but grew less than an inch from the ground.

It is probable that Mr. Winthrop will be able to attend the celebration of the completion of the Washington Monument, and that his son will read the address.

Gen. N. P. Banks was unable to administer the oath of office to the new Mayor of Waltham, Monday, according to the plan on account of the illness of his son.

It is reported that the bodies of fourteen men, who fell victims to the recent blizzard, have been found frozen between Valentine and Gordon City, New Haven.

Student—"Uncle, lend me 50 marks!" Uncle—"What again? I am afraid I shall never see them again." Student—"Done, Uncle—for 100 marks."—[La Ilustracion.]

One female editor flourishes in Georgia, Miss Ella J. Dorch, and she illustrates the Carnesville Register.

In West Newton on Monday evening, it was the usual size, but grew less than an inch from the ground.

It is probable that Mr. Winthrop will be able to attend the celebration of the completion of the Washington Monument, and that his son will read the address.

Gen. N. P. Banks was unable to administer the oath of office to the new Mayor of Waltham, Monday, according to the plan on account of the illness of his son.

It is reported that the bodies of fourteen men, who fell victims to the recent blizzard, have been found frozen between Valentine and Gordon City, New Haven.

Student—"Uncle, lend me 50 marks!" Uncle—"What again? I am afraid I shall never see them again." Student—"Done, Uncle—for 100 marks."—[La Ilustracion.]

One female editor flourishes in Georgia, Miss Ella J. Dorch, and she illustrates the Carnesville Register.

In West Newton on Monday evening, it was the usual size, but grew less than an inch from the ground.

It is probable that Mr. Winthrop will be able to attend the celebration of the completion of the Washington Monument, and that his son will read the address.

Gen. N. P. Banks was unable to administer the oath of office to the new Mayor of Waltham, Monday, according to the plan on account of the illness of his son.

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1885.

A Blind Boarder.

"It will be time enough for Florence to learn such things when she is obliged to."

"Such things," had reference to affairs purely domestic and utilitarian. It was not likely that Florence Curtis, only daughter of a very wealthy and retired merchant, would ever be obliged to do her own housework or darn her own stockings.

When she married—Florence was fifteen at this time—her husband would be in a position to support her in the style to which she had been accustomed—at least this is the way her mother always reasoned. Now Mrs. Curtis had a maiden sister, who, if not literally a "thorn in the flesh," was at least a frequent disturber of her mental peace. She was constantly insisting that her niece should be instructed in the practical details of every day life. Her theory—Mrs. Curtis called it "Louisa's hobby"—was that no education was complete that did not include a thorough knowledge of housekeeping in all the word implies. On this occasion Mrs. Curtis seemed disposed to argue the case.

"To begin with," she went on, "Florence has too much to do to take up the musing you are so fond of. Her French, German and music almost more than she can attend to now, and I want to ask you, Louisa, what your reasons really are for insisting that every girl should have a domestic training. I agree at the start that the majority of girls should know how to cook and darn, and make their own clothes, because the majority of girls are poor. That is common sense. But when one is sure such drudgery never will be necessary, then it is not absurd to spend valuable time in learning how to do it?"

"Your argument would have some logic in it, if one could ever be sure of anything," Miss Archer replied.

"But, Louisa, wouldn't you say yourself that the chances are in favor of our keeping our wealth?" Mrs. Curtis inquired.

"I certainly should."

"Then, what in the world are you talking about?"

"This—that while your wealth seems secure, you know, and I know, from personal experience of others, that nothing is certain but the 'unseen.' The strongest and most unlikely for things happen every day of our lives, and knowing what we do, is it the part of common sense to count surely on any condition? Florence may not live to marry. She may live and marry a man who will squander his own money, and her too, or a man who will be driven to the wall by the force of circumstances. Then again, she may not marry at all, like her Aunt Louisa; or, better still, she may become the wife of an upright, appreciative and wise man, who will know how to take care of her fortune, and it is not impossible that she will marry a poor man and without the dowry you are sure of giving her."

"Well, I declare, Louisa, if you are not the most exacting woman I ever knew. Any one who talks with you expect to have the horrors for a week," Mrs. Curtis remarked irritably.

But her companion's face was as sweet and placid as a lake in summer. There was a merry twinkle in her soft, gray eyes, though, told of a keen enjoyment of the ludicrous side of life.

"I don't see why a summing up of the things we know to be true should make one happy," Miss Archer replied.

"You have a fine house, your horses, and diamonds, and fine clothes to-day. Do as well as you can to-day and leave tomorrow to take care of itself. That is true philosophy. But the point I want to make is this, that we do not the best we can when we fail to prepare our children for the exigencies of life. As I said before, if you were positive that Florence would always have money enough, then a domestic education would not be so important; but still it would be important enough. Unhanded means can buy competent service. Skilled housekeepers, skilled nurses, unexpected cash can be secured for money. But the best housekeepers are sometimes sick or grow dissatisfied. A favorite cook will occasionally walk out and fail to return. Your family physician cannot always, or generally, arrive the moment he is needed. You are willing to pay your nurse a small fortune if she will only hurry; but notwithstanding your plenteous pocketbook, you often have to wait for hours. Is it possible at such times that you would prefer to have your daughter inefficient? Just think of the between times in this family and how disagreeable they would prove to every one of us if it were not for—"

"If it were not for you! You might as well say it right out!" Mrs. Curtis interrupted.

"I should not have put it so boldly," Miss Archer replied, while the smile deepened in her eyes, "but it is the truth, of course. I seem to be set apart to look after the interludes, but what would become of the audience if I did not understand the organ? When the cook sprained her wrist two hours before one of your state dinners, you were relieved when you saw me to the my apron and go down stairs. You knew that you would not have to apologize for your dinner, and that it would be on time, and you were pretty sure, also, that I should know what to do for Clara's wrist. It would have been disagreeable would it not, Sarah, if there had been no one in this great house who could render intelligent service in such an emergency?"

"Why, it would have been dreadful! But then, Louisa, you always had a talent for such things. I never did, and Florence is just like me."

"But this is begging that question, my dear," Miss Archer responded.

"But I take that ground with you. The cake enjoyed so much Sunday evening Florence made."

"What?" Mrs. Curtis was evidently astounded.

"Yes, she made it Saturday morning, while you were shopping, and she never enjoyed anything more than this lesson in cake making. So you see you cannot predict concerning Florence. I never saw anyone who took hold of the work with more skill. She found the dish pan, too, Sarah, and that is more than you could do, and without a single hint she washed and wiped the dishes she had soiled. This was very useful, and Florence is just like me."

"Will you kindly tell me what is going on in that church?" asked a tramp of a gentleman who had just descended the steps. "They are holding a church fair."

"I am very sorry."

"Well, I was going to ask you to help me, but if you've been in there it ain't no use—d—ingo."

We design and engrave the most elegant Monograms, Crests, Seats of Arms, also Stamps and Artistic Illuminations, from original designs or from samples furnished. STEVENS & MANCHESTER, 37 West St., Boston.

"Oh, hum! I wish I had married Mr. Gladstone," sighed Mrs. Bascom, throwing down her newspaper.

"What?" exclaimed her husband, starting out of an incipient nap—"rather than me?" "Yes," reiterated Mrs. Bascom, "Mr. Gladstone chops all his own wood."—Burlington Free Press.

It is not sad to see so many young men of all ages that can be said to be young man, take my advice. Still all indications point to the fact that they will be.

"But this is begging that question, my dear," Miss Archer responded.

"But I take that ground with you. The cake enjoyed so much Sunday evening Florence made."

"What?" Mrs. Curtis was evidently astounded.

"Yes, she made it Saturday morning, while you were shopping, and she never enjoyed anything more than this lesson in cake making. So you see you cannot predict concerning Florence. I never saw anyone who took hold of the work with more skill. She found the dish pan, too, Sarah, and that is more than you could do, and without a single hint she washed and wiped the dishes she had soiled. This was very useful, and Florence is just like me."

"Will you kindly tell me what is going on in that church?" asked a tramp of a gentleman who had just descended the steps. "They are holding a church fair."

"I am very sorry."

"Well, I was going to ask you to help me, but if you've been in there it ain't no use—d—ingo."

We design and engrave the most elegant Monograms, Crests, Seats of Arms, also Stamps and Artistic Illuminations, from original designs or from samples furnished. STEVENS & MANCHESTER, 37 West St., Boston.

"Oh, hum! I wish I had married leave things as I found them, and then it's such fun!"

"And Florence made that cake?" Mrs. Curtis could not very easily recover from her surprise.

"Such things," had reference to affairs purely domestic and utilitarian. It was not likely that Florence Curtis, only daughter of a very wealthy and retired merchant, would ever be obliged to do her own housework or darn her own stockings.

When she married—Florence was fifteen at this time—her husband would be in a position to support her in the style to which she had been accustomed—at least this is the way her mother always reasoned. Now Mrs. Curtis had a maiden sister, who, if not literally a "thorn in the flesh," was at least a frequent disturber of her mental peace. She was constantly insisting that her niece should be instructed in the practical details of every day life. Her theory—Mrs. Curtis called it "Louisa's hobby"—was that no education was complete that did not include a thorough knowledge of housekeeping in all the word implies. On this occasion Mrs. Curtis seemed disposed to argue the case.

"To begin with," she went on, "Florence has too much to do to take up the musing you are so fond of. Her French, German and music almost more than she can attend to now, and I want to ask you, Louisa, what your reasons really are for insisting that every girl should have a domestic training. I agree at the start that the majority of girls should know how to cook and darn, and make their own clothes, because the majority of girls are poor. That is common sense. But when one is sure such drudgery never will be necessary, then it is not absurd to spend valuable time in learning how to do it?"

"Your argument would have some logic in it, if one could ever be sure of anything," Miss Archer replied.

"But, Louisa, wouldn't you say yourself that the chances are in favor of our keeping our wealth?" Mrs. Curtis inquired.

"I certainly should."

"Then, what in the world are you talking about?"

"This—I—that while your wealth seems secure, you know, and I know, from personal experience of others, that nothing is certain but the 'unseen.' The strongest and most unlikely for things happen every day of our lives, and knowing what we do, is it the part of common sense to count surely on any condition? Florence may not live to marry. She may live and marry a man who will squander his own money, and her too, or a man who will be driven to the wall by the force of circumstances. Then again, she may not marry at all, like her Aunt Louisa; or, better still, she may become the wife of an upright, appreciative and wise man, who will know how to take care of her fortune, and it is not impossible that she will marry a poor man and without the dowry you are sure of giving her."

"Well, I declare, Louisa, if you are not the most exacting woman I ever knew. Any one who talks with you expect to have the horrors for a week," Mrs. Curtis remarked irritably.

But her companion's face was as sweet and placid as a lake in summer. There was a merry twinkle in her soft, gray eyes, though, told of a keen enjoyment of the ludicrous side of life.

"The bullet which Henry Southern, of Greenville, S. C., was wounded in the neck at the battle of Gettysburg, has just been taken from beneath his collar bone by a surgeon. The bullet was not disfigured, and looked a new as when it entered his neck.

No form of amusement has ever had in this country so great a popularity as roller skating. It is said that no town of five thousand population is without its public rink, and in the larger cities such establishments absorb so much time and money that little is left for the travelling entertainments.

"I love my country," said Peter Brash in "Clarendon Sketches," "and I want an office. I don't care what, so it is fast and easy. I have a genius for governing—for telling people what to do and looking at 'em do it. I want to take care of my country, and I want my country to take care of me."

A Kansas editor makes the following announcement in his paper: "Last week when we were coming home from Topeka, we were held up by two road agents who took all the money we had left. We hope, therefore, that our delinquent subscribers will pay their subscriptions promptly, as we are mighty hard up."

"Cheating the blind boarder."

Then after a moment's pause: "Louisa, I wonder what my husband thinks of me?"

"He thinks you are perfect; as he always did."

"Then he's as blind as I've been. Why, I suppose this house run itself; I've often wondered why there were so few hitches, and it is you who keeps the machinery oiled. Suppose you were to marry, or—die, Louisa, what would become of this place?"

"The first seems more unlikely than the last, Sarah," Miss Archer replied with a smile. "Still, as the French proverb has it—"Nothing is certain but the unforeseen." But don't you think it would be better settle last week's bill?"

"You have worked and mind and saved money for us, and I have known no more about it than as I had lived in another world! Why haven't you told me of these things?"

"First, because it was a pleasure to serve you without knowing it, and next because I was afraid you might protest. But I have almost told you many times, for it has seemed like taking advantage of you some way."

"Cheating the blind boarder."

Then after a moment's pause: "Louisa, I wonder what my husband thinks of me?"

"He thinks you are perfect; as he always did."

"Then he's as blind as I've been. Why, I suppose this house run itself; I've often wondered why there were so few hitches, and it is you who keeps the machinery oiled. Suppose you were to marry, or—die, Louisa, what would become of this place?"

"The first seems more unlikely than the last, Sarah," Miss Archer replied with a smile. "Still, as the French proverb has it—"Nothing is certain but the unforeseen." But don't you think it would be better settle last week's bill?"

"You have worked and mind and saved money for us, and I have known no more about it than as I had lived in another world! Why haven't you told me of these things?"

"First, because it was a pleasure to serve you without knowing it, and next because I was afraid you might protest. But I have almost told you many times, for it has seemed like taking advantage of you some way."

"Cheating the blind boarder."

Then after a moment's pause: "Louisa, I wonder what my husband thinks of me?"

"He thinks you are perfect; as he always did."

"Then he's as blind as I've been. Why, I suppose this house run itself; I've often wondered why there were so few hitches, and it is you who keeps the machinery oiled. Suppose you were to marry, or—die, Louisa, what would become of this place?"

"The first seems more unlikely than the last, Sarah," Miss Archer replied with a smile. "Still, as the French proverb has it—"Nothing is certain but the unforeseen." But don't you think it would be better settle last week's bill?"

"You have worked and mind and saved money for us, and I have known no more about it than as I had lived in another world! Why haven't you told me of these things?"

"First, because it was a pleasure to serve you without knowing it, and next because I was afraid you might protest. But I have almost told you many times, for it has seemed like taking advantage of you some way."

"Cheating the blind boarder."

Then after a moment's pause: "Louisa, I wonder what my husband thinks of me?"

"He thinks you are perfect; as he always did."

"Then he's as blind as I've been. Why, I suppose this house run itself; I've often wondered why there were so few hitches, and it is you who keeps the machinery oiled. Suppose you were to marry, or—die, Louisa, what would become of this place?"

"The first seems more unlikely than the last, Sarah," Miss Archer replied with a smile. "Still, as the French proverb has it—"Nothing is certain but the unforeseen." But don't you think it would be better settle last week's bill?"

"You have worked and mind and saved money for us, and I have known no more about it than as I had lived in another world! Why haven't you told me of these things?"

"First, because it was a pleasure to serve you without knowing it, and next because I was afraid you might protest. But I have almost told you many times, for it has seemed like taking advantage of you some way."

"Cheating the blind boarder."

Then after a moment's pause: "Louisa, I wonder what my husband thinks of me?"

"He thinks you are perfect; as he always did."

"Then he's as blind as I've been. Why, I suppose this house run itself; I've often wondered why there were so few hitches, and it is you who keeps the machinery oiled. Suppose you were to marry, or—die, Louisa, what would become of this place?"

"The first seems more unlikely than the last, Sarah," Miss Archer replied with a smile. "Still, as the French proverb has it—"Nothing is certain but the unforeseen." But don't you think it would be better settle last week's bill?"

"You have worked and mind and saved money for us, and I have known no more about it than as I had lived in another world! Why haven't you told me of these things?"

"First, because it was a pleasure to serve you without knowing it, and next because I was afraid you might protest. But I have almost told you many times, for it has seemed like taking advantage of you some way."

"Cheating the blind boarder."

Then after a moment's pause: "Louisa, I wonder what my husband thinks of me?"

"He thinks you are perfect; as he always did."

"Then he's as blind as I've been. Why, I suppose this house run itself; I've often wondered why there were so few hitches, and it is you who keeps the machinery oiled. Suppose you were to marry, or—die, Louisa, what would become of this place?"

"The first seems more unlikely than the last, Sarah," Miss Archer replied with a smile. "Still, as the French proverb has it—"Nothing is certain but the unforeseen." But don't you think it would be better settle last week's bill?"

"You have worked and mind and saved money for us, and I have known no more about it than as I had lived in another world! Why haven't you told me of these things?"

"First, because it was a pleasure to serve you without knowing it, and next because I was afraid you might protest. But I have almost told you many times, for it has seemed like taking advantage of you some way."

"Cheating the blind boarder."

Then after a moment's pause: "Louisa, I wonder what my husband thinks of me?"

"He thinks you are perfect; as he always did."

"Then he's as blind as I've been. Why, I suppose this house run itself; I've often wondered why there were so few hitches, and it is you who keeps the machinery oiled. Suppose you were to marry, or—die, Louisa, what would become of this place?"

"The first seems more unlikely than the last, Sarah," Miss Archer replied with a smile. "Still, as the French proverb has it—"Nothing is certain but the unforeseen." But don't you think it would be better settle last week's bill?"

"You have worked and mind and saved money for us, and I have known no more about it than as I had lived in another world! Why haven't you told me of these things?"

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1885.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JAN. 16, 1885.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. Horr, 195 Main Street, R. Robt, 186 Main Street; E. Carter's, Cummingsville, J. P. Tyler's, North Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot and at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

In due time after the organization of the Legislature and new State government Gov. Robinson delivered his inaugural address which we would freely give to our readers in full but for the belief that they as well as all the people of the Commonwealth have read and mastered its meaning long before this time. It is an interesting document and one well calculated to win great popularity everywhere. It was waited for with impatience by the public and its contents were eagerly devoured as soon as appeared in the prints of the day.

Gov. Robinson's strong point is sound, practical sense and in dealing with the various State interests and public questions it was expected this characteristic would prominently manifest itself. In this expectation the thousands who waited for the address were not disappointed. All through it runs a large vein of good judgment, practical knowledge of affairs, and common sense, which illustrate each topic touched on and make their perusal easy, pleasant and profitable.

The Governor alludes, more or less elaborately, to many matters of public interest and treats them all with judicious fairness. He has the faculty, rarely possessed by men in general, of seeing all sides of a question and treating it impartially. Hence the recommendations in his admirable inaugural address commend themselves at once to the good judgment of the people and secure their hearty approval.

We would like to descend more at length on this sound, practical document from the executive head of our State government, but time and space will not admit of the gratification of the desire.

Mr. William H. Vanderbilt's offer to reconvey to Mrs. Grant all the real and personal property including the swords, medals, etc. presented to her husband, Gen. Grant, which were mortgaged to secure the payment of the $150,000 borrowed by the General of him to tide over the affairs of the Marine bank and which he lost in the wreck of that institution shows that he is a very different man from what the world has always taken him for. It was one of the noblest acts ever performed and proves that instead of being hard, grasping and mean, Vanderbilt has a larger heart in his bosom than is carried by most men of greater pretensions. It was generous to the last degree. There is not another man in the country from whom it would be reasonable to look for such an exhibition of genuine friendship and praiseworthy deed. The public will look on W. H. Vanderbilt in a different light hereafter; he is not the person that has been represented and it does not change the matter any that Mrs. Grant as nobly declined his generous offer.

Henry Ward Beecher will discuss the question whether clergymen should "meddle with politics" in the February number of the North American Review. He will probably claim in his paper that Henry Ward Beecher should "meddle with politics" if so disposed, but whether or no he will accord to the rest of the cloth the same privilege remains to be seen. In view of a certain great court trial that took place in New York some years ago and what the public thought of its merits and parts concerned it would be the part of wisdom in Henry Ward Beecher to keep out of politics and as far from the gaze of the world as would be consistent with the proper discharge of his professional duties.

Last Wednesday Robert Treat Payne's last year's three-million-dollar scheme for building houses for laboring men turned up in the Senate with a request from the House that it be referred to the Senate Committee on Labor. The Chairman of that Committee protested and moved it be referred to the Judiciary Committee, which was done, and that is probably the end of one of the foolishest measures that any Legislature was ever asked to enact into law.

The Independents held a meeting in New York a few days since at which they made the startling announcement that they had come to stay. The tenor of the resolve adopted at the meeting was that their organization was to be purged of the corruption of politics and imperatively demanded by the interests of the country. So, to prevent everything from going to the dogs they concluded not to disband. Mr. Cleveland will now know just how to trim his sails and conduct his administration.

It looks as though in making up the Joint Committees Boston has managed to get her full share of members on the Drainage Committee. It is important that the suburbs keep a sharp eye on the metropolis.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

W. E. Carter—Rink.
F. W. Carter—For Sale.
John C. Carter—For Sale.
F. H. Lewis—Music Lessons.
S. H. Lewis—Antique Painting.
Mishawum—Programme.
Thompson & Saxon—Liniment.
W. H. Williams—Drawing.
W. J. Williams—Drawing School.
Town of Woburn—Drawing School.

"A Lady" wants to learn dress-making. See card.

Bear in mind the lecture of Dr. Bolles this evening.

Please read what Supt. Woodbridge says about a free drawing school in this paper.

"Old Pro" was clean off the track yesterday. He predicted pleasant weather and it snowed.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar." Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification. Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

A well written communication from F. H. L., on railroad matters will appear in these columns at an early date.

There were 215 deaths in this town in 1884, which was an average of one for about each day and a half.

The Boston Advertiser says: "John Cummings and wife are among the prominent guests at the Tremont House."

If anybody else secures seats in the Mishawum entertainments they will have to scrub for them as true as preaching.

Mr. Gerrist, in Wade Block, is selling clothing at an astonishingly low prices. It is a regular "slaughter" house on figures.

Fred Leeds has constantly on tap hot soda and other palatable temperance drinks. They are a great deal better than beer and rum.

Since Monday we have enjoyed the pleasantest kind of winter weather here, which if we could only have had some sleighing, would have been gay.

Mr. John J. Munroe is under full sail again in the coal and wood business at the old stand, and is prepared to fill all orders promptly and at fair prices.

Intense interest is felt in the League game of polo to come off this evening at Carter's Academy. Probably a good many people will be unable to get into the rink.

The 4.30 p. m. train out of the city for this place of Monday was delayed an hour or so at Somerville by the rear car becoming derailed. It arose thumps up.

In place of their annual ball the Police Relief Association propose to give a grand polo exhibition and racing tournament early in February for which great preparations are being made.

Mr. Charles Munroe is pushing off overcoats at purchases' figures. The season is pretty well advanced and his large and desirable stock of overcoats must be sold, hence the sacrifice on prices.

Mrs. B. H. Chamberlain of Geneva, Illinois, who is spending the winter in Boston, visited some of her former Western friends and neighbors in Woburn last Wednesday, who were delighted to see her.

Esquire Allen of the Advertiser plumes himself on talents; first, kill on roller skates; second, ability as a theological disputant. There is hardly a 10-year old lad in town that has not knocked him out in one round or either.

John L. Sullivan won an easy victory over Alf Greenfield of England at the Institute building in Boston last Monday night. It did not amount to much as a contest of skill, strength and endurance, but was pronounced a very tame affair.

—Cards are out for the wedding of Mr. Willis C. Kendall and Miss Fine Endall at Palestine, Texas, on January 21. The groom-cum-will be remembered by Woburn people probably, for he was a resident here in 1876 and a member of Gilcrest Hook & Ladder Co., No. 1.

There was another powerful rain here last Monday. It set in at an early hour in the morning and poured profusely all the forenoon, while in the afterpart of the day the showers were intermittent. The weather was very warm, tasted like a wash-room in full operation, and unhealthy.

The nose of the Advertiser editor is out of joint because the rinks are given over to polo to such a degree. Gentle skating, of which our friend is master, has been almost entirely thrown into the background and he gets no chance to shine before an admiring audience any more hardly.

The first of the series of entertainments provided by the Mishawum Club will be given in Lycum Hall on next Tuesday evening. It will consist of a concert by the Listerman Concert Company of Boston, the bare announcement of whose engagement is sufficient to draw an overflowing house anywhere in this country. The company consists of the celebrated Bernard Listerman, violin; Edward Heindl, flute, viola and cello; Henry Heindl, prima viola; Fritz Listerman, violin; Alex. Heindl, cello and saxophone; Henry Greene, double-bass. The company will be assisted by Miss Lizzie Webb Carey, one of the finest sopranos in the country and a card in any concert. These constitute an array of musical talent such is seldom heard by a Woburn audience in Lycum Hall, and the performers will give us a splendid concert.

James C. Kennedy, whose funeral took place on Wednesday morning last, was a member of the National Band and was well liked by his associates. He was a young man of good character and steady habits and stood well in this community. A wife and child, father and mother, and other relatives mourn his early death.

When a body feels kind of off the hooks, or a little wamble-croppered, or run down at the heel, or anyways out of kilter, a studios application of about half an hour to Watson's Illustrator, published by a noted humorist by the name of Watson, at Bideford, Maine, will fetch him out as straight as a string. The current number of which is a jolly one.

In making up the Joint Standing Committees last Monday Dr. Harlow of this District was placed on the important committee on Drainage, for which place he was specially elected; also on Public Health, and Education, Mr. Crane, our Representative, was made one of the monitors for the sixth division and placed on the Committee on Manufactures.

Officer Bryan McSweeney was taken two weeks ago to-day and has since had a severe and dangerous illness. He is still confined to his bed, but is considered out of danger by the attending physician. Mr. McSweeney is one of our very best Police officers, and of course he is greatly missed on the force. We trust he will soon be duty again.

Dr. Bolles will give his famous lecture, "The Home of Burns and Scott" in Lyceum Hall this evening under the auspices of the Woman's Club. The tickets are 20 cents each, which is very low when the character of the lecture and lecturer is considered.

"Old Pro" was clean off the track yesterday. He predicted pleasant weather and it snowed.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification.

Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification.

Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification.

Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification.

Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification.

Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification.

Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification.

Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification.

Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score of 75. Fowle 62, and Turner 60, the latter figure being necessary to secure the "silver badge" of the first class or a qualification.

Darmody, Dukham and Fowle requalified and won the "silver bar" for 1884. It is very certain that if there is an institution in Woburn that deserves a liberal support it is her. M. C. A.

The Adjutant General has published his report of the names of the members of the State militia who have qualified as marksmen of the first class during 1884, and those holding first class badges won in 1883, who have re-qualified during the past year and are entitled to receive the "silver bar."

Out of nearly 6000 men only 25 have succeeded in securing the prize, and of these, four belong to Co. G, 5th Infantry (Woburn Mechanic Phalanx), namely: Privates, J. E. Darmody, H. D. Dukham, F. W. Fowle, F. W. Turner. Of these the first two made 53 out of a possible score and she mounted and rode off. On arriving at the place where she intended to stop, she saw that the great barn-doors were open, and the old gentleman was pitching off a load of hay which stood on the barn floor. She rode up and inquired of him, "Where is your son Samuel?" "He is up on the snow taking away the hay!" was his answer. "I want to speak with him!" said she. Sam then jumped from the mow on to the load of hay, by the side of his father. "You need not come any farther!" said she, "I can say what I wish here; I have nothing private!" She then told him that she had received proposals of marriage from a certain young man: "But," she said, "I have never seen any one I love as I do you; and the last time we stood side by side and read in the old school-house, I made up my mind that I never would give my heart and hand to any one, until I knew you would not accept them!" "Now," said she, "I want to know whether you will marry me or not?" The old gentleman unable to keep silent any longer, called out, "Take her, Sam, take her! She'll make you a good one!" The young people exchanged a few words, when the old farmer, in joy, cried out, "It's a bargain; and I'm a happy witness!"

[Continued from first page.]

Editor JOURNAL:—Perhaps no town in Middlesex county, excepting Malden, has changed more than Woburn for forty years past. In 1840 most of the adults were native born and did the work in doors and out.

Shoe business was then carried on largely, shoes being made by hand, and bound entirely by female fingers. A third of all the houses had a small shoe-shop attached, in which the father, sons and others worked. Shoe-making in Woburn has decreased, while curing and tanning has increased ten fold.

Forty years ago shoes were made of good solid stock; no paper soles and skinning stiffening plumped up with flour paste to flat down in wet weather. Hides remained in the vat for months and come out tough and durable; upper leather was filled with stitching and oil that strengthened and nourished it—no forcing process, with early maturity and early decay.

At this period twenty or thirty men comprised all foreigners who were curriers and tanners in Woburn. Now a thousand of this class do the work, while their American employers have grown rich and prosperous, by their industry.

In the year 1816, so remarkable for its cold spring, Mr. Sheldon says sports were seen on the snow, and the corn crop was nearly destroyed throughout New England by frost. And this leads us to his observations on the weather, with which we close this article:

If rain commences between daylight and sunrise, there will be but little. Start on your journey, if you are inclined! Rain commencing between twelve and one o'clock, mid-day or midnight, there will be six hours of rain, more or less. Where the wind is at sunset on Candlemas day, or February 2d, there will be its home for two months! It will never be away from home more than forty-eight hours at a time; should it be north or north-west look out for cold weather! Note the day the first snow falls, and to that add the age of the moon on the day that it falls, and the product will be the number of snows to come that year; for example, if the first snow falls the tenth day of the month, and the moon is fifteen days old, add ten to fifteen and you have the number of snow storms for that year.

When a halo or circle, around the moon is seen, if one bright star appears in the circle, there will be one fair day and then rain; if two bright stars appear, there will be two fair days, and then rain; but if no stars are seen within the circle, the following day will be rainy. There are more exceptions to this rule than any of the others.

If the sun cast a red reflection on the clouds in the morning, rain will follow that day; a red reflection of the sun at night, any night in the week, except Thursday, it will be fair the next day. If the sun set in a cloud Thursday night, there will be rain within forty-eight hours. In regard to the Candlemas sign, I would say, that I never in fifty years, knew it to fail but once.

The subject of this sketch was born in Lynnfield, Massachusetts, on October 24, 1788, and died in Woburn September 2, 1870.—C.

The First King Twings.

As the season advances, the pains and gales which you mentioned makes itself known, and claim attention after every exposure. It is not claimed that the Hout's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hout's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first king twings.

A Peculiar Gift.

According to the London Lancet, a young girl who has recently died in the asylum at Hamburg possessed the peculiar gift of changing the color of her hair according to the state of her mind. In "periods of sedateness" her hair was of its natural dull color; when excited it became reddish, and her anger was indicated by a blonde color. Three days were generally required for the change to be completed, and her complexion also varied in the same periods and in the same direction.

The King of the Maoris.

The Auckland, New Zealand, Daily Herald, in referring to the departure of His Majesty, Tawhiao, for England, to visit the Queen to confirm the King of the Maoris, especially mentioned, at the time of His Majesty's reumatism by St. Jacobs Oil, and says that during his stay at Mercer he was introduced to the great German Remedy.

"I played a good joke on my wife last night," said Twaezeers, who is not kept out of jail on account of his brightness. "What was it?" "What I had our coachman stand in the dark hall and kiss her, so she'd think it was me." "What did she do?" "Nothing. She only came into the parlor where I was sitting, and said, 'Why, Twaezeers, I don't know you had got home.'"

From E. J. Roberts, D. S., Atgona, Jan. 20, 1882.

Dr. F. W. Kinsman: I am not a believer in "patient medicines" generally, and so apply to the physician when sick. I had a hacking cough for weeks, and failed in getting relief. I then called in Dr. Adams, and he gave me a strong testimonial in favor of your Adams' Botanic Cough Balsam, and says that during his stay at Mercer he was introduced to the great German Remedy.

"I played a good joke on my wife last night," said Twaezeers, who is not kept out of jail on account of his brightness. "What was it?" "What I had our coachman stand in the dark hall and kiss her, so she'd think it was me." "What did she do?" "Nothing. She only came into the parlor where I was sitting, and said, 'Why, Twaezeers, I don't know you had got home.'"

We make a specialty of Wedding Invitations, Visiting, Reception, Dinner and Correspondence Cards, and have a select assortment of Greetings, Easter and Birthday Cards. Call and examine. STEVENS & MANCHESTER, 37 West St., Boston.

A Gowannas man fell into the canal and was nearly drowned. His wife says it's an ill wind that blows nobody good for "Jamey had a good bath, so he did."

INCOMPLETENESS.

ADELAINE A. PROCTOR.

Noblin resting in its own completeness can have worth or beauty, but some leaves are more beautiful than others.

Spring's red glow dwells not in the meaning, flowers thought it be, of her blue hours.

But is hidden in her tender leaning of flowers.

To the summer's richer wealth of flowers.

Down is fair beauty, the morn fails slowly.

Evening's beauty is as sweet and holy.

Twilight's mystery is as sweet and holy.

Just because it ends in starry night.

Life is only bright when it proceeds.

Home love is sweetest when it breatheth.

To a more divine and perfect love.

Learn the mystery of progress daily.

But we call not all growths progress.

When it seems as if they passed away.

Now to blame God's gifts for incompleteness;

Now to thank him for his gifts.

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, JANUARY 23, 1885.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JAN. 23, 1885.

The JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. H. Carter, 203 Main Street, R. Hobart, 156 Main Street, E. Carter, 203 Main Street, J. P. Tyler, North Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Center Depot and at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

ELECTION OF U. S. SENATORS.

Last Tuesday was a day for the trial of some men's souls. Many eminent statesmen sat on the anxious seats nearly all day while elections of United States Senators were in progress in several legislatures.

Hon. William M. Evarts, one of the most eminent lawyers in the country, was elected by the New York Legislature to succeed Senator E. G. Lapham. He is more of a man every way than New York State has sent to the Senate for years. As a statesman he is head and shoulders above Conkling, and as for the small fry who have represented the commonwealth of late they are not to be mentioned in the same day with him.

In Colorado Senator Hill was defeated and Teller proved the winning man. The election began on Tuesday when on the first ballot Teller was away ahead, and on Wednesday he won the prize. "Zeb" Vance was the winning candidate in North Carolina.

In Pennsylvania Don Cameron carried away the honors by a large majority thus disposing of the oft-repeated story that he had lost his grip on the Republicans of that State. He is still a power there. Jonathan Chase was elected by the Legislature of Rhode Island, and O. H. Platt in Connecticut. Missouri Senator Vest was re-elected, and Leland Stanford received the nomination of the Members of the California Legislature.

"Dan" Vorhees was made happy by a re-election in Indiana, and Florida made choice of Wilkinson Call to represent her in the U. S. Senate. In Illinois things are mixed. Carter Harrison, Mayor of Chicago, withdrew from the contest which left the Democrats in something of a mixed and muddled condition. Logan was the choice of the Republicans.

Mr. Lucius Tuttle, for many years past occupying responsible positions in the Eastern Railroad Company, and one of the best railroad men in New England, has accepted the office of General Passenger Agent of the Boston & Lowell road, and will enter on the discharge of the duties of that office on the first of next month. As General Passenger Agent of the Eastern he was very popular with the public and highly esteemed by the company, and his present engagement will prove a decided advantage to the Boston & Lowell. Aent the matter the Boston Globe says:—

The host of friends of Mr. Lucius Tuttle, for many years the general passenger agent of the Eastern Railroad, will be glad to learn that he is to remain in the city in connection with one of the most important railroads in New England. Yesterday afternoon negotiations were completed, by which next month he will become the general passenger agent of the Boston & Lowell railroad, which, under its present arrangements, has the largest mileage of any road in the Eastern States. Mr. B. F. Kendrick, the present general ticket agent, is to become the auditor of the road.

In some towns in this State the legal authorities have taken in hand managers of society lotteries with the intent of suppressing them. Though their aim is generally a benevolent one or for the spread of raffles, church grab-bags, and kindred schemes to raise the wind. Whether the church oyster stew should be included as a game of chance is a mooted question, but concerning the kissing of the female waiters on fair tables at so much a buss there exists no reasonable doubt. The war was inaugurated somewhere in Berkshire county ostensibly in the interests of a higher grade of morals, but it is suspected that the original complaint was a man who fancied he had been encumbered at a church fair in some purchases he made. The Berkshire county yeomanry are a very close-fisted people and stand for full value received over to the odd half cent every time, which fact leaves room for a doubt to crowd itself in edgeways as to the purity of the motives of those who are waging this vigorous warfare against church and society lotteries.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Washington correspondents say the appointment of Carroll D. Wright, at present Chief of the Massachusetts Bureau of Statistics and Labor, as United States Labor Commissioner is a foregone conclusion and is recognized here as the very best which the President could have made. This State can hardly afford to lose so able and efficient an officer as Mr. Wright has fully proved himself to be in the department of statistics.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

A few drunks were interspersed just for variety in court.

Copeland, Bowser & Co., have a change of card in this paper.

Mr. Charles R. Rosquist has an exhibition this week in G. F. Smith & Co.'s jewelry store, another beautiful picture. The work is one of the finest yet seen here and the artist is not afraid to show the photograph from which it was copied. The portrait is of Miss Mary E. Wallace, Main street, deceased.

Temple Thor, No. 37 of the Order of T. of America, will hold its meeting at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A.

We are requested to ask people to feed the little birds. Humanity ought to dictate as much without stopping to be asked.

Officer Bryan McSweeney is rapidly recovering his ordinary health. The election began on Tuesday when on the first ballot Teller was away ahead, and on Wednesday he won the prize. "Zeb" Vance was the winning candidate in North Carolina.

In Pennsylvania Don Cameron carried away the honors by a large majority thus disposing of the oft-repeated story that he had lost his grip on the Republicans of that State. He is still a power there. Jonathan Chase was elected by the Legislature of Rhode Island, and O. H. Platt in Connecticut. Missouri Senator Vest was re-elected, and Leland Stanford received the nomination of the Members of the California Legislature.

"Dan" Vorhees was made happy by a re-election in Indiana, and Florida made choice of Wilkinson Call to represent her in the U. S. Senate. In Illinois things are mixed. Carter Harrison, Mayor of Chicago, withdrew from the contest which left the Democrats in something of a mixed and muddled condition. Logan was the choice of the Republicans.

Mr. Lucius Tuttle, for many years past occupying responsible positions in the Eastern Railroad Company, and one of the best railroad men in New England, has accepted the office of General Passenger Agent of the Boston & Lowell road, and will enter on the discharge of the duties of that office on the first of next month. As General Passenger Agent of the Eastern he was very popular with the public and highly esteemed by the company, and his present engagement will prove a decided advantage to the Boston & Lowell. Aent the matter the Boston Globe says:—

The host of friends of Mr. Lucius Tuttle, for many years the general passenger agent of the Eastern Railroad, will be glad to learn that he is to remain in the city in connection with one of the most important railroads in New England. Yesterday afternoon negotiations were completed, by which next month he will become the general passenger agent of the Boston & Lowell railroad, which, under its present arrangements, has the largest mileage of any road in the Eastern States. Mr. B. F. Kendrick, the present general ticket agent, is to become the auditor of the road.

In some towns in this State the legal authorities have taken in hand managers of society lotteries with the intent of suppressing them. Though their aim is generally a benevolent one or for the spread of raffles, church grab-bags, and kindred schemes to raise the wind. Whether the church oyster stew should be included as a game of chance is a mooted question, but concerning the kissing of the female waiters on fair tables at so much a buss there exists no reasonable doubt. The war was inaugurated somewhere in Berkshire county ostensibly in the interests of a higher grade of morals, but it is suspected that the original complaint was a man who fancied he had been encumbered at a church fair in some purchases he made. The Berkshire county yeomanry are a very close-fisted people and stand for full value received over to the odd half cent every time, which fact leaves room for a doubt to crowd itself in edgeways as to the purity of the motives of those who are waging this vigorous warfare against church and society lotteries.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Lucius Tuttle, for many years past occupying responsible positions in the Eastern Railroad Company, and one of the best railroad men in New England, has accepted the office of General Passenger Agent of the Boston & Lowell road, and will enter on the discharge of the duties of that office on the first of next month. As General Passenger Agent of the Eastern he was very popular with the public and highly esteemed by the company, and his present engagement will prove a decided advantage to the Boston & Lowell. Aent the matter the Boston Globe says:—

The host of friends of Mr. Lucius Tuttle, for many years the general passenger agent of the Eastern Railroad, will be glad to learn that he is to remain in the city in connection with one of the most important railroads in New England. Yesterday afternoon negotiations were completed, by which next month he will become the general passenger agent of the Boston & Lowell railroad, which, under its present arrangements, has the largest mileage of any road in the Eastern States. Mr. B. F. Kendrick, the present general ticket agent, is to become the auditor of the road.

Mr. Charles S. Ellis, formerly with the Union Tea Co. of Woburn, has accepted the management of the Great Overland and Pacific Tea Co.'s store at 222 Hanover street, Boston, where he will be pleased to see his Woburn friends at all times.

We are indebted to conductor O. Judson Hart for complimentary tickets to the grand promenade concert and ball to be given in Lyceum Hall, on the evening of February 4th, for the benefit of the Woburn Polo Club, for which the Woburn Hall would not have been half large enough to hold the meeting.

Some of the rival polo teams pretend to believe that Flanders of the Woburn is not the best rusher in the League, but distinguished orator and divine draws the largest houses of any man in Boston, and whenever he is looked at any particular place for a lecture crowds come to hear him. If the size of the audience had been gauged by the name of the lecturer Flanders would not have been half large enough to hold the meeting.

The third of the lectures upon Social Science, now being delivered by the pastor of the Unitarian parish, was given as announced last Sabbath evening. Considering the general subject of "Marriage" under the several heads of its "Origin," "True Marriage," "Who should Marry," "When to Marry," and "The Purpose and End of Marriage," the speaker composed a discourse of much interest to all and of great and special value to the young.

John L. Mumro is now delivering large quantities of celebrated Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Co.'s coal, and all are delighted with its heating and lasting qualities. No chinkers, no waste. Try it once and you will use no other, as it is the most economical coal in the market.

We are at a loss to determine whether the article of "N. O. W." in this paper is complimentary to our correspondent "F. H. L." or otherwise. Praise is probably meant, but the writer has an odd way of expressing himself. Most likely he is a novice at writing for the press.

We learn that the Y. M. C. A. are meeting with excellent success in procuring funds to carry on the work here. Contributions come in liberally, for people feel that the cause in which the Association is engaged is a worthy one and should have the support of all right-minded women and men.

Margaret, the wife of John Corcoran, complained several times to the police and the clerk of the Court, for an assault made upon her Dec. 27, by her husband. Finally a warrant was issued, that without bringing John into Court, but that being contrary to the style business is done in Court, John had to come, and paid costs.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr. Clarkson, editor of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register, and member of the Republican National Committee, seems to have the best of it in his controversy with St. John, late Prohibition candidate for the presidency. Of course St. John vehemently denies that he sold out to the Democrats, and his agent, Legate, tries hard to squirm out of it, but Mr. Clarkson is not the kind of man to bear false witness against his neighbor, or to make charges that he could not back up with facts, and in this case he has not departed from his usual course, as the proof shows.

Mr

THE WOBURN JOURNAL.

George A. Hobbs, Publisher. Office at 204 Main Street. $2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

VOL. XXXV.

WOBURN, MASS., FRIDAY, JANUARY 30, 1885.

NO. 6.

WILLIAM W. HILL, Druggist,

Opposite the Cemetery.

Business Cards.

MOSES HANCOCK,
SEWING MACHINES AND FINDINGS,
101 MAIN ST., WOBURN, SOLE'S BLOCK

CENTRAL HOUSE
Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable,
BALED HAY & STRAW For Sale,
212 MAIN ST., WOBURN

A choice assortment of Harnesses, Hoses, Blankets
Whips, etc., constantly on hand and for sale.
49 — G. F. Jones, Proprietor.

FOR Chapped Hands and Face
— USE —

Leeds's Glycerine Lotion,
Fire Insurance Company.

Mass. Standard Policy Issued Full Value
Insured—No 3-clause.

Cash Fund, Aug. 1, 1883, $847,500.00
Surplus Fund, Liabilities, $1,000,000.00

Amount at Risk $861,168,899.

Dividends paid on every existing policy; 50 per cent on new policies, 30 per cent on 3-clause policies, and 20 per cent on all others.

ISRAEL W. MCGOWE, Pres. and Treas.

C. H. COOPER, Vice Pres.

SPARROW HORTON,
Agent for Woburn and vicinity.

W. F. ESTABROOK,
21 Farming Tools & Seeds,
PAINTERS SUPPLIES.

STOVES and Kitchen Ware,
L. THOMPSON, NO. 213 MAIN STREET

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,
Watchmaker & Optician,
No. 228 Main Street, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,
21 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class
bake can be found.

22-42-52

W. A. REYNOLDS, DD. S.

Dental Rooms.

Car, Wm. and Pleasant streets. Open evenings.

Gas and Ether administered.

Connected by telephone: No. Telephone, 7649.

GEORGE P. BROWN,
—DEALER IN—

Drugs and Medicines,

And Druggist's Sundries.

WINCHESTER, MASS.

Physician's prescriptions carefully compounded,
and orders answered with care and dispatch. The public will find our stock of medicines complete,
well-arranged, and of the best quality.

GEORGE P. BROWN,
21 BOSTON, MASS.

A Sure Cure for Headache, Dyspepsia,
Constipation, Indigestion, Sour Stomach,
Heartburn, Liver Complaint and Malaria.

A teaspoonful of Biliouine taken at bedtime, will positively prevent the terrible headache which is so common to those who are fond of drinking.

Any one who longs to test the effects of Biliouine will receive a "trial package gratis."

We will send a package to any address upon receipt of a two cent postage stamp.

SNOW & EARLE, Providence, R. I.

PIANOS TUNED FOR $1.50,

Order by Post Card, which may be obtained at
S. Horton's next door to Post Office, and H. E.
Smith's Druggist, Woburn, and at Brown's Drugstore, Woburn.

W. F. CLEMENT,
Woburn, July 15th, 1880.

THOMAS H. HILL & CO.,

Lycom Building,

WOBURN, MASS.

Real Estate Agency

Fire Insurance.

Stock and Mutual Companies.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Notary Public, Justice of Peace.

TELEPHONE 1225.

SUMMER TIME TABLE.

North Woburn Street Railroad.

Hours, 6 A. M. to 12 M., 12.30 to 4 P. M., 4 to 7 P. M.

Leave Woburn Center at 6:30, 7:30, 8:00, 10:30,

A. M., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6.30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30,

10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30,

5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30,

12:30, 1.30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30, 5:30, 6:30,

7:30, 8:30, 9:30, 10:30, 11:30, 12:30, 1.30,

<p

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, JANUARY 30, 1885.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, JAN. 30, 1885.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. H. Morton, 199 Main Street, R. Robie, 156 Main Street, E. F. Cutters, Cummingsville, J. P. Tyler's, North Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot and at G. P. Brooks, Woburn.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

MORE DYNAMITE.

Last Saturday the Parliament building and Westminster Hall in London were seriously damaged and several people visiting them injured by an explosion of dynamite. A policeman was informed of the discovery of a burning package on a flight of stairs in the great hall and proceeded at once to remove it. In doing so the package dropped from his hands when a terrific explosion took place which knocked down several people including the officer, injuring some of them severely, and did great damage in the buildings. In a few minutes after another explosion followed which was equally destructive as the first. The extent of the damage has not yet been ascertained and there is considerable diversity of opinion about it, but all agree that it was large and months must elapse before the buildings are made whole again.

Of course this bold attempt to destroy Westminster Hall, the Tower of London, and Parliament buildings created intense excitement among all classes in the British capital and for days the spot where the explosion took place was crowded with immense numbers of excited and angry people. Irishmen are suspected as the authors of the work of destruction, but although it is probably true that the agents of the agitators in that country or America did the work, as yet there is no proof that such was the case. One or two were arrested as soon after the explosion as the officers recovered their wits and were held for examination, but it is no means certain that the right parties have been apprehended.

It was a dastardly piece of business and is condemned everywhere even by the friends of the Irish nation who wish to see it free from English rule. It was also a crazy, senseless work that will hurt the cause of Ireland, which is a just one, and set it back for years, if the crime was committed by the parties suspected.

In this country the news of the attempt to destroy the Tower of London, which symbolizes the power of the British nation, aroused a deep feeling of indignation. In Congress a resolution was at once introduced condemning in strong language the work of dynamiters, which was followed by a bill prepared by Senator Edmunds to prohibit the manufacture and export of dangerous explosives for illegal ends.

This ought and probably will pass. In the meantime the dynamiters in New York, Chicago and other cities are jubilant over the partial destruction of the British parliament buildings and the scare they have given the English government.

BIENNIAL ELECTIONS.

The argument of Hon. Edward H. Haskell of Gloucester before the Joint Committee on Elections in the Massachusetts Legislature on January 31, 1884, in favor of biennial elections was a strong and convincing one. By request it has been printed and sent out in pamphlet form. He discussed the subject in all its bearings and proved conclusively to the satisfaction of reasonable minds that it is high time this State got out of the old ruts and followed the example of other and more progressive ones. Thirty-three States in the Union now hold biennial elections and in not a single instance would any of them return to the old way. Massachusetts ought to learn something from this, but it is quite uncertain whether she will or not.

In almost all matters of legislation Boston exerts a controlling influence and her interests are too large to allow her to give up the annual session of the Legislature until forced to do so by representatives of the people living outside of the metropolis.

The Illinois Senatorial question is an interesting one as it stands. Neither party is sure of anything, though the Republicans might fairly hope to elect if they would take Charles Farwell of Chicago for their candidate. It is believed that Gen. Logan can win no votes from the Democrats, nor Morris from the Republicans, in which case there could be no choice. At any rate, we should think the middle in which the Legislature are floundering would sicken the people of Illinois of Joe Medill's minority representation scheme and cause them to insist on a repeal of the law. There is no good reason why the party that has a decided majority of votes in the State should not control the Legislature.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

N. W. F. - Wanted.
J. L. Monroe - Coal.
J. E. Carter - Rinds.
T. G. Carter - Potash.
Dr. Beardsley - Lecture.
W. W. Spear - Portraits.
A. W. Cormick - For Sale.
J. Leath - Barber Boots, etc.
W. P. Waugh - "Home Journal."
W. P. Brooks & Co. - Furniture, etc.

The Wednesday evening meetings in the churches were slenderly attended, excepted.

— Pollard & Parker are building a very fine truck for the H. & L. Company.

— Mr. A. Cummings has made a change in his advertisement this week. Look at it.

— Company G., 5th Regiment have elected George W. Simonds second Lieutenant.

— Read the card in this paper headed "Wanted." It is a square matter and deserves attention.

— We would respectfully call attention to the change in the advertisement of C. A. Smith & Son in this paper.

— The Woburn High School Club beat the Waltham High School Club, at Carter's the other night, 3 to 1.

— The local agent of the M. S. F. T. C. T. A. wants our people to feed the English sparrows and thus save their lives.

— The annual meeting for the election of officers, etc., of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at their rooms on next Monday evening.

— The castes who play "East Lynne" tomorrow evening at Lyceum Hall are a very strong one. There is not a poor actor among them.

— Principal Hanson of the High School submitted his report respecting the probation of pupils to the School Board at its last meeting.

— By calling on Mr. Thomas Morris, 199 Main street, the reader can learn where a good house on Beacon street can be bought. See card.

— Persons who wish to invest some surplus funds in a gilt-edge first mortgage will do well to read the card of Mr. W. W. Spear in this paper.

— To witness a first class play by the very best artists our people should go to Lyceum Hall tomorrow night when Ada Gray plays "East Lynne."

— Mr. Perrigo of the Union Weekly speaks a kind, cheering word for the Journal for which he will please accept our thanks and best wishes.

— Mr. Thomas Salmon of this place is a member of the general committee of the Charity Ball to be given in Boston on the evening of February 9.

— A fire insect is to be held tomorrow morning to find out, if possible, the cause of the incipient conflagration in the Teare block last Saturday night.

— Stephen Dow, Esq., is ill at his home in this village. There is nothing dangerous about it, and with a favorable change in the weather he will soon be out and around again.

— It is curious that C. M. Monroe sells overcoats as cheap as he does. He must lose money on them, but it is getting so late in the season that overcoats must go at some price.

— Mr. John L. Monroe has leased a site of the R. R. Co., directly opposite his old one on which he commenced yesterday to build a nice, convenient coal office. It is a very fine location.

— Ice-dealers are happy once more. The prospect for a good crop is all their hearts could desire and they are making the best of it. If harvested without damage it ought to be reasonably cheap next summer.

— Yesterday the temperature as marked by the thermometers in this town varied from zero to five below. The latter figures were discovered only in the most exposed and inclement neighborhoods.

— Mr. Westall gives the fourth lecture in his course on social questions at the Unitarian church Sunday evening, his subject being "The Ideal Home," a subject of great practical importance to all—old and young alike.

— We have had the usual variety of weather this week mostly of not a particularly agreeable kind and yet nothing worthy of the severest condemnation. Tuesday was a keen one, the next day there was quite a snow storm.

— The hour for holding religious services in the Chapel at Montvale has been changed to 3 o'clock, p. m. On the second Sunday in February Rev. Mr. Westall, pastor of the Unitarian church at the Centre, will officiate at all its bearings and proved conclusively to the satisfaction of reasonable minds that it is high time this State got out of the old ruts and followed the example of other and more progressive ones. Thirty-three States in the Union now hold biennial elections and in not a single instance would any of them return to the old way. Massachusetts ought to learn something from this, but it is quite uncertain whether she will or not.

— Wilkesbarre "black diamonds," a great dull lustre, are very interesting and have great lasting qualities. Try them. John L. Monroe is rushing them and all are made happy that burn them.

— Mr. J. W. Bedell has a card in this paper to which attention is called. He is an A artist who at free-hand drawing has few equals. We have seen many of his portraits and other pictures which were awfully up to works of art. His prices are reasonable.

— Certain one or two, possibly more, Woburn visitors to the Winter Carnival at Montreal can be counted up, but at the best the number is noways so large as it has been in some former years, owing perhaps to the fact that the taste for the pleasure has become cloyed, or more likely, to leap waves.

— When clouds have not obscured the pale and gentle rays of the queen of night or young folks, who love sleighing and out-door sports, have thought the moonlit evenings of late superb and utilized them accordingly. Even to indoor folks they have been rather charming than otherwise.

— The Boston Home Journal contains each week, besides the large installment of news in its musical, dramatic, artistic and social departments, a fresh and interesting story from some popular author, and original articles of literary merit. Issued every Saturday, at 403 Washington street, Boston, at $2.50 per year.

— The State and Woburn ought to unite in building a court house and jail for the accommodation of both. The Fourth District Court should have better rooms in which to hold its daily sessions, and a town jail is one of the few things that the town needs. Now, if they would join drives a suitable building for both purposes might be erected.

— At half past 10 o'clock on Saturday evening there was an alarm from box 62 for a fire in the cellar of Mrs. Teare's building on Main street occupied by Walsh & Cassidy—the same premises where a slight blaze occurred a week or so ago. There was but little damage done. Chief Engineer Littlefield accidentally inhaled gas until he was pretty well done for.

— The Permanent Committee on railroad affairs are doing splendidly for the advancement of the Woburn Branch extension. They are certainly entitled to great credit for their pluck, perseverance and success, and also to the gratitude of the people. They have secured something rising $10,000, inclusive of the North Woburn subscription, which is a big thing considering the short time they have been at work. Things are looking very bright, thanks to the energy of the Permanent Committee and liberality of our people.

— On Wednesday evening subscriptions to the railroad fund stood as follows according to the statement of W. V. Kellen, Esq., who has the master in charge for the committee. No. Woburn's subscription $5,000; one man at the centre, $1,000; two, $500 each; 15, $200 each; and 12 firms, $200, making in all $10,400. This is a flattering statement and insures the completion of the extension by the 1st of next December in accordance with the bond. At the same time the canvass at the Centre is only just begun.

— As a fitting climax to the very severe snow storm of Wednesday, when several inches deep of snow fell on a level, or as near a level as the configuration of the land would admit of, a gale set in just after night and the snow was to pay. The snow was so light and feathery that even a summer zephyr would have been enough to set it to flying and come to take a gale it is easily imagined that the rampus was one of huge proportions. There were drifts everywhere in the morning, and they were good ones too—that is to say, good for the kind.

— Miss Ada Gray appears in "East Lynne" at Lyceum Hall tomorrow, Saturday evening, and those who attend will be well rewarded for their time and trouble. Everyone knows that "East Lynne" is an admirable play and a very popular one, and Miss Gray in the roles of Lydia Isabel and Mine, Vine has no superiors. She has been playing this piece with great success continuously for five years and everywhere the press speak in the highest terms of her as an actress. Our people who go to Lyceum Hall tomorrow evening may depend on being delighted with "East Lynne" and Miss Gray.

— The annual meeting of the First Congregational Parish of Woburn was held in the vestry of the meeting house on Monday evening, John M. Murdoch filling the chair as moderator. The official reports of the various committees and officers showed that the affairs of the society are in a very prosperous condition. Election of officers resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen:—Treasurer and Collector, E. K.; John W. Hutchinson, E. S.; Sparrow Horton, Secretary; C. Alonso Pierce, C. of H.; Geo. S. Littlefield, P. S.; James A. Brown, R. A. C.; Alex. Cameron, M. 2d V.; John E. Tidd, Tyler, Dr. G. S. Dodge.

— On Wednesday evening last of fevers of Woburn Chapter of Royal Arch Masons were installed by R. E. Nathan J. Simonds, as follows:—Clas. A. Sweetser, M. E. H. P.; J. Winslow Richardson, E. K.; John W. Hutchinson, E. S.; Sparrow Horton, Secretary; C. Alonso Pierce, C. of H.; Geo. S. Littlefield, P. S.; James A. Brown, R. A. C.; Alex. Cameron, M. 2d V.; John E. Tidd, Tyler.

— The shovels brigade is a boon to the gathering of items for the local press. When every other source fails when every one who is suspected of having the least particle of news about him has been pummeled dry; and when every nook and corner of the town has been thoroughly ransacked by the discouraged reporter, lo, and behold! the shovel brigade comes to the rescue and he is happy once more. The shovel brigade can always be relied on, at the season of the year when flourishes, for an item, for which reason the news-gleaner has always a warm side and good word for it. Dog-fights are uncertain, and run-aways cannot always be depended on to fill "a long felt want" and the local columns of the paper; but the shovel brigade is peculiarly fit to fill the place of Miss Gould. — The Superintendent was instructed to consolidate the primaries of the Cummings and Lawrence schools, if in his judgment it would be best to do so.—Bills of the month referred to the auditors.—The last purchase of books by the Superintendent was approved.—The Superintendent's report stated that there are 2,011 pupils in the public schools, 420 in the parochial school, and 20 in private schools.—Adjourned to next Tuesday evening.

— The School Board held its regular monthly meeting last Tuesday evening at which all the members were present except Conaway Flagg and Cummings. Rev. Mr. Murphy was chosen Chairman pro tempore in the absence of Chairman Emerson.—On motion of Mr. Aldrich it was ordered that the election of Dr. Conway to fill the vacancy be properly spread on the records of the School Committee.—The committee on evening schools reported adversely on evening drawing schools on the grounds of non-attendance.—Dr. Harlow, member of the Joint Committee on Education, was in attendance on the meeting for the purpose of informing himself as to the working of the new text-book law.—On motion of Mr. Emerson, a resolution was adopted in favor of the free text-book system and expressing the opinion that the law should stand.—On motion of Dr. Bartlett, Mr. Emerson was appointed to appear at the hearing of the Legislature and support a continuance of the free text-book law.—On motion of Dr. Conway to fill the vacancy he is happy once more. The shovel brigade comes to the rescue and he is happy once more.

— The shovels brigade is a boon to the gathering of items for the local press. When every other source fails when every one who is suspected of having the least particle of news about him has been pummeled dry; and when every nook and corner of the town has been thoroughly ransacked by the discouraged reporter, lo, and behold! the shovel brigade comes to the rescue and he is happy once more.

— The resignation of Miss N. Grace Gould, teacher, was accepted.—It was voted to transfer Miss Barrett from the Cummings school to fill the place of Miss Gould.—The Superintendent was instructed to consolidate the primaries of the Cummings and Lawrence schools, if in his judgment it would be best to do so.—Bills of the month referred to the auditors.—The last purchase of books by the Superintendent was approved.—The Superintendent's report stated that there are 2,011 pupils in the public schools, 420 in the parochial school, and 20 in private schools.—Adjourned to next Tuesday evening.

— The Boston Globe says in a late number:—"The Winchester correspondent of the Woburn Journal remarks that Judge Littlefield has been made life member of the Children's Mission, which is a great deal better. There is no more imperative need of the people of the nation to better knowledge of the human system. These facts fit into prominence the unusual privileges professed in the lectures of Dr. Beardsley. The doctor possesses the happy art of stating great truths in the most simple and interesting manner, relieved of the burdensome nomenclature usually so prevalent in such lectures. A better knowledge of physiology may thus be obtained than in private reading of months. No person can afford to lose the course of lectures to be given by the doctor on practical physiology, at Lyceum Hall, to commence next Monday evening, Feb. 2.

— The Globe reporter has made the important discovery, or claims to have made it, that the Superintendent of the Woburn and Stoneham large is a disadvantage in circumscripted quarters.—Will Kenney of the Boston Globe is Secretary of the Massachusetts Polo League.—Attention is called to the programme at Carter's Academy for this week. Some very choice amusement is offered which will be appreciated by the public. Carter is making things very pleasant and nice at the Academy.—It is reported that the players have accepted the challenge of the Bay States, the match to be played at Carter's at an early date.

— The Boston Home Journal has a card in this paper to which attention is called. He is an A artist who at free-hand drawing has few equals. We have seen many of his portraits and other pictures which were awfully up to works of art. His prices are reasonable.

— Certain one or two, possibly more, Woburn visitors to the Winter Carnival at Montreal can be counted up, but at the best the number is noways so large as it has been in some former years, owing perhaps to the fact that the taste for the pleasure has become cloyed, or more likely, to leap waves.

— When clouds have not obscured the pale and gentle rays of the queen of night or young folks, who love sleighing and out-door sports, have thought the moonlit evenings of late superb and utilized them accordingly. Even to indoor folks they have been rather charming than otherwise.

— Last Wednesday's was the boss snow-storm of the season so far. It was the first real, old-fashioned New England one that has been experienced here for a good while, and we enjoyed it. Next to a furious early autumn rain storm a double-and-twisted mid-winter snow storm is our delight. With the wind fairly strong from square out of the northeast, its howlings resembling anything but aonan harps; the snow now coming down in fine, cutting crystals, and always in leaves almost as big as old-fashioned pewter plates; the roads piled full and pedestrians and horseback panting through the drifts; the pine boughs bending low beneath the weight of the "beautiful," and the lime and linden trees of the elms wailing and shivering in the fierce winds—these, and other things which might be added, are what make life in winter worth living. And that's the way it was last Wednesday.

— At the remarkably low prices at which Mr. J. Leath is selling rubber boots, sandals and overshoes there is no excuse for anybody going through the winter without them. Having purchased for cash down in large quantities Mr. Leath is enabled to offer these goods at less prices than ever before sold in this place, a fact which his large sales prove that the people appreciate. They are all of the very best make—honest rubber foot-coverings—and for an idea of the very low prices at which they are sold the reader is referred to Mr. Leath's card in this paper. He also carries a large, well selected and desirable stock of all kinds of boots and shoes which are offered at bottom figures. Please examine it.

— The Woburn and Stoneham ought to unite in building a court house and jail for the accommodation of both. The Fourth District Court should have better rooms in which to hold its daily sessions, and a town jail is one of the few things that the town needs. Now, if they would join drives a suitable building for both purposes might be erected.

— The Boston Home Journal contains each week, besides the large installment of news in its musical, dramatic, artistic and social departments, a fresh and interesting story from some popular author, and original articles of literary merit. Issued every Saturday, at 403 Washington street, Boston, at $2.50 per year.

— The State and Woburn ought to unite in building a court house and jail for the accommodation of both. The Fourth District Court should have better rooms in which to hold its daily sessions, and a town jail is one of the few things that the town needs. Now, if they would join drives a suitable building for both purposes might be erected.

— The Boston Home Journal contains each week, besides the large installment of news in its musical, dramatic, artistic and social departments, a fresh and interesting story from some popular author, and original articles of literary merit. Issued every Saturday, at 403 Washington street, Boston, at $2.50 per year.

— The State and Woburn ought to unite in building a court house and jail for the accommodation of both. The Fourth District Court should have better rooms in which to hold its daily sessions, and a town jail is one of the few things that the town needs. Now, if they would join drives a suitable building for both purposes might be erected.

— The Boston Home Journal contains each week, besides the large installment of news in its musical, dramatic, artistic and social departments, a fresh and interesting story from some popular author, and original articles of literary merit. Issued every Saturday, at 403 Washington street, Boston, at $2.50 per year.

— The State and Woburn ought to unite in building a court house and jail for the accommodation of

IT SURPRISES
EVERYBODY!WOONSOCKETT PURE GUM BOOTS for $3.00 usual price $4.00.

WOONSOCKETT OF BOSTON first quality Boots $2.75

Boots' RUBBERS, WOONSOCKETT and BOSTON, $1.75
and $2.00

YOUTH'S WOONSOCKETT RUBBERS, $1.35.

MEN'S HICKORY ARCTIC, Boston or Canada, $1.25
and $1.50.

MEN'S Imitation RUBBER, best make, 60 cents.

MEN'S Imitation RUBBER, WOONSOCKETT, 50 cents.

WOMEN'S Boston, Canoe or National, make, 35 cents—a regular 50 cent Rubber.

MISSES WOONSOCKETT, 20 cents.

MISSES BOSTON, 30 cents.

A FEW pairs of Men's pebbled legs, worth $3.00
for $2.00

These are strictly CASH PRICES.

N. B.—Call for the Goods while have them.

All Fresh Goods.

J. LEATHE,

201 Main Street, Woburn.

OPP. JOURNAL OFFICE.

B. & L. R. R.

From Boston to Winchester 6.05, 7.30, 7.35, 8,
8.30, 9.05, 9.45, 10, 11, 11.35, A. M., 12, 10, 1.00, 2.00,
3, 3.15, 4, 4.30, 4.45, 5, 5.10, 5, 49, 6, 6.15, 6.30, 7.15, 7.30,
8, 8.30, 11.20, 1.00, 2.00.From Woburn to Boston 6.05, 6.25, 6.35,
7.15, 7.45, 8.30, 9.05, 9.15, 10.25, 11.45, A. M.,
1.15, 1.55, 2.05, 3.25, 4.05, 4.55, 5.11, 5.25, 6.25, 6.45,
8.05, 8.25, 8.35, P. M.,
Wednesday only.

WINCHESTER.

Snow storms interfered with the school sessions somewhat last week.

Illness, many cases of which are reported, keeps Miss Burbank from the teacher's seat in the Mystic school.

Prof. W. H. Niles gave the third lecture in the Good Will Club series. His theme was "Holland and its people."

Mr. John Enman, master carpenter, has finished his job on the Episcopal church. It gives great satisfaction to all concerned.

The friends of Miss Jennie Hamlin were very much gratified with the success of the musical exercises privately given by her on last Tuesday evening.

Prof. C. T. Winchester will deliver a lecture on this, Friday evening, on "An Old Castle." It will probably be worth the while of all our people to go and hear it.

It is expected that the W. V. I. A. had a grand time at their sociable last evening. Great preparations were made to have it a choice affair, which no doubt it was.

Coasting is getting to be the fashion here. I hereby propose that a Toboggan Club be organized on the plan of the Canada clubs, and then wouldn't there be fun?

The wife of Rev. A. B. Dasecomb, formerly pastor of the Congregational church in this village, recently died at Bellows Falls, Vermont. She was a lady highly esteemed in this community.

The Good Will Club of this village has in store for the delectation of the people another dramatic entertainment, which will come off, as now intended, some time in the month of March next, to come.

Rev. C. R. Seymour, pastor of the Congregational church, gave a very able and interesting lecture all about "The Rhine" at the last Young Peoples' sociable. It was very entertaining and instructive. Mr. Seymour is a fine lecturer.

Mr. Ayer is building two houses on Church street. By the way, it looks as though building in Winchester was going to experience a boom in the spring. Our population is increasing and unless Woburn hurries up her cakewalk she shall outstrip her in the race for a city charter.

The Winchester and Woburn barge has been put on again. It shouldn't have been taken off, for it is a great convenience to both Winchester and Woburn people. Woburn merchants can afford to patronize it liberally. The barge will leave Woburn at the close of the rinks at night.

A writer in last week's Star, probably a clerical gentleman, gives the practice of making the pulpit a bulletins-board to severe and well-deserved raps over the knuckles. This announcing all sorts of meetings by the minister every Sunday morning from the sacred desk is a bad practice, and ought to be abolished.

Washington, Jan. 27. The Director of the Mint is engaged in the preparation of his report on the production of gold and silver in the United States during the calendar year 1884. From the returns made to him from the mints and assay offices it appears that, contrary to his expectations, a greater amount of gold was obtained from the mines of the United States in 1884 than during the previous year. The reports from the mints and assay offices of the deposits of gold and silver, which he caused to be verified by the accounts, show that during the calendar year 1884 they received of gold, of domestic production, $30,807,169, being nearly $800,000 more than in the previous year, while the deposits of foreign gold bullion were $11,247,309; foreign gold, $6,328,922; of jewelry, plate, etc., $1,898,577; and of United States gold coin, $265,171; a total excluding redeposits, of $35,078,148. Mr. Burchard says that there can be no question but that nearly thirty-one millions of gold, as shown by these reports, were obtained from the mines of the United States during the last calendar year.

We are informed by a fashion paper that buttons are becoming aesthetic. For some time past we have thought buttons were more ornamental than useful, and that's the reason why we have worn shiny nails on our trousers.

The officers of the Baptist church for 1885, recently elected, are:—Clerk, Wallace P. Palmer; Treasurer, John W. Rice; Sunday School Superintendent, William H. Brewer; Sunday School Secretary and Treasurer, F. S. Richardson, Jr.; Librarian, Charles F. McKenzie; Deacon for three years E. T. Whitney; Prudential Committee; Pastor and Deacons, and Mrs. Albert Ayer, and Mrs. Annie Palmer. The various church committees for the year were filled.

Cummings' Dry Goods House.
MARK DOWN!

Laces and Woolen Hosiery at a great SACRIFICE. Linen Damasks and Towels at real bargain prices.

We acknowledge with gratitude, the very marked public favor shown us during the past season, indicating a growing appreciation of low prices and a very large and well selected stock. We assure our patrons that it will be our endeavor to merit a still higher appreciation of our effort to meet every want of the trade. We shall certainly offer many special bargains the coming season.

A. CUMMINGS,

150 Main Street.

For the Woburn Journal.
A Ride in the Good Old Times on the Middlesex Canal.For the information of inquirers we would state that there is an interesting account of a trip to Lowell by the old Middlesex Canal, taken from the experience of a lady, and copied from the True Flag in the WOBURN JOURNAL for August 18, 1855.

At the period spoken of the canal was in its prime, and the lady in question had frequently made the trip between Boston and Lowell by canal boat.

Lowell, then called Chelmsford (popularly pronounced Champfield), was reached by the public mode of conveyance only by the stage and the canal.

The massive stone locks, as they were called, had a covered cabin extending the whole length, excepting a small standing room at each end for working the boat.

Each freight boat was drawn by one horse, the towing line being attached to a short mast, which was placed a little ahead of the centre.

The crew consisted of one man to drive and one to steer. Freight boats were required to make 2 1/2 miles an hour, and passenger boats 4 miles. But we hope to give the substance of Prof. Vose's account in a second article.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the gooly part of the route. If these fruit pickers were out-traveled by their boat, the accommodating captain would pass the word to the mounted driver, when the team would be stopped, and the boat have to, till the stragglers came up.

The passenger boats were small and not particularly clean, and the society aboard of an extremely mixed character.

The captain was often a jolly good natured inland mariner, and was perfectly willing to sheer his craft at any time alongside the towpath, and allow such of his passengers as desired it, to land and pick the lucious blackberries which hung in masses along the go

[For the Journal.]

A Plea for Jefferson Davis.

Mister editor respected sir—There has bin a vyle slander published into sum of the noospapers of this komonwealth about that loial patrot and onerl staitman Jefferson Davis, eskware, president of the confederat stait of a Maryke. I dont meen too insinuate that you have bin gitly of them krimes. The kolumns of yure paper aint open too emny sich lize and stuf and cents Kleveland was leekid yure paper has bin kwite descent and respectable so that descent people can reed it without gettin mad or bin ashamed of their selves and we all pray you for it.

I belloog to the masserchewits sotyashun of koperheads. We formd ny onto 20 year ago too perpetuate the memry of the suffrins we suffered and the endoreences we endored when there was drafts and when we was in Kandy and of the insults we had heeped on to us and of the krossis we had to bair becaus we woudnt go too the war and fitte agin the hour principles. We shall meat next week too talk axym about them slanders that has bin printd about hour cheef and I shall bee their myself, ded or alive, too defend the karicker and one of the president.

I notic the Mary Land soyashun has took axym so kwick and pointed a dellygashun too go too the presydent and kerry to him sum resodoushens they resoluted about him. Now the presydent dont knawd know sich tokins of effecksun and esteam from his people. He nose it is only a noverlio of simpatic for him producde in hour businss by a vyle and fits attact onto his repupashun as a man and as a patrot and staitman. Theas lize was all started by bil Shurman and he hant got know moab bowls of komphashun than a grizly hair. He was a general into the army and neekst too Grant he was the monst cruel and harshest boucher into the federal employ. Congris took his Command away from him and now he dont have nothing to due but tel lize and slander about fokes a good cel better than he is. He lives in Miss soupy and if he dont mind his pes and kuse sum of fellers out their will put a hed onto him that he wont be very proud on.

In 1800 and 61 he was a major in the you knighted statts army and while takin sum troops acrost the Mrs. sippy river he sed he wood sooner cut off his ride atm than to fit against the south. He then came north and linkun promted him and now he denights the assershun and says its all a lye and that he didnt take know troops acrost, that he rezined 7 yere befor and that he was keepin skood into no oreuns.

Now it dont make no odds if he didnt say it. It was into him and it is just as bad for him too denigh it as it wood have bin if he had set it. And in his letter too young linkun he revaled a good manny of the sekrits of the confedracy which he had know bizness too due it! It was treason for him to do it! It put a good menny of hour into a bad licks. Gavner Brown and Gouvernance Vancie had too git up in their places in the semin and lye about it to save their oner and their reypoutashens.

And then bil Sherman makes a grift firs hour callen the presydent by his tytle. But everybody nose that was leect presydent and the fast presydent of the confedracy and that he never resigned and want discharged and knowbly has bin leeked too sueskid him so that he is presydent now and kontine too be til he diez if he lives too that time. And he also says that he confedracy is ded, is bust, is plaid out but it aint no sich thing. It is in a kataleptick kondishun. It is a kase of kased animashun. Dus he think that the masserchewits katterpillers when they are metymorfosin and that the noo england wouldhus and the north a Marykan bairs when they are liberatin, are ded, are bust, are plaid out? Let him posses his sole in piece and wate till the spring opens and then lern of the bairs and the butterfizle and the woudheuk.

In the spring of 1800 and 65 hein in rather delideli heit, the ears of his grift offis havin worn unto him, at the conclusion to take a vacashun and he started out on a picnic exshun down thru the suthern stait of his confedracy for reckasun and pleasure. But while marchin thru jorgy recreant and enjoyin hisself he was suddenly bushwhacked by yonited staitm staitlers. He was stoppin at a waside in them gullers road into his presents in a mount unermonious and and goot maner without even sendin their kards or their kompliments or in emny way appreint him of their emny. The presydent at this time was drest in winmuns cloze and to all intents and purposes he was a woman and for them yonited staitm gullers to treat a woman in such a maner was shockin and shanifin in the extream.

And that aint all. They cum with merder in their larts for they told the presydent if he offed emny violents or maid emny resistance or attempted to escape from them they wood shoot him ova the spot and without givin him a chance to change his cloze. They tolled him that he was their prisoner, that they was on their way to washington and that he must go with them that a reward of a 100 1000 dollars had bin offerd for him and that they was goin to the linkun guverment and clame the reward.

Now the presydent told them planly that he had heard the day befor that such a reward was offerd for him and that he hisself was on his way to the linkun guverment to give himself up and to skoop in the reward, and that he was willin that they shoud accommied him provided they wood treat him with the respectdew into his poshun.

They konsented and went to the linkun guverment when the presydent stood vis a vis with his enemys, his face a bemin with perspiration and patriotism. Now them gullers went rite in and clamed that reward and as there was moar of them and they cood lytter faster than the presydent they gut it.

An aged Michigan man and wife had their first exchange of blows at a family celeboration of the fiftith anniversary of their marriage, and they have since lived separately.

Some of Terre Haute's young men found amusement in grabbing the matrillized from a spirit, in a dark scence, and then turning on a powerful lantern, which disclosed the medium costumed for the role of a ghost.

The cultivation of a cheerful spirit demands as first requisite that the conditions of health be observed. The dejection that claims sympathy on the ground of some supposed hardship often has its origin in indigestion. A sensible observance of hygenic laws is frequently the one thing needful to transform a doleful man into a bright and cheerful one.

The Mayor of Decorah, Iowa, determined to enforce decorum in the streets of his town at night, and to that end dressed himself in the apparel of a girl, so as to entrap the bad man who had habitually insulted those maidens who ventured out after dark.

The largest mat in the world covers the circus or ring of the Covent Garden Theatre. It is made of unbleached cotton-fibre and has a soft pile four inches thick, thus making an excellent substitute for sawdust. The weight of this enormous mass is over two tons.

Who owns a prescription, after it has once been filled—the physician, the patient, or the apothecary? The question comes up in a Connecticut liquor case, wherein an order for half a pint of gin has been duplicated many times, and the excise officers wish to punish somebody.

The story is being published of Gen Sheridan that, because he declared that in one certain restaurant in America could roast chicken be obtained in perfection, some wagghish friends had a bog of fowl constructed of veal and pork and served to him in the same establishment. He spoke in high praise of the counterpart while eating it.

No one would ever be able to counterfeit the handwriting of Rutherford B. Hayes. He never made the same letter the same way twice.

James Buchanan was proud of his handwriting. He prided himself on his punctuation, spelling and the elegance of his style of composition.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish under it which would do honor to a writing teacher.

James K. Polk made a signature which looks like copper plate. Every line of it is well made, and there is a flourish

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1885.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, FEB. 6, 1885.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. H. H. Carter, 155 Main Street, B. Babb, 1st Main Street, F. Cutler, Cummingsville, 1st Main Street, Mr. Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot, and at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION.

The friends of temperance ask the present Legislature of this State to pass a law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating drinks on election days. Though such a law would be an important step in the right direction it is a modest request which these people make and there ought to be no hesitation about granting it. The last we heard of the bill however it had been so loaded down with obnoxious amendments by advocates of the rum interests that, if enacted, it would fail to answer the ends for the accomplishment of which it was originated or to benefit in the least the cause of temperance.

With the experience of former years fresh in mind the advocates of reform ought not to have anticipated friendly consideration of their petition or favorable action on it by the Legislature, for even with a public sentiment in the State strongly opposed to the liquor traffic it is found utterly impracticable to petition our law-makers for prohibitory or even restrictive legislation on the subject.

The masses are in favor of temperance. It is safe to say that a majority of the voters of the State are prohibitory, and could the question be submitted to them free from all political complications and influences they would vote to shut up the rum shops. Especially is this true outside of the large cities. And yet every Legislature bolts. For some reason or other when the members get to Boston their ideas on temperance and the means of promoting it undergo rapid and radical changes and the friends and advocates of the cause plead in vain for aid at their hands.

Seeing the pernicious consequences in many ways of rum-selling on election days the Legislature has been respectfully petitioned to prohibit it. To be sure such a law would be but a short step in the path of progress, but it would be a step and every move forward if only slight is something gained.

Temperance people see virtue in such a law and want it, but from present appearances it is doubtful if there very reasonable request will be granted by the Legislature now in session; or if purchase some legislation on the petition is vouchsafed it will result in a law that either nobody can understand, or if understood, that nobody but rum-sellers wants.

It ought perhaps in justice to be said that the House passed the bill to a third reading last Monday, but if it becomes a law in its present shape very little indeed will it amount to. The friends of rum have succeeded in getting the original bill "amended" to such an extent that its parents would fail to recognize it, and the loop-holes are so numerous and large that an evasion of its provisions will be found as easy as the most conscientious rum-seller could ask for.

TINKERING OF THE ELECTION LAWS.

Some defects in the election laws of this State have been brought to the attention of the Legislature and we have heard that a remedy is in process of incubation in one of the committee rooms. A modification of these laws is one of the most important duties that the Legislature have to deal with and no term would be considered as having discharged its obligations in full to the Commonwealth that had not contributed its quota towards increasing their obscurity and complexity. It is safe to say that not one voter in a hundred is at all familiar with their provisions and lawyers are said to differ widely many times as to their proper construction.

This however does not deter the Legislature from an annual overhauling of the laws and increasing the difficulty which the ordinary intellect encounters in endeavoring to master their intent and meaning.

The voting machinery in this State is about as complicated as anything can well be. A man almost needs a college education to comprehend it well enough to enable him to cast his ballot in such a way as to have it count. It often becomes necessary to invoke the aid of experts in preparing ballots for the printer while in many cases the professional services of a civil engineer have been found necessary to enable the judges of election to run successfully the new ballot-boxes furnished by the Legislature in one of its spasms of reform last winter.

Nevertheless, it is proposed to add to the difficulties and perplexities already attending the exercise of the right of suffrage in this State by doing a little more tinkering this winter, so we are told.

SHOT IN THE BACK.

O'Donovan Rossa, the head dynamiter America, was shot by a female cracker in New York on Monday, but not dangerously. They were walking along together on Chambers street when the woman fell back a pace or two, out with her "gun" and let drive into Rossa's back. He yelled and fell, but was more scared than hurt as a surgical examination proved, and is now doing as well as could be expected. The woman was arrested and taken to the police station where she coolly informed the officers that she did the shooting.

This will prove a valuable addition to Jerry O'Donovan's (his real name) stock in trade. He claims that the shooter is an agent of the British ministry, a spy sent over to murder him, and all that sort of bosh. Now the dynamite fund will boom again and the head-center will wail in the hard-earned money of poor, deluded Irishmen, servant girls, etc., and flourish like a green bay tree.

THE Grand Army Posts of this

State are arranging for a carnival to be held in Boston next April in aid of the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea. The Executive Committee consists of one hundred ladies and gentlemen from the different cities and towns in the State, and it is expected that the carnival will be a very grand affair as well as a profitable one for the Home.

THE Augusta correspondent of the Bideford Journal says respecting the Legislature: "The contest for budging Moosehead Lake is getting warm." It will get a good deal warmer before that noble sheet of water can be made to "budge" very far from where it is now.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

W. E. Carter—Rink, 100 Main Street, Woburn, Town of Woburn; Pet. H. & L. R. H. J. Woodman—Admin. Sale, 100 Main Street, Woburn; G. R. Powell & Co.—Mis. ads.

L. H. Allen—Probate Notice.

Mrs. Magee—Wanted.

An important administratrix's sale is advertised in this paper.

J. C. Larock was injured by a fall at the City Rink last Friday.

This is a favorable time for business men to advertise in the JOURNAL.

The Advertiser thinks we have just found out about those carriage, Sho!

Mrs. Magee wants to employ some boy's knee-pants makers. See her card.

Mr. J. Leathie a change in his card this week. He is pushing the rubber trade big.

C. M. Munroe is selling the very best gent's underwear at prices that defy competition.

Patrick H. Murphy was drawn as grand jurymen at a special meeting of the Board last Monday.

Yesterday was just a lovely winter day. There couldn't be anything nicer try so hard.

There was no quorum present at the last regular meeting of the School Board, hence no business done.

Yesterday the sidewalks were slossy and the streets pretty soft. A warm sun fetches it every time.

Mann, formerly with the now ex-patriot Rumford, has joined the Natick Polo Club of which he is a valuable member.

On the whole we have had considerable winter since 1885 came in. In the matter of cold and snow it is a good average.

There are three skating rinks in Lynn only one of which any business to speak of and that is not coining wealth very rapidly.

Grammer Brothers are selling their stock including their own make, of shoes at a great discount in prices. This means business.

It would be merciful and kind for everybody to throw out crumbs from the table to the sparrows. They are having a hard time of it.

The Advertiser has been short of hands this week on account of sickness. The editor knows now how to sympathize with his neighbors.

The days have increased one hour and thirteen minutes in length which is doing pretty well considering the rough weather we have had of late.

The Woburn Brass Band serenaded their comrade, Mr. John Brauer, the other evening in royal style. He has recently taken a better half and the boys thought it nothing more right and proper to remember him with wind instruments and drums. We have been told that it was a very nice affair all round.

The Methodist church will commence their revival meetings next Sunday. The pastor will be assisted by Rev. C. L. Eastman and wife. These meetings will continue every evening probably for three weeks. All workers are earnestly invited to co-operate in these meetings. The public are cordially welcomed.

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A., held at their rooms on Monday evening the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:—President, H. Copeland; Vice-President, C. F. Lyford; Secretary, W. P. Simonds; Treasurer, Thomas Heartz, Capt. J. Henry Simonds declined a re-election to the presidency on account of poor health.

St. Valentine's Day occurs one week from tomorrow. It is noted for the great number of letters which are sent through the mails and large exchange between boys and girls of "hearts and heads" in the new ballot-boxes furnished by the Legislature in one of its spasms of reform last winter.

Nevertheless, it is proposed to add to the difficulties and perplexities already attending the exercise of the right of suffrage in this State by doing a little more tinkering this winter, so we are told.

SHOT IN THE BACK.

O'Donovan Rossa, the head dynamiter America, was shot by a female cracker in New York on Monday, but not dangerously. They were walking along together on Chambers street when the woman fell back a pace or two, out with her "gun" and let drive into Rossa's back. He yelled and fell, but was more scared than hurt as a surgical examination proved, and is now doing as well as could be expected. The woman was arrested and taken to the police station where she coolly informed the officers that she did the shooting.

At the request of many friends who were not able to attend on account of the inclemency of the weather, Mr. Westall will repeat his lecture on "The Ideal Home" on some Sunday evening in the near future.

John I. Munroe's new coal office is well underway and will be ready for occupancy soon. If we are correctly informed Mr. L. J. Lopresti will give some of his competitors in the business a chance to sell coal cheap.

Mr. J. Leathie is offering the better bargains in rubber goods than Boston dealers. He has a great variety and large stock and people in need of such goods should call at his store at once and secure favorable trades.

That is very a hand-somely lettered sign of Emerson & Goddard, insurance agents, which they have just had put over their office door on Main street. The painting was done by Slater & Danforth, and admirably done.

The Blakes stand away up towards the head among our local polo teams, it looks as though they might win the medal, and if Callahan holds his grip and keeps on playing as well as in the past we have an idea they will do so.

Mr. J. E. Cutler of Andrews, Cutler & Co., has been sick with rheumatism for a week or two past. He is better. Not being used to that sort of thing he did not take his medicine before that noble sheet of water can be made to "budge" very far from where it is now.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

W. E. Carter—Rink, 100 Main Street, Woburn, Town of Woburn; Pet. H. & L. R. H. J. Woodman—Admin. Sale, 100 Main Street, Woburn; G. R. Powell & Co.—Mis. ads.

L. H. Allen—Probate Notice.

Mrs. Magee—Wanted.

An important administratrix's sale is advertised in this paper.

J. C. Larock was injured by a fall at the City Rink last Friday.

This is a favorable time for business men to advertise in the JOURNAL.

The Advertiser thinks we have just found out about those carriage, Sho!

Mrs. Magee wants to employ some boy's knee-pants makers. See her card.

Mr. J. Leathie a change in his card this week. He is pushing the rubber trade big.

C. M. Munroe is selling the very best gent's underwear at prices that defy competition.

Patrick H. Murphy was drawn as grand jurymen at a special meeting of the Board last Monday.

Yesterday was just a lovely winter day. There couldn't be anything nicer try so hard.

There was no quorum present at the last regular meeting of the School Board, hence no business done.

Yesterday the sidewalks were slossy and the streets pretty soft. A warm sun fetches it every time.

Mann, formerly with the now ex-patriot Rumford, has joined the Natick Polo Club of which he is a valuable member.

On the whole we have had considerable winter since 1885 came in. In the matter of cold and snow it is a good average.

There are three skating rinks in Lynn only one of which any business to speak of and that is not coining wealth very rapidly.

Grammer Brothers are selling their stock including their own make, of shoes at a great discount in prices. This means business.

It would be merciful and kind for everybody to throw out crumbs from the table to the sparrows. They are having a hard time of it.

The Advertiser has been short of hands this week on account of sickness. The editor knows now how to sympathize with his neighbors.

The days have increased one hour and thirteen minutes in length which is doing pretty well considering the rough weather we have had of late.

The Woburn Brass Band serenaded their comrade, Mr. John Brauer, the other evening in royal style. He has recently taken a better half and the boys thought it nothing more right and proper to remember him with wind instruments and drums. We have been told that it was a very nice affair all round.

The Methodist church will commence their revival meetings next Sunday. The pastor will be assisted by Rev. C. L. Eastman and wife. These meetings will continue every evening probably for three weeks. All workers are earnestly invited to co-operate in these meetings. The public are cordially welcomed.

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A., held at their rooms on Monday evening the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:—President, H. Copeland; Vice-President, C. F. Lyford; Secretary, W. P. Simonds; Treasurer, Thomas Heartz, Capt. J. Henry Simonds declined a re-election to the presidency on account of poor health.

St. Valentine's Day occurs one week from tomorrow. It is noted for the great number of letters which are sent through the mails and large exchange between boys and girls of "hearts and heads" in the new ballot-boxes furnished by the Legislature in one of its spasms of reform last winter.

Nevertheless, it is proposed to add to the difficulties and perplexities already attending the exercise of the right of suffrage in this State by doing a little more tinkering this winter, so we are told.

SHOT IN THE BACK.

O'Donovan Rossa, the head dynamiter America, was shot by a female cracker in New York on Monday, but not dangerously. They were walking along together on Chambers street when the woman fell back a pace or two, out with her "gun" and let drive into Rossa's back. He yelled and fell, but was more scared than hurt as a surgical examination proved, and is now doing as well as could be expected. The woman was arrested and taken to the police station where she coolly informed the officers that she did the shooting.

At the request of many friends who were not able to attend on account of the inclemency of the weather, Mr. Westall will repeat his lecture on "The Ideal Home" on some Sunday evening in the near future.

John I. Munroe's new coal office is well underway and will be ready for occupancy soon. If we are correctly informed Mr. L. J. Lopresti will give some of his competitors in the business a chance to sell coal cheap.

Mr. J. Leathie is offering the better bargains in rubber goods than Boston dealers. He has a great variety and large stock and people in need of such goods should call at his store at once and secure favorable trades.

That is very a hand-somely lettered sign of Emerson & Goddard, insurance agents, which they have just had put over their office door on Main street. The painting was done by Slater & Danforth, and admirably done.

The Blakes stand away up towards the head among our local polo teams, it looks as though they might win the medal, and if Callahan holds his grip and keeps on playing as well as in the past we have an idea they will do so.

Mr. J. E. Cutler of Andrews, Cutler & Co., has been sick with rheumatism for a week or two past. He is better. Not being used to that sort of thing he did not take his medicine before that noble sheet of water can be made to "budge" very far from where it is now.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

W. E. Carter—Rink, 100 Main Street, Woburn, Town of Woburn; Pet. H. & L. R. H. J. Woodman—Admin. Sale, 100 Main Street, Woburn; G. R. Powell & Co.—Mis. ads.

L. H. Allen—Probate Notice.

Mrs. Magee—Wanted.

An important administratrix's sale is advertised in this paper.

J. C. Larock was injured by a fall at the City Rink last Friday.

This is a favorable time for business men to advertise in the JOURNAL.

The Advertiser thinks we have just found out about those carriage, Sho!

Mrs. Magee wants to employ some boy's knee-pants makers. See her card.

Mr. J. Leathie a change in his card this week. He is pushing the rubber trade big.

C. M. Munroe is selling the very best gent's underwear at prices that defy competition.

RUBBER GOODS HAVE TUMBLED!

Prices That Defy Competition!

Men's Woonsocket Rubber Boots, $2.75
Men's Boston Pure Gum do., 2.75
Men's Boston Pebble-legged do., 2.75
Men's Cander Rubber Boots, best quality, 2.25
Men's L. Right Rubber Boots, 2.50
Men's Pebble-legged Boots, 2.00
do. Boston Pebble-legged do., 2.00
do. Dull-finish Boots, 1.75
Youth's Woonsocket Rubber Boots, 1.50
Men's Rubber Boston or Cander, best quality, .60
Men's Rubber Bay State or Rhode Island, .50
Ladies' Rubbers, croquet style or imitation Satin, .35
National make, .35
etc., regular 50 cent Rubber, .35
Misses' Rubbers, Woonsocket, Boston or Cander make, all of which are the best quality, .30
Children's do., do., do., .25

Genuine Woonsocket Boots are stamped on the heel. Woonsocket and top of leg. Woonsocket, Babcock Co., Woonsocket, R. I. imitation are stamped on the heel. "Woonsocket Boot Co."

Also, a large stock of cloth-top, self-acting rubbers, Clogs and kick-offs. CATCH ON to these goods while we have them.

J. LEATHIE,

201 Main Street, Woburn.

Opp. JOURNAL OFFICE.

B. & L. R. R.

From Boston to Winooski 43, 7-30, 7-35, 8, 8-30, 9-35, 9-45, 10-11, 11-30, A. M., 12-30, 1-30, 2-30, 3-35, 4-40, 4-45, 5-10, 5-45, 6-15, 6-30, 7-15, 7-30, 9-30, 11-30 P. M.
From Winooski to Boston 6-00, 6-25, 6-35, 7-00, 7-30, 8-30, 9-35, 9-45, 10-15, 10-30, 11-45, A. M., 11-50, 1-50, 2-50, 2-55, 4-00, 4-55, 5-15, 5-25, 6-42, 8-40, 10-25, 10-35, P. M.
*We advise 8-00 A. M.

WINCHESTER.

It is suspected that sneak thieves are playing their vocation here. A sharp eye should be kept out for them.

There has been no complaint here lately on the score of a scarcity of snow. Within a couple of weeks we have had piles of it.

The Star has an occasional kind word for Representative Elder, which is well deserved. He is one of the "rising young men" of Winchester.

Last week Thursday Mrs. Hannah P. Locke, mother of James L. Locke of the Boston depot, died of her pneumonia. She was 77 years old, and a lady very much respected in this community.

On last Tuesday evening the officers of U. O. G. C. were duly installed by C. G. C., Charles W. Dorr of Woburn, as follows:—N. C., Thomas Dutton; N. V. C., Mrs. A. E. Rowe; K. of R. H. W. Hoyt; Prelates, Mrs. M. A. Wood, T. Alfred Coffin.

In the organization of the Democratic State Committee at the Revere House, Boston, last Saturday, Gen. J. M. Corse, a wheel-horse, was made Chairman of the Executive Committee and member of the Financial Committee. The General is crawling rapidly up towards the upper rung of the Democratic ladder.

At the annual meeting of the Congregational Church last held the following officers were elected—Deacon for six years, Harrison Parker; Superintendent S. S., Charles E. Swett; Assistant Supt. S. S., Samuel Usher; Secretary, E. H. Rice; Librarian, Henry T. Stinson; Ass't Librarian, Harry Lunt; Directors, J. H. Tyler, A. S. Hall, Mrs. Mary F. F. Smith; Treasurer, Dea. A. C. Vinton; Temperance Committee, Rev. C. R. Seymour, C. E. Swett; J. H. Tyler, J. R. Cobb.

The School Board held its regular meeting last Saturday evening. Alijah Thompson and others petitioned for new schoolhouse to be erected near the junction of Church and Bacon streets. The Superintendent was present at the meeting and represented the necessities of a speedy enlargement of the High School building. The school needs more room and alterations of accommodations. The cost of the improvements are estimated at $3,000. Young's government class book was substituted for Martin's in the High School, and Walker's Physiology for Hutchinson's. Miss Lizzie A. Burbank of the Mystic school has resigned on account of ill health. The annual report of the Superintendent was accepted and ordered to be printed.

The social gathering of the Village Improvement Association on Thursday evening of last week was a very pleasant one indeed. A large number of ladies and gentlemen were in attendance all of whom seemed to enjoy themselves remarkably well. Carter Andrews of the "Cottage House," Boston, furnished an admirable banquet, as is his custom when a carte blanche is given him, and his success, in this instance, was a subject of general and hearty praise. An hour or so was pleasantly spent at the well-laden tables, at the close of which the company were called to order by the President of the Association, S. W. Twombly, Esq., who opened the ball with a very interesting address, in which he dwelt on the good things the association had accomplished—the improved condition of our now beautiful Common, the public fountain, the planting of trees that would be a pride and glory to the village, one of these years, the fine sidewalks, and many other things—all accomplished through the influence of a live, earnest, wideawake association of citizens who were deeply interested in beautifying their public surroundings. The address was listened to with marked attention for it dealt in facts which nearly concerned every one present. Mr. E. P. Ayer sang a piece composed by Miss Carry Pond of Woburn, and there was speaking by several prominent citizens, among whom were Mr. S. J. Elder, Mr. E. A. Wadleigh, and others. On the whole the social gathering was pronounced a great success in every way, and so pleasant was it that others will probably follow in due time.

Mr. Randall is said to be waiting an opportunity to assail the Eads feature of the River and Harbor bill. He does not believe that even a Democratic Congress can afford to pass a bill which provides $8,000,000 to accomplish what for $4,000,000 is sufficient.

ADVICE FOR MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and troubled by restless child, ailing and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETH. It is a safe, simple, and pleasant preparation. One dr. Winslow's Soothing Syrup will relieve the child of its trouble, and the mother of her anxiety. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Cummings' Dry Goods House.

Reckless Mark Down!

HOSIERY BOTH COTTON AND ALL WOOL

That cost 42 to 62 cts., selling for 25 cts.
" 25 " 37 " " 20 "
" 21 to 25 " " 15 "

LACES at 25 to 60 per cent. less than cost!

DAMASK TABLE LINEN

And Towels low enough to satisfy any reasonable mind. I have seen NO such BARGAINS in the city or out.

A. CUMMINGS, 150 Main Street.

Notes and News.

In New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine Tuesday morning was the coldest morning of the season.

For some reason or other it is reported that Congress will decide to pass a vote of thanks to the Greeley polar expedition. It is said some of the thin-skinned naval officers object to it.

Gen. McClellan, it is announced, will contribute two papers to the CENTURY's series of war articles. There articles are attracting much attention on every hand and are valuable contributions to the history of the great Rebellion. The only fear is that Gen. McClellan will be a good while in getting his articles into the hands of the printers.

There is no show for the passage of a national bankruptcy bill by the present Congress. The Democrats dejected it.

Mr. Charles L. Foster has been appointed janitor of the church by the parish committee. He fills the place of Mr. J. H. Walker, who has resigned after a term of service, extending over many years.

Mr. Charles L. Foster has been appointed janitor of the church by the parish committee. He fills the place of Mr. J. H. Walker, who has resigned after a term of service, extending over many years.

President Arthur is sensible to the last. In a message to Congress respecting the gift to the nation of Gen. Grant's military and civic mementos he suggests that in recognition of his great services to the country the bill restoring Gen. Grant to the rank of General of the Army ought to pass. The nation will agree with the President in this recommendation.

Somerville has tackled the important question of dividing the city into eight wards instead of four, and things are waxing warm over it.

The Star has an occasional kind word for Representative Elder, which is well deserved. He is one of the "rising young men" of Winchester.

Last week Thursday Mrs. Hannah P. Locke, mother of James L. Locke of the Boston depot, died of her pneumonia. She was 77 years old, and a lady very much respected in this community.

One of the first things which Governor Marmaduke did after he was inaugurated Governor of Missouri was to make his brother Warden of the penitentiary.

Cleveland as "a man of destiny" is becoming a little monotonous. What chance as a lawyer did he ever win, what act as Mayor gave him renown, and what great deeds as Governor ever brought him fame? asks the Boston Journal.

St. Louis papers are asserting that there existed a ring to secure pardons in Missouri at prices ranging from a few hundred to a few thousand dollars, and that the late Governor Crittenden was arrested for the same. He is was concerned in the business.

Another of the Westminster Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

The merchant service of the world consists of 53,157 vessels, which includes 8,433 steamers. England owns 15,381 sailing ships and 5,090 steamers.

"He tried to kiss me and I just told him to behave," said an irate young lady after a科学技术 last night. "Well, did he kiss you?" asked her friend. "No, the idiot, he behaved."

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police. That is to say, a man suspected of complicity in his crime has been arrested. He may or may not have had something to do with the matter.

Another of the Westminister Hall mystery fads has been run to hole by the London police

THE LOSS OF FAITH.

When the wing of the bird is broken
The song of the bird is fled;
In its heart it is no more—
The bird, also, is dead!

For the sympathy of the shadow,
The bird the light will shun;
And the shadow will grow low,
And vanity will rise the sun.

The May and the flowers are springing
To its heart no joy will bring;
Ah! life is a bird, a winged,
And the wing of life is wing.

When the wing of the bird is broken
In its heart it is no more—
The song of the bird is fled;
And the shadow, also, is dead!

Haworth in Fis., Cottage Hearth.

The Death of Albert Sidney Johnson.

From the illustrated paper by Col. William Preston Johnston on his father and the Shiloh campaign, in February Century, we quote the following: "General Johnston was with Stratham's brigade, confronting Hurlbut's left, which was behind the crest of a hill, with a depression filled with chaparral in its front. The Confederates held the parallel ridge in easy musket-range; and as heavy fire as I ever saw during the war," says Governor Harris, "was kept up on both sides for an hour or more. It was necessary to cross the valley raked by this deadly ambuscade and assil the opposite ridge in order to drive the enemy from his stronghold. When Gen. Johnston came up and saw the situation, he said to his staff: 'They are offering stubborn resistance here. I shall have to put the bayonet to them.' It was the crisis of the conflict. The Federal army was in his front. If his assault were successful, their left would be completely turned, and the victory won. He determined to charge. He sent Governor Harris, of his staff, to lead a Tennessee regiment; and, after a brief conference with Breckinridge, whom he loved and admired, that officer, followed by his staff, appealed to the soldiers. 'As he encouraged them with his fine voice and manly bearing, General Johnston rode out from and slowly down the line. His hat was off. His sword rested in its scabbard. In his right hand he held a little tin cup, the memorial of an incident that had occurred earlier in the day. Passing through a captured camp, he had taken this toy, saying, 'Let this be my share of the spoils to-day.' It was this plaything which, holding it between two fingers, he employed more effectively, in his natural and simple gesticulation, than most men could have used a sword. His presence was full of inspiration. He sat his thoroughly-bred bay, 'Fire-eater,' with easy command. His voice was persuasive, encouraging, and compelling. His words were few; he said: 'Men! they are stubborn; we must use the bayonet.' When he reached the center of the line, he turned, 'I will lead you!' he cried, and moved toward the enemy. The line was already thrilling and trembling with that irresistible ardor which in battle decides the day. With a mighty shout the line moved forward at a charge. A sheet of flame and a mighty roar burst from the Federal stronghold.

The Confederates had withdrawn; but there was not an instant's pause. The crest was gained. The enemy were in flight.

General Johnston had passed through the oedem, seemingly unharmed. His horse was shot in four places; his clothes were pierced by missiles; his boot-side was cut and torn by a minute; but if he himself had received any severe wound, he did not know it. At this moment Governor Harris rode up from the right. After a few words, General Johnston sent him with an order to Colonel Stratham, which having delivered, he speedily returned. In the mean time, knots and groups of Federal soldiers kept up a desultory fire as they retreated upon their supports, and their last line, now yielding, delivered volley after volley as they sullenly retired. By the chance of war, a mine-bomb from one of these did its fatal work. As he sat there, after his wound, Captain Wickham says that Colonel O'Hara, of his staff, rode up, and General Johnston said to him, "We must go to the left, where the firing is heaviest," and then gave him an order, which O'Hara rode off to obey. Governor Harris returned, and, finding him very pale, asked him, "General, are you wounded?" He answered, in a very deliberate and emphatic tone: "Yes, and, I fear, seriously." These were his last words. Harris and Wickham led his horse back under cover of the hill, and lifted him from it. They searched at random for the wound, which had cut an artery in his leg, the blood flowing into his boot. When his brother-in-law, Preston, lifted his head, and addressed him with passionate grief, he smiled faintly, but uttered no word. His life rapidly ebbed away, and in a few moments he was dead.

His wound was not necessarily fatal. General Johnston's own knowledge of military surgery was adequate for its control by an extemporized tourniquet, had he been aware or regardless of its nature. Dr. D. W. Yandell, his surgeon, had attended his person during most of the morning; but, finding a large number of wounded men, including many Federals, at one point, General Johnston ordered Yandell to stop there, establish a hospital, and give them his services. He said to Yandell: "These men were our enemies a moment ago; they are prisoners now. Take care of them." Yandell remonstrated against leaving him, but he was peremptory. Had Yandell remained with him, he would have had little difficulty with the wound.

A Philanthropist.

"I tell you, this is a sudden setting in of winter," he exclaimed as he swung himself aboard of the street car and stamped the snow off his boots. "Oh, well, it's time," replied the man in the car cap as he smoked away at his cigar.

"It'll be hard on the poor."

"Well, I dunno. While it will stop some kinds of work it will render others necessary. It wasn't fifteen minutes ago that I offered a laboring man a dime to clean my sidewalks, and I have only 150 feet at that!"

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances, the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not unusual that when a person is in a cold climate, or in a cold room, to feel aches and pains, and to be uncomfortable, if there is, or can be such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first

Some Interesting Postal Notes.

Books, pamphlets and music can be sent at third-class rates.

A newspaper is not forwarded by mail unless postage is fully prepaid.

The postage on a pair of boots would be at the rate of one cent an ounce.

No valuable package should ever be mailed unless it is registered. Don't forget this.

A letter-press copy-book, with copies of written letters therein, is first-class matter.

Tea, coffee, sugar and kindred articles can be mailed at the rate of one cent an ounce.

Clothing is classed as merchandise, and can be mailed only at the rate of one cent an ounce.

Insurance policies, whether cancelled or not, are first-class matter if they contain any writing.

A book presented for mailing with a letter addressed to it would subject the entire package to letter rates.

Wedding cake can only be mailed when packed in a tin or wooden box. Confectioneries the same.

Send no cash money by mail. It is much safer and cheaper in the long run to buy a money order or postal note.

Animals, reptiles, live or dead, (not studded insects, except queen bees when safely secured) are excluded from the mails.

Matte inclosed in a sealed envelope, though the corners may be cut or the ends notched, is subject to letter rates.

Liquids, poisons, explosives and inflammable articles are not received for mailing, no matter how carefully wrapped.

You wanted to send a suit of clothes by mail which weighed six pounds, you would have to make two packages of it.

Albums photographic and autographic, are classed as merchandise, and postage is charged at the rate of one cent an ounce.

An unchained postal card is not returned to the writer, even though his address is given upon it, but is sent to the dead-letter office.

Nothing is received for mailing that weighs over four pounds, except in case of a single book, as, for example, a bible, or dictionary, or history.

Samples of ores, metals, minerals, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, nuts, etc., are also classed as merchandise, and postage charged at one cent an ounce.

Letter-heads, bill-heads and envelopes, blank or printed, are charged as merchandise, and postage must be paid at the rate of one cent an ounce.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side.

A postal card is not mailable with any writing or printing on the address side, except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to

THE WOBURN JOURNAL.

George A. Hobbs, Publisher. Office at 204 Main Street. $2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

VOL. XXXV.

WOBURN, MASS., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1885.

NO. 8.

WILLIAM W. HILL, Druggist,

Opposite the Common.

Business Cards.

MOSES BANCROFT,
SEWING MACHINES AND FINDINGS,
194 MAIN ST., WOBURN, SOLELY BLOCK

BAKED HAY & STRAW, For Sale,

214 MAIN ST., WOBURN

A choice assortment of Harnesses, Bells, Blankets
Whips, etc., constantly on hand and for sale.
19 G. F. JONES, Proprietor.

FOR Chapped Hands and Face
— USE —

Leeds's Glycerine Lotion,
THE BEST THING OUT.

WILLIAM WINN & CO.,
AUCTIONEERS.

Sale of Real and Personal Estate attended to on reasonable terms. Orders left at WOBURN JOURNAL
Office, T. H. Hill & Co's, and at H. F. Smith's Tea Rooms, 134 Main Street, Woburn, will receive prompt attention.

W. WINN, S. E. E. PRIOR.

HARDWARE.

Farming Tools & Seeds,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES.

Stoves and Kitchen Ware,
L. T. JORDAN, NO. 213 MAIN STREET

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,
Watchmaker & Optician,
No. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

219 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class
Bakery can be found.

32-49-52

W. A. REYNOLDS, DD. S.

Dental Rooms

Cor. Wm and Pleasant streets. Open evenings,
Gas and Ether administered.

Connected by telephone. No. Telephone, 549

GEORGE P. BROWN,
Dealer in —

Drugs and Medicines,

WINDSOR, MASS.

Physician's prescriptions carefully compounded,
and orders answered with care and dispatch. The public will find our store the best in town, warranted honest and of the best quality.

4-10

PIANOS TUNED FOR $1.50.

Offer by Postal Cards, which may be obtained at
S. Horton's next door to Post Office, and H. F. Smith's Tea
Rooms, Woburn. W. F. CLEMENT,
Woburn, July 15th, 1880.

41

THOMAS H. HILL & CO.,

Lyceum Building,

WOBURN, MASS.

Real Estate Agency

Fire Insurance.

Stock and Mutual Companies.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Notary Public, Justice of Peace.

TELEPHONE 7525.

Summe TIME TABLE.

North Woburn Street Railroad.

Leave Woburn at 7:00 A.M., 11:35 A.M., 12:40, 3:20, 4:35 P.M., 6:35, 7:40 P.M.

Saturdays at 8:50 P.M., 10:30, 11:30.

Leave Woburn at 6:30, 7:30, 9:00, 10:30.

Saturdays at 9:15 P.M., 10:30, 11:30.

Leave Woburn at 8:50 P.M., 10:30, 11:30.

Leave Woburn at 9:15 P.M., 10:30, 11:30.

Leave Woburn at

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1885.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, FEB. 13, 1885.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. Hutton, 193 Main Street, R. Robie, 156 Main Street, E. Cattell's, Cummingsville, J. P. Tyler's, North Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in to us at 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

CABINET GOSSIP.

As the inauguration of the new administration approaches, fluttering among leading Democratic politicians increases. It is reported that Mr. Cleveland has not so much as given out a hint of his intentions concerning a Cabinet except that Bayard is to be tendered the position of Secretary of State and the uncertainty caused by his retirement is beginning to wear on Democratic constitutions.

Judging from the character of the man it is safe to say that Mr. Cleveland had decided on nothing respecting the offices prior to his late visit to Mr. Tilden, but since that meeting took place he has been besieged worse than ever for information respecting the composition of his Cabinet.

In the mean time he is subjected to fulsome flattery from everyone who has an axe to grind either for himself or friend, a great many of whom will very likely change their tunes after the organization of the new government.

They are all hoping for something and so long as an uncertainty exists as to Mr. Cleveland's plans he will be the recipient of much laudation and sickening praise. But the agony will be over in about three weeks.

Is there a bill before the Legislature to fix a limit to municipal expenditures? It is a proper subject for legislation although its introduction, by implication, is anything but flattering to the official integrity of those who conduct the affairs of the cities and towns in the State. The tendency of the times is towards extravagance in public expenditures and large municipal debts are the rule, whereas only a few years ago they were rare. Although the bill is designed more especially for Boston there is a general demand for such a law. Boston of late years has been gradually getting into the ways of New York and her solid men and heavy taxpayers think it about time to call a halt. She has fallen into different and worse hands than those that managed her affairs a quarter of a century ago and her pockets are suffering accordingly.

The same is true of other municipalities in the State although to a less extent, hence the demand for a legal limit to expenditures and the favor with which the public regard the bill to end now before the Legislature.

Is the faith which the Boston Herald has in Mr. Cleveland as a practical political reformer is remarkable. In one whose eye teeth were cut as long ago as the Herald's were such implicit confidence is seldom found.

— If he has not already rented it Mr. Peter Kenney is negotiating for a lease of the Teane building on Main street for a tavern. The lease of his present quarters expires next spring.

— All the kinds of coal used for domestic, heating and steam purposes, of the best quality, can be bought at the live and popular office of Mr. J. B. McDonald at very low prices.

— The "Equipoise Waist," which is so highly recommended by Dr. Beard's, is kept for sale by C. A. Smith & Son. Ladies will do well to find out their price before purchasing.

— Mr. J. B. McDonald would have the public in mind that there is no concern on the B. & L. R. R. that sells coal, wood, lumber, lime, cement, hay, &c., at more favorable figures than he does.

— We have not had a much colder or more disagreeable day this winter than last Wednesday. One had to attend to business pretty close to keep warm on the lea side of the red-hot stove.

— Copeland, Bowser & Co. have a change in their card in which is told how cheap goods may be bought at their store. The figures are worthy the attention of those wishing to purchase.

— The thaw of Tuesday reached the dimensions of a flood in some parts of Maine and New Hampshire. There was a heavy body of snow for the powerful rain to operate on and it made very bad work.

— Mr. G. W. Nichols jeweler, has moved into the Allen Block where he has had a room nicely fitted up for his business. The location and accommodations are much better than those he left upon Main street.

— It would be a work of supererogation to inform our younger readers that to-morrow is St. Valentine's Day, for they all know it and a good many have already had pleasant reminders of it through the mail. In a much less degree is it necessary to tell the postoffice people that it is also the 14th of February.

— In a couple of weeks or less work will begin on moving away the buildings on the line of the Branch extension in this village. All the company are waiting for now is the favorable action of the Board of Selectmen, Railroad Commissioners, etc., whose action will be merely formal as there will be no opposition to the enterprise.

— The papers upon "Margaret Fuller Ossoli" read before the Woman's Club, Feb. 6, by Miss Lillian Whiting, of Boston, was one of the most finished essays to which the attention of that association has been called during the past year. Pre-supposing on the part of her listeners an acquaintance with the general facts that constitute the external life of her famous subject, the speaker directed the thought of the afternoon to a sympathetic but discriminating analysis of the mental and psychological endowment of that large-brained, large-souled woman. Miss Whiting is a lady of much refinement in manner and speech and skilfully presented the logical deductions of good judgment in language of fitness and power. The last announcement of the Woman's Club for the twelve months ending March 1, is an address by Mrs. Joseph Cook, entitled "Faith with Mormonism." Mrs. Cook's reputation as a thoughtful and elegant writer is not the reflex brilliancy of the fame of her popular husband, but is the inevitable verdict of a public that has heard nothing from her pen or lips save words of culture and inspiration. She will speak in the vestry of the Baptist church, Friday evening, Feb. 20, at the usual hour.

— The personal story sold last Monday by Mr. Skillings, assignee of Monroe & Newton, fetched good prices. Mr. Gay, one of the largest creditors, bought the half of it, and Mr. John J. Munroe nearly all the balance.

— The sixth anniversary meeting of the Y. M. C. A. at the M. E. Church on last Sunday afternoon was a very interesting one. There was a large attendance and much interest manifested. The speaking and music were excellent. Mr. Wm. H. How's address was listened to with marked attention and left a favorable impression. It was a real good meeting.

— At last accounts Mr. Joseph R. Green, late cashier of the Woburn First National Bank, was in Bermuda, the land of the orange and citron, the breeze and myrtle, of spice-scented breezes and health-baden sunshine, enjoying life for all it is worth. Mr. Green proposes to make himself solid on the score of health before settling down to work again.

— Hon. C. C. Couillard of Boston will please accept our thanks for a copy of the Portland Advertiser containing a scattering but racy mention of the prominent points in the checkered career of "Uncle Rufus Hatch," and also an obituary notice of the late Hon. Abram Sanford published in a Bangor paper. To both we might, if so disposed, make interesting additions.

— Rev. Fr. Murphy and James Maguire, Esq., of this place were included in the list of distinguished guests at the Charity Ball given in Music Hall Boston, last Monday evening, for the benefit of the Home for Destitute Catholic Children. The ball was a very brilliant affair there being many notable ladies and gentlemen in attendance, including members of the Boston City government, and prominent residents of many suburban towns. The reporters of the morning papers were agreed in this, that it was the handsomest dressed party that has assembled in the city this winter.

— Last Monday morning 75 men went out of the curving establishment of Robert Duncan near No. Warren street on a strike. A cut down of about 10 per cent was announced when the strike took place forthwith. Of course the men know their business better than we do, but to an outside observer a strike at this season of the year with the business at a low ebb does not appear to be wise or for the best interests of the workmen.

— It is said that occupants of houses purchased by the Railroad Co. for the extension that the Centre have been notified that their exit about the first of March would be agreeable to the Company. Which means business.

— The third annual meeting of the National Women Suffrage Association of Massachusetts will be held in the Meionian, Boston, on the evening of the 18th and the afternoon and evening of the 19th of February, Miss Susan B. Anthony to be the chief speaker.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

J. L. Munroe and Co.
W. E. Newton & Co.
E. D. McDonald & Co.
W. H. How & Son, Co.
Boston Post Co.—Post.
J. G. Bowser & Co.—Post.
Edward Simonds' Collector's Sale.

— The meeting of the School Board will be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 24.

— Valentines will keep our post-office clerks busy next Wednesday.—Advertiser. Why?

— There were 361 births in this town in 1884, against 215 deaths—natural gain in population of 146.

— A few days since Mrs. Timothy Wynn of this village fell on the ice in Boston and broke one of her wrists.

— It is said that occupants of houses purchased by the Railroad Co. for the extension that the Centre have been notified that their exit about the first of March would be agreeable to the Company. Which means business.

— Mr. Cutler of the firm of Andrews, Cutler & Co., is once more at his post. He was pretty sick for two or three weeks.

— The engineers of the B. & L. R. Co. have been out here this week making surveys for the track of the extension.

— Leave your orders at the office of J. B. McDonald for anything and everything kept in a first class coal and lumber yard.

— Rev. H. A. Westall, by request, repeats his lecture on "The Ideal Home" Sunday evening in the Unitarian church.

— Our friend Jones reached Iowa just in season to be struck by the biggest snow storm on record. It may delay his return home.

— Hardly ever see shoshier or more disagreeable getting around than it was last Tuesday. There was really no comfort in going about.

— There were no sessions of school on Tuesday. The youngsters were unable to reach their school houses through the snow and slush.

— The skaters at Newton's City Rink were treated to hot coffee last Wednesday evening, which kind favor will be repeated for a few days.

— John F. McGovern received an injury in E. Cummings' & Co's tannery last Friday which resulted in the necessity of amputating one of his feet.

— Wednesday night was a sharp one and yesterday morning was not at all like summer. From which it appears we are still having weather.

— The Glenwood "B" range is sold at Jenkins' hardware store. He says they give universal satisfaction. They are the best ranges we have seen lately.

— If the thaw had lasted another day the No. Woburn street railway would have found its tracks, but as it is they still lie quietly under the snow.

— Petitions are in circulation asking the Legislature to reduce and restrict telephone charges. A hearing before a committee of the Legislature will take place next Tuesday.

— The last entertainment in the Mishawum course will be given on March 3, and will consist of a dramatic performance for which the proper preparations are being made.

— If he has not already rented it Mr. Peter Kenney is negotiating for a lease of the Teane building on Main street for a tavern. The lease of his present quarters expires next spring.

— The Selectman will give a hearing on the petition of the Boston & Lowell Railroad Company for permission to extend the Woburn Branch through the town on next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the rooms of the Board. All persons interested will do well to be present at the hearing.

— Mr. Shute, who is superintendent of a large foundry at Everett, is, we are glad to know, still a resident of this friendly and pleasant town of Woburn. And that reminds us of something: Why would it not be a very excellent plan, in view of the boom which our place is bound to receive from building the extension, for Mr. Shute and some other men with money to establish a foundry of large dimensions here? The one we now have does a good business and if its capacity was increased many fold, or if another large one should be built, they would have their hands full of work and make money. Such establishments are sure to get plauds early and the companies that get plauds will take the pelmum. We throw out this thought for the candid consideration of enterprising men of means.

— On Wednesday morning the thermometers indicated a temperature of zero—cold enough for all practical purposes. Tuesday night was rough and windy, the cold increasing in intensity right along until morning and when people emerged from their warm nests they found things frosty and rough.

— It is said that Messrs. F. L. White, tanners of glove, imitation goat and split leather chiefly, were struck by the High street houses, Boston, and in consequence thereof have become embarrassed. They employed about 50 hands, and did a good business. It is probable they will be on their feet again soon.

— The Woburn Coal Co., Mr. E. D. Newton, agent, will occupy the coal office recently vacated by Monroe & Newton, 104 Main street, where the business will be continued by them. They are prepared to furnish all kinds of coal for steam and domestic purposes at market prices. Please give the new company a call.

— It would be a work of supererogation to inform our younger readers that to-morrow is St. Valentine's Day, for they all know it and a good many have already had pleasant reminders of it through the mail. In a much less degree is it necessary to tell the postoffice people that it is also the 14th of February.

— In a couple of weeks or less work will begin on moving away the buildings on the line of the Branch extension in this village. All the company are waiting for now is the favorable action of the Board of Selectmen, Railroad Commissioners, etc., whose action will be merely formal as there will be no opposition to the enterprise.

— The papers upon "Margaret Fuller Ossoli" read before the Woman's Club, Feb. 6, by Miss Lillian Whiting, of Boston, was one of the most finished essays to which the attention of that association has been called during the past year. Pre-supposing on the part of her listeners an acquaintance with the general facts that constitute the external life of her famous subject, the speaker directed the thought of the afternoon to a sympathetic but discriminating analysis of the mental and psychological endowment of that large-brained, large-souled woman. Miss Whiting is a lady of much refinement in manner and speech and skilfully presented the logical deductions of good judgment in language of fitness and power. The last announcement of the Woman's Club for the twelve months ending March 1, is an address by Mrs. Joseph Cook, entitled "Faith with Mormonism." Mrs. Cook's reputation as a thoughtful and elegant writer is not the reflex brilliancy of the fame of her popular husband, but is the inevitable verdict of a public that has heard nothing from her pen or lips save words of culture and inspiration. She will speak in the vestry of the Baptist church, Friday evening, Feb. 20, at the usual hour.

— The personal story sold last Monday by Mr. Skillings, assignee of Monroe & Newton, fetched good prices. Mr. Gay, one of the largest creditors, bought the half of it, and Mr. John J. Munroe nearly all the balance.

— The sixth anniversary meeting of the Y. M. C. A. at the M. E. Church on last Sunday afternoon was a very interesting one. There was a large attendance and much interest manifested. The speaking and music were excellent. Mr. Wm. H. How's address was listened to with marked attention and left a favorable impression. It was a real good meeting.

— At last accounts Mr. Joseph R. Green, late cashier of the Woburn First National Bank, was in Bermuda, the land of the orange and citron, the breeze and myrtle, of spice-scented breezes and health-baden sunshine, enjoying life for all it is worth. Mr. Green proposes to make himself solid on the score of health before settling down to work again.

— Hon. C. C. Couillard of Boston will please accept our thanks for a copy of the Portland Advertiser containing a scattering but racy mention of the prominent points in the checkered career of "Uncle Rufus Hatch," and also an obituary notice of the late Hon. Abram Sanford published in a Bangor paper. To both we might, if so disposed, make interesting additions.

— Rev. Fr. Murphy and James Maguire, Esq., of this place were included in the list of distinguished guests at the Charity Ball given in Music Hall Boston, last Monday evening, for the benefit of the Home for Destitute Catholic Children. The ball was a very brilliant affair there being many notable ladies and gentlemen in attendance, including members of the Boston City government, and prominent residents of many suburban towns. The reporters of the morning papers were agreed in this, that it was the handsomest dressed party that has assembled in the city this winter.

— Last Monday morning 75 men went out of the curving establishment of Robert Duncan near No. Warren street on a strike. A cut down of about 10 per cent was announced when the strike took place forthwith. Of course the men know their business better than we do, but to an outside observer a strike at this season of the year with the business at a low ebb does not appear to be wise or for the best interests of the workmen.

— It is said that occupants of houses purchased by the Railroad Co. for the extension that the Centre have been notified that their exit about the first of March would be agreeable to the Company. Which means business.

— Smith & Son advertise black silks this week which the ladies should make a note of. They will also please bear in mind that Smith & Son are selling the same kind of goods at less than Boston prices. That is a fact; why go to the city, then?

— Hon. A. E. Thompson has rented rooms at Mr. Ober's house on Canal street. We suspect he has his eye on a good, fat office under the Cleveland administration, and if so we will get it for he is well known and popular with all over the State.

— Leave your orders at the office of J. B. McDonald for anything and everything kept in a first class coal and lumber yard.

— Rev. H. A. Westall, by request, repeats his lecture on "The Ideal Home" Sunday evening in the Unitarian church.

— Our friend Jones reached Iowa just in season to be struck by the biggest snow storm on record. It may delay his return home.

— Hardly ever see shoshier or more disagreeable getting around than it was last Tuesday. There was really no comfort in going about.

— Several patrons of polo went down to Haverhill last Tuesday night to witness the game between the Woburns and Haverhill which resulted in a victory for the latter club three goals to two. Our boys must sprout up if they propose to secure the medal.

— The Woburn Coal Co., have opened up the old stand of Monroe & Newton, 104 Main street, with Mr. E. D. Newton, agent, when they propose to do some business. It is a responsible company, and Mr. Newton will make a good agent for it.

— Our friend Mr. Daniel H. Richards recently gave one of his演说 at the Woburn Club in Fraternity Hall under the auspices of the United Order of Pilgrim Fathers.

— We suppose there is more real, genuine fun in the exhibition of this famous Boston humorist—dear, unobjectionable fun—in myriad else-where. At the same time Miss Bertha W. Bryant will appear in her petite recitations which of itself is a first class entertainment. The tickets are only 15 cents, to be procured at the usual places.

— On Thursday next evening, Feb. 19, Mr. Warren G. Richards will give one of his very popular entertainments in Fraternity Hall under the auspices of the United Order of Pilgrim Fathers.

— We suppose there is more real, genuine fun in the exhibition of this famous Boston humorist—dear, unobjectionable fun—in myriad else-where. At the same time Miss Bertha W. Bryant will appear in her petite recitations which of itself is a first class entertainment. The tickets are only 15 cents, to be procured at the usual places.

— Officer Bryan McSweeney made a call last Monday and though still weak from his late severe illness is getting on so well that he hopes to resume his place on the force next week. He was taken down with pneumonia on Jan. 24, and was officially pronounced dead. The officers installed are—Clas, R. Rosenquist, T. D. J.; John A. Schlesinger, F. O. T.; Cleas H. Svenson, O. T.; Gustaf Olsen, V. T.; Swan Ekmek, S.; Emil Ness, F. S.; Carl Peterson, K.; Peter Peterson, Sk.; John A. Svenson, M.; Aug. Johnson, I. W.; Peter Anderson, Y. W. After the installation an entertainment was given for the members and their invited friends consisting of music, singing, reading, recitation, etc., which closed with refreshments of coffee, cake, fruit and other toothsome things. More than 100 Scandinavians were present. The largest assembly of Scandinavians ever seen in Woburn, and all were very much pleased with the evening. In conclusion a few words about the Scandinavian Temperance Association:—The Scandinavian Temperance Association is only 4 months old in this town, but during this short time it has reached to 16 members and has made a great deal of good among this class of people. New names are added every week; several families in town are blessing the day, when the Association began its work, and it is hoped, that in the future more good shall be accomplished than ever, and that the members will find a strong enemy to their cause.

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1885.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, FEB. 20, 1885.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. Horton, 195 Main Street, B. Robie, 186 Main Street, E. F. Cutters, Cummingsville, J. P. Tyler's, North Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All Advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

THE RAILROAD HEARING.

Pursuant to notice the Selectmen in Woburn granted a hearing to the Boston and Lowell Railroad Company last Monday afternoon on their petition for permission to construct the Woburn Branch extension through the town.

The hearing was held in the rooms of the Board at which all the members were present except Hayden, Read and Hau. The Railroad Company were represented by Mr. J. F. Crockett, Superintendent of the Southern Division of their lines. Many prominent citizens and a few reporters were present. W. V. Kellen, Esq., appeared, not officially, but as an interested member of the Permanent Committee.

At the close of an interesting discussion and statement of facts the Board gave their unanimous decision in the following act:—

Voted, That the Selectmen agree with the Directors of the Boston & Lowell Railroad Company and fix the route as shown on a plan agreed by Isaac M. Storey, civil engineer, dated June 4, 1884.

As soon as a hearing has been given the Company by the County Commissioners and the Railroad Commissioners and the consent of the same to proceed with the work has been obtained, which will require about thirty days, active operations on the extension will begin. Already arrangements have been made with Woburn parties to remove the buildings on the line of the road through the Centre.

Some important facts were elicited from Mr. Crockett at the hearing concerning the design of the Company in building the extension. Doubts have existed in the minds of many of our people as to whether their purpose was to make it the main line of the B. & L. R. R. or only a make-shift, a little stern-wheel affair, to be used in cases of emergency, and propitiate the people of Woburn. Mr. Crockett settled this question and removed all doubts on the subject. He declared most emphatically that his instructions from the Directors are to proceed just as soon as the permits are obtained to construct a double-track road from Wilmington to Woburn Centre, beginning at the first named place, which instructions it is his intention to follow in letter and spirit. When the extension is completed to this link between Woburn and Winchester it will be double-tracked. Mr. Crockett says the intention of the Company is to run all the Lowell and northern trains and a portion of the Lawrence ones over this road, which will afford us all the rapid transit we can reasonably ask for.

Thus has the matter been settled to this point, and in the course of four weeks work will begin on the extension.

A BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS.

Henry O. Marey, M. D., of Boston, "Secretary of the Committee" etc., asks for the editorial aid of the JOURNAL in securing the passage of an act now pending before the Legislature to establish a Board of Medical Examiners in the State of Massachusetts. A copy of the bill accompanied the doctor's request. The principle involved in the measure meets our cordial approbation. It is a step in the right direction. Many States have like Boards in all of which they work well and are found beneficial; Public protection from quack doctors demands such a Board as is contemplated by this bill, or something like it. It is bad enough to die under "skilful treatment," but to be hustled out of the world through ignorance of the first principles of medicine is something that ordinary mortals cannot contemplate without a shudder.

While the movement for a State Medical Board has our hearty endorsement the bill now under legislative consideration is open to some serious objections. The framing of it seems to be defective in places and needs more careful attention. As it stands it looks like a tender to a medical college rather than an honest effort to protect the sick against the murderous assaults of a small army of empirics who go roaming up and down the earth seeking whom they may devour. But perhaps a closer study of the bill might change or materially modify this view of its merits.

At any rate, the step, as before remarked, is in the right direction, and as the proposed law is not in the interest of any particular "school" of medicine, but is intended for the general good, its enactment ought not to be seriously opposed by any member of the Legislature.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE.

The friends of female suffrage do not find it all plain sailing in the Legislature. Quite a formidable opposition to a change in the organic law of the State has recently appeared at the front from whom strong remonstrances have been received and who propose to sharply contest the matter. Without such opposition it is not at all likely that the present conservative and more than ordinarily wise Legislature would take the necessary steps for submitting the question to the people, but the remonstrants do not propose to put their trust in princes or let their cause go by default. They are going to look after the business personally and make sure that the women of the State shall stay where they are so far as voting is concerned if the constitution can keep them there.

BIENNAL ELECTIONS.

This subject is making progress in the Legislature and if those who believe in it will give a hearty pull together we shall have the satisfaction of seeing the question of biennial elections submitted to the people next fall. Of course the proposition meets with strong opposition from a few interested parties, but if the Legislature will only give the voters a chance at it annual elections in this Commonwealth will be speedily numbered with the things that were.

LOOKING OVER THE FIELD.

The special Washington correspondent of the Boston Post sent the following respecting our townsmen, Mr. Hayden, which was published on Tuesday morning in that paper:—

Congressman-elect Hayden of Woburn is here, with Mrs. Hayden, and intend to remain for about two weeks. To-day Mr. Hayden, chaperoned by Congressman Morse, appeared upon the door of the house, and was introduced to prominent representatives.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

W. E. Carter—Rink, J. H. Marney—Coal, J. F. Read—Coal, J. R. McDonald—Coal, Woburn Coal Co.—Coal, Woburn Coal Co.—Coal, Thompson & Saxon—Linen, Mishawum Club—Entertainment, W. H. Marney—Sewing, Chas. Robinson, Jr.—Probate Notices.

Mr. Mark Allen is going to publish another Woburn Directory soon.

Mrs. Thomas Reddy who lives on Walnut street fell and broke her left arm this week.

Last Saturday a lad while playing polo near Jefferson Avenue fell and broke his left arm.

Stroke 22 on the fire alarm at 5:30 p. m. means that there will be no evening school on that evening.

John Shinkwin, one of our liquor dealers, is insolvent. His liabilities are $4,500, and assets not stated.

Mrs. Patty Hatch and daughter of Wells, Maine, are the esteemed guests of the Editor's family this week.

Haynes & Fisher are finishing up a very fine double harness for the new Hook and Ladder truck. It will be a shiner.

It was as cold as blue blazes again yesterday and sleighing all that the most exacting lover of rime-riding could ask for.

Mr. Charles P. Buckley has received the appointment of driver of the new Hook and Ladder truck, which appointment is a first rate one.

Our old friend, Mr. O. Rich, longs to get away from Brooklyn and back to Woburn where he spent so many pleasant years of his life.

This morning Mr. F. S. Burgess opened another of his very successful special sales which like former ones we have no doubt will cause a rush at his store.

Mr. J. W. Bedell, a skillful and experienced artist, has opened a photograph gallery at 202 Main street where he will make first class pictures at low prices.

Geo. W. Nichols, the well-known watch-maker, has moved into the Allen Block where he has a very nice room for his business. Nichols is a No. 1 watch-repairer.

Bear in mind that the last entertainment in the Mishawum Club course is to be given in Lyceum Hall on Tuesday evening, March 3. For particulars see advertisement.

At the annual meeting of the Baptist church held on last Tuesday evening the following were elected Deacons of the church: F. S. Burgess, D. B. Merrill, G. H. Gould.

Last Wednesday was Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent. This means 40 days of fast, which will not interfere with the arrangements of the folks down our way any.

H. E. Strout wants some good, live, active agents to canvass this and neighboring towns who can make satisfactory terms with him by calling at his art gallery over Dodge's jewelry store.

Leighdon and Wilkesbarre "Black diamond" coal may be new to some, but not to us; we have had them for sale a great many years and still have them. Please call and examine.—J. B. McDonald.

A new industry has recently been developed in the West. An esteemed exchange in that region says: "H. J. Livermore has rented the Alf Perry place with a view of carrying on dry farming."

We are receiving from the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., coal direct by their steamers, and in the same large quantities as to the very lowest prices.—J. B. McDonald.

A large auction sale of household furniture, beddings, pictures, etc., will take place at the late residence of Hon. A. E. Thompson on Pleasant street this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Messrs. William Wm. & Co., auctioneers.

We take pleasure in calling public attention to the fact that Mr. Sparrow Horton of the Woburn Bookstore has on his counters Harper's Magazine for March and all other popular periodicals of the day for that month.

We do not hesitate at all to assure the people of this place and neighboring ones that the dramatic entertainment to be given as the final of the Mishawum Club series will be a very fine one indeed. Have the goodness to look over the announcement in another column.

The Advertiser says the value of the ice crop from Horn Pond this season will not fall short of $300,000. D. B. Morrill, and Goodrich & Nichols have each stored 5000 tons, and the Boston Ice Co. have cut about 100,000.

There was a violent rain storm on Monday night accompanied with a high wind which in some parts of New England took on the proportions of quite a destructive gale. It cleared off in the night, and Tuesday was cold enough to freeze the hair off from a dog.

Next Sunday is the anniversary of Washington's birthday. Just what will be done about observing it, we mean as respects time, we cannot positively say. The boys and girls will probably manage to work in some celebration somewhere.

Mr. John F. McGovern, a member of the Board of Selectmen, and those who believe in it will give a hearty pull together to the people next fall. Of course the proposition meets with strong opposition from a few interested parties, but if the Legislature will only give the voters a chance at it annual elections in this Commonwealth will be speedily numbered with the things that were.

THE RAILROAD HEARING.

Pursuant to notice the Selectmen in Woburn granted a hearing to the Boston and Lowell Railroad Company last Monday afternoon on their petition for permission to construct the Woburn Branch extension through the town.

The hearing was held in the rooms of the Board at which all the members were present except Hayden, Read and Hau.

The Railroad Company were represented by Mr. J. F. Crockett, Superintendent of the Southern Division of their lines.

Many prominent citizens and a few reporters were present.

W. V. Kellen, Esq., appeared,

not officially, but as an interested member of the Permanent Committee.

At the close of an interesting discussion and statement of facts the Board gave their unanimous decision in the following act:—

Voted, That the Selectmen agree with the Directors of the Boston & Lowell Railroad Company and fix the route as shown on a plan agreed by Isaac M. Storey, civil engineer, dated June 4, 1884.

As soon as a hearing has been given the Company by the County Commissioners and the Railroad Commissioners and the consent of the same to proceed with the work has been obtained, which will require about thirty days, active operations on the extension will begin. Already arrangements have been made with Woburn parties to remove the buildings on the line of the road through the Centre.

Some important facts were elicited from Mr. Crockett at the hearing concerning the design of the Company in building the extension. Doubts have existed in the minds of many of our people as to whether their purpose was to make it the main line of the B. & L. R. R. or only a make-shift, a little stern-wheel affair, to be used in cases of emergency, and propitiate the people of Woburn. Mr. Crockett settled this question and removed all doubts on the subject. He declared most emphatically that his instructions from the Directors are to proceed just as soon as the permits are obtained to construct a double-track road from Wilmington to Woburn Centre, beginning at the first named place, which instructions it is his intention to follow in letter and spirit. When the extension is completed to this link between Woburn and Winchester it will be double-tracked. Mr. Crockett says the intention of the Company is to run all the Lowell and northern trains and a portion of the Lawrence ones over this road, which will afford us all the rapid transit we can reasonably ask for.

Thus has the matter been settled to this point, and in the course of four weeks work will begin on the extension.

A BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS.

Henry O. Marey, M. D., of Boston, "Secretary of the Committee" etc., asks for the editorial aid of the JOURNAL in securing the passage of an act now pending before the Legislature to establish a Board of Medical Examiners in the State of Massachusetts. A copy of the bill accompanied the doctor's request. The principle involved in the measure meets our cordial approbation. It is a step in the right direction. Many States have like Boards in all of which they work well and are found beneficial; Public protection from quack doctors demands such a Board as is contemplated by this bill, or something like it. It is bad enough to die under "skilful treatment," but to be hustled out of the world through ignorance of the first principles of medicine is something that ordinary mortals cannot contemplate without a shudder.

While the movement for a State Medical Board has our hearty endorsement the bill now under legislative consideration is open to some serious objections. The framing of it seems to be defective in places and needs more careful attention. As it stands it looks like a tender to a medical college rather than an honest effort to protect the sick against the murderous assaults of a small army of empirics who go roaming up and down the earth seeking whom they may devour. But perhaps a closer study of the bill might change or materially modify this view of its merits.

At any rate, the step, as before remarked, is in the right direction, and as the proposed law is not in the interest of any particular "school" of medicine, but is intended for the general good, its enactment ought not to be seriously opposed by any member of the Legislature.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE.

The friends of female suffrage do not find it all plain sailing in the Legislature. Quite a formidable opposition to a change in the organic law of the State has recently appeared at the front from whom strong remonstrances have been received and who propose to sharply contest the matter. Without such opposition it is not at all likely that the present conservative and more than ordinarily wise Legislature would take the necessary steps for submitting the question to the people, but the remonstrants do not propose to put their trust in princes or let their cause go by default. They are going to look after the business personally and make sure that the women of the State shall stay where they are so far as voting is concerned if the constitution can keep them there.

—Martin and Jacob M. Ellis have, or will have, so Mr. Crockett said, the contract for moving all the buildings on the line of the R. R. extension through the Centre, and better men for a master and matron of the Almshouse for the coming year to the Almshouse Committee of which Mr. John Ferguson is Chairman and Clerk. And that was all.

—The Advertiser says the value of the ice crop from Horn Pond this season will not fall short of $300,000. D. B. Morrill, and Goodrich & Nichols have each stored 5000 tons, and the Boston Ice Co. have cut about 100,000.

—There was a violent rain storm on Monday night accompanied with a high wind which in some parts of New England took on the proportions of quite a destructive gale. It cleared off in the night, and Tuesday was cold enough to freeze the hair off from a dog.

—Next Sunday is the anniversary of Washington's birthday. Just what will be done about observing it, we mean as respects time, we cannot positively say. The boys and girls will probably manage to work in some celebration somewhere.

—The Railroad Hearing.

Pursuant to notice the Selectmen in Woburn granted a hearing to the Boston and Lowell Railroad Company last Monday afternoon on their petition for permission to construct the Woburn Branch extension through the town.

The hearing was held in the rooms of the Board at which all the members were present except Hayden, Read and Hau.

The Railroad Company were represented by Mr. J. F. Crockett, Superintendent of the Southern Division of their lines.

Many prominent citizens and a few reporters were present.

W. V. Kellen, Esq., appeared,

not officially, but as an interested member of the Permanent Committee.

At the close of an interesting discussion and statement of facts the Board gave their unanimous decision in the following act:—

Voted, That the Selectmen agree with the Directors of the Boston & Lowell Railroad Company and fix the route as shown on a plan agreed by Isaac M. Storey, civil engineer, dated June 4, 1884.

As soon as a hearing has been given the Company by the County Commissioners and the Railroad Commissioners and the consent of the same to proceed with the work has been obtained, which will require about thirty days, active operations on the extension will begin. Already arrangements have been made with Woburn parties to remove the buildings on the line of the road through the Centre.

Some important facts were elicited from Mr. Crockett at the hearing concerning the design of the Company in building the extension. Doubts have existed in the minds of many of our people as to whether their purpose was to make it the main line of the B. & L. R. R. or only a make-shift, a little stern-wheel affair, to be used in cases of emergency, and propitiate the people of Woburn. Mr. Crockett settled this question and removed all doubts on the subject. He declared most emphatically that his instructions from the Directors are to proceed just as soon as the permits are obtained to construct a double-track road from Wilmington to Woburn Centre, beginning at the first named place, which instructions it is his intention to follow in letter and spirit. When the extension is completed to this link between Woburn and Winchester it will be double-tracked. Mr. Crockett says the intention of the Company is to run all the Lowell and northern trains and a portion of the Lawrence ones over this road, which will afford us all the rapid transit we can reasonably ask for.

Thus has the matter been settled to this point, and in the course of four weeks work will begin on the extension.

A BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS.

Henry O. Marey, M. D., of Boston, "Secretary of the Committee" etc., asks for the editorial aid of the JOURNAL in securing the passage of an act now pending before the Legislature to establish a Board of Medical Examiners in the State of Massachusetts. A copy of the bill accompanied the doctor's request. The principle involved in the measure meets our cordial approbation. It is a step in the right direction. Many States have like Boards in all of which they work well and are found beneficial; Public protection from quack doctors demands such a Board as is contemplated by this bill, or something like it. It is bad enough to die under "skilful treatment," but to be hustled out of the world through ignorance of the first principles of medicine is something that ordinary mortals cannot contemplate without a shudder.

While the movement for a State Medical Board has our hearty endorsement the bill now under legislative consideration is open to some serious objections. The framing of it seems to be defective in places and needs more careful attention. As it stands it looks like a tender to a medical college rather than an honest effort to protect the sick against the murderous assaults of a small army of empirics who go roaming up and down the earth seeking whom they may devour. But perhaps a closer study of the bill might change or materially modify this view of its merits.

At any rate, the step, as before remarked, is in the right direction, and as the proposed law is not in the interest of any particular "school" of medicine, but is intended for the general good, its enactment ought not to be seriously opposed by any member of the Legislature.

—The Railroad Hearing.

REMISSED.

All headlines of the world, in its own ill-
Advised and ill-contrived, the last line, while the day
And dark seen but alike, no single ray
Or hopeful light breaks through, its grief to still.
Dull, heavy, leaden, like a cloud, it hangs,
Or bitter pain which holds in it such sway
Seems a sweet sign that death is near, may
But the world is filled with inconceivable skill
The mind takes note of all. Keenly the ear Hears the low murmur of the world, and we See every pattern on the wall, each line
Lies upon the brain in figures fine.
Long, long, the day, the quiet still,
A sight, a sound, the old hard pain is here.
—Harper's Magazine.

An Account of the Middlesex Canal.

IN TWO PARTS.

PART SECOND

Probably the most interesting part of Prof. Vose's account of the canal to the general reader is his description of THE ROUTE.

Commencing at the Merrimac River in Chelmsford, at a point just above the present "Middlesex" station of the Nashua and Lowell railway, the canal ascended through a connected flight of three stone locks, the location of which may plainly be seen by the deep depression on the line of the canal between the hotel and the railway, and directly in front of a small house, which was formerly the canal office. Passing under the Main street at Middlesex village, and over an aqueduct across Black Brook, it continued across the long swamp to River Meadow Brook, and thence to Billerica Mills, where it entered the Concord river mill-pond through a stone guard lock, which is still standing in the yard of Governor Talbot's mill. The tow-path was carried across the pond on a floating bridge or raft, and the canal, passing out through another guard lock just south of the road, continued on to Shawsheen River, which was crossed by a wooden trunk about 10 feet long, supported by two abutments, and a pier of stone. This masonry is still to be seen directly below the common road, and from its considerable height must have been one of the most imposing works upon the line. Half a mile further south was Nichols' lock, and a mile and a half further Gillis' or Jacques' lock.

About two miles further, and near the Poor Farm in Wilmington, the canal crossed Maple Meadow Brook, and made an abrupt bend called the Ox-Bow. A mile further south the canal entered the town of Woburn, running along close to the west side of the traveled road, passing under it near Wilson's tavern, running a little east of the village of North Woburn, crossing the road nearly in front of the Baldwin Place, and continuing through the western part of Woburn village, passing in the rear of the present public library, it soon after reached the site of one of the chief engineering features on the route, the Horn Pond or Stoddard's locks.

At this point the canal made a descent of 50 feet by three sets of double locks, the middle set being separated from that above and below by a basin-like expansion or widening of the canal, by which the draft of water by locking was equalized. Half a mile further, and just south of the crossing of the outlet stream from Horn Pond, was a stone lock, and a mile and a half further, and just north of Abbot's River, were Gardner's locks, which were double.

From this point the canal ran close along the shore of Medford Pond, passed through the fine grounds of Peter C. Brooks, where there is still standing a handsome elliptic stone arch bridge, and the road over the canal, and directly afterward the aqueduct over Mystic River. The present highway bridge rests on the piers of the old aqueduct, which have been built up to suit the grade of the present road.

From this point the canal turned east, passing under the Lowell Railroad (though the canal was built first). The wing walls of the way under the railway may still be seen cropping out of the embankment, and the bed of the canal is quite plain to the eastward of the railroad for some distance. Just in front of the old Royal House the canal passed under the road, now called Main street, and at this point a side or branch canal, about a fourth of a mile long, with a lock and a basin at the upper end and a lock at the lower end, led to the river, passing under the old Medford turnpike, and entering just below the bridge. This branch was used for transferring ship timber to Mystic River.

From this point the canal followed very nearly the base of the highland, passing through what is now the Mystic Trotting Park, at the southwest corner of which it plainly seen, then running to the sharp bend in the river at the old toll-house, it turned to the south and passed nearly through the middle of what is now Broadway Park, curved around to the base of Mt. Benedict (Ploughed Hill of Revolutionary times) and, crossing under Medford turnpike just at the foot of the present Austin street, to the north of which the bed may still be traced by the willows that grow along the bank, it reached a lock just east of the old road over Malden Bridge, and, curving around, passed the present locations of the Boston & Maine depot now stands, Canal Street being directly alongside of it. Hale's Map of Boston shows the old mill pond filled up, except the canal, which extended from Causeway street to Haymarket Square, and which was buried over at Causeway and Traverse streets. This part of the canal was connected with the harbor, near what is now North Market street, by a waterway which followed nearly the present line of Blackstone street, and was large enough for canal boats, and was bridged over at Hanover and Ann (North) streets. It was through this passage that nearly all the stone for Quincy market, which came over the Middlesex Canal from Concord, N. H., was brought. The passage by Mill Creek is shown on Carleton's Map (1800).

TRAFFIC.

The traffic, which was mostly freight, was carried in flat-bottomed boats, with a rectangular midship section reduced a little toward the ends. By the regulations of the canal, boats were required to be not less than 40 feet nor more than 75 feet long, and not less than 9 feet nor more than 9 1/2 feet wide. Each boat was drawn by one horse, the towing line being attached to a short mast, which was placed a little ahead of the center. The crew consisted of one man to drive and one to steer, except in the case of boats running up to Merrimac River, which had one man to steer and two to pole. These boats carried from 16 to 30 tons, and drew about 2 1/2 feet when loaded. Freight boats were required to make 2 1/2 miles an hour, and passenger boats 4 miles. Boats of the same class going in the same direction were not allowed to pass. The usual time for freight-boats between Boston and Lowell was about 18 hours for the passage up and 12 hours coming down, and for passenger boats 12 hours going up and 8 hours coming down.

These last, which were called packets, were shaped much like the present Erie Canal boats, and had a covered cabin extending the whole length, excepting a small standing room at each end for working the boat. At first there were two of these packets, one running down daily; but this not proving profitable, one was taken off, the remaining one running up one day and down the next. A horse could draw 25 tons on the canal as easily as one on the common road. Coal, salt, slate, raw cotton and imported goods were brought to the interior, while lumber, wood and country produce came to the city. A great many rats of lumber and large quantities of ship timber were brought down the canal, a single yoke of oxen drawing no less than 100 tons, a load which would have required 80 teams on the common road. These rats were 50 feet long and 9 feet wide, and were generally united into "bands" of from seven to ten rats. The company's charter allowed a toll of one-sixteenth of a dollar per mile for every ton of goods carried in the boats, and the same for every ton of timber floated in rats. The actual rates ranged from $1 to $2 per gross ton for the 27 miles from Boston to Lowell.

The Old Liberty Bell.

The old bell which Philadelphia has sent to the New Orleans Exposition has a noteworthy history, apart from the one great deed which gave it world-wide fame.

In 1751, the Pennsylvania Assembly (a Quaker convocation, under the rule of the Penns) authorized a committee to buy a bell for the State House. In the letter sent by this committee to Robert Charles of London, ordering the bell, are these words:

"Let it be cast by the workman and examined carefully before it is shipped, with the following words, well-shaped in large letters, around it: 'By order of the Assembly of the Province of Pennsylvania for the State House in the city of Philadelphia, 1752.' And underneath, 'Proclaim liberty through all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof.'

As Philadelphia and the province governed by Penn was at that time literally the only spot in the world where absolute religious freedom prevailed, there was a singular pertinence and significance in this inscription.

On the arrival of the bell it was hung, and rung to try the sound, but, having been badly cast, it cracked on the first stroke of the clapper. The good Quakers then resolved to re-cast it themselves, which they accordingly did in 1753.

In 1777, when the British threatened Philadelphia, it was removed to the little Moravian town of Bethlehem for safety. Even then, the people who were fighting so hard for their freedom invested with a kind of sacredness the bell which had rung out to proclaim liberty, not only to this land but to all the nations of the world who should seek shelter here.

It was broken several years later, and has since occupied a place in the old State House at Philadelphia, next to the room in which the Declaration was signed that made us a free people.

It has not been sent under a guard of honor by Philadelphia to the city of New Orleans, on a mission of good-will and friendship. If it will help to restore peace and brotherly feeling between the people of the two sections, and to remind them that they are one nation with the same heroic past, surely never before was metal cast for a nobler work.

Keeping House.

Many young couples make a great mistake during the first months of their married life. They start house-keeping up to the very top of their incomes, and when the inevitable little expenses come, a deficit is the natural result.

When Darby and Joan marry, the safest plan for them to adopt is to live on two-thirds of their weekly income and save the rest. This plan, at any rate, should be adopted during the earlier portion of matrimony's checked experience.

Every dollar saved is a dollar which will, in all likelihood, prove more than useful when the usual rainy day makes its appearance, which it is certain to do sooner or later.

If husband and wife, however, in their own several ways, have discounted the dread visits of passing privations by a little self-denial, the sacrifices of other days will make succeeding months pleasant. A penny saved is a penny gained, and what is gained in this way is likely money of the best and brightest description.

There are 20,000 producing oil wells in Pennsylvania, yielding at present 60,000 barrels of oil a day. It requires 5000 miles of pipe line and 1600 iron tanks of an average capacity of 25,000 barrels each to transport and store the oil and surplus stocks.

An analysis of railroad accidents compared with the amount of travel tends to show that if a person were to travel ten hours a day at a speed of 10 miles an hour during every day in the year, he would probably be killed at the end of 1,835 years.

A properly developed full-grown man weighing 154 pounds ought, according to Prof. Huxley, to consume daily 5,000 grains of lean beefsteak, 6,000 grains of wheats, 7,000 grains of milk, 3,000 grains of potatoes, 600 grains of butter, and 22,000 grains of water.

When vessels or timber sink to great depths in the ocean the pressure is so great that water is forced into the pores of the wood and it becomes too heavy to rise again. Even when a ship is broken up the detached portions sink like lead. This pressure makes it impossible for divers to descend to any great depth.

"My dear," she said, as she laid the paper down, "I see that some of the Chicago fire engines could scarcely be moved on account of the snow."

"Well?" "Well, why don't they put the engines on runners when there is snow?" "They would then be too low to take water from the hydrants."

"Yes; but why not lower the hydrants?" He set his jaws and refused to be further interviewed.

"Are those men undertakers?" asked a gentleman, pointing to two individuals whose faces wore a most melancholy expression. "Oh, no; one is an architect and the other is a plumber," replied his friend. Just then a third party, with an intense look of grief on his countenance, joined the other two. "Surely he must be an undertaker?" "Wrong again; he's a snow shovel manufacturer."

Chicago boy—Pop why do the papers call Chicago a wicked city?

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

Chicago boy—"No, indeed. Why is it?"

Chicago boy—"Because they bribe to do it by those wicked St. Louis people."

THE WOBURN JOURNAL.

George A. Hobbs, Publisher. Office at 204 Main Street. $2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

VOL. XXXV.

WOBURN, MASS., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1885.

NO. 10.

Many dollars are being saved by careful housekeepers in coloring over Ribbons, Feathers, Dress Goods, etc., with DIAMOND DYES.

We carry a full assortment and our sales have increased wonderfully. We give a list of them and you will notice the variety, compared with the few colors obtainable in our grandmother's days.

Yellow, Dark Brown, Crimson, Maroon, Dark Green, Scarlet, Burnt Umber, Terra Cotta, Orange, Plum, Green, Dark Blue, Seafoam, Olive Green, Pink, Dark, Magenta, Navy Blue, Garnet, slate, Magenta, Black, Dark Wine, Purple, Gold, Dark Wine.

Also the special Dyes for Cotton—Blue, Scarlet, Yellow, Cardinal, Bronze and Gold Paint.

WILLIAM W. HILL, Druggist,
Opposite the Common.

Business Cards.

MOSES BANCROFT,
SEWING MACHINES AND FINDINGS,
101 MAIN ST., WOBURN, SOLE'S BLOCK

CENTRAL HOUSE

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable,

BALED HAY & STRAW, For Sale.

212 MAIN ST., WOBURN

A choice assortment of Harnesses, Blankets

Whips, etc., constantly on hand and for sale.

19 G. F. JONES, Proprietor.

FOR

Chapped Hands and Face

— USE —

Leeds's Glycerine Lotion,

THE BEST THING OUT.

WILLIAM WINN & CO.,

AUCTIONEERS.

Sale of Real and Personal Estate attended to reasonable terms. Offers left at Woburn Auction Office, T. H. Hill & Co., and at H. F. Smith, Tea Store, 154 Main Street, Woburn, will receive prompt attention.

W. H. WINN.

E. PRIOR.

HEDWIRE,

Farming Tools & Seeds,

PAINTER'S SUPPLIES,

Stoves and Kitchen Ware,

L. THOMPSON,

NO. 213 MAIN STREET

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

No. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

219 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

store can be found.

32-33-52

W. A. REYNOLDS, DD. S.

Dental Rooms

Cor. Main and Pleasant streets. Open evenings.

Gas and water administered.

22-23

Connected by Telephone: No. Telephone, 7549

GEORGE P. BROWN,

DRUGGIST IN

Drugs and Medicines,

Antidruggist's Sundries.

WINCHESTER, MASS.

Physicians' prescriptions carefully compounded, and orders answered with care and dispatch. The public will find our stock of medicines complete, warranted genuine, and of the best quality.

60

PIANOS TUNED FOR $1.50,

Order by Postal Cards, which may be obtained at

S. Horton's next door to Post Office, and at Dr. Store, Woburn, Mass.

Stock, Winchester.

W. F. CLEMENT,

Woburn, July 15th, 1884.

11

THOMAS H. HILL & CO.,

Lyceum Building,

WOBURN, MASS.

Real Estate Agency

Fire Insurance.

Stock and Mutual Companies.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Notary Public, Justice of Peace.

TELEPHONE 7525.

SUMMER TIME TABLE.

North Woburn Street Railroad.

Horse cars leave No. Woburn at 6:00, 7:00, 8:25,

9:45, 11:35 A. M., 12:45, 2:20, 4:35 & 4:40, 6:35, 7:40 P. M.

Leave Woburn Centre at 6:30, 7:30, 9:00, 10:35

A. M., 12:35, 1:25, 3:30, 5:05-10, 7:35, 8:10, M.

Saturdays at 9:15 P. M.

DEXTHER CARTER, Sup't.

CHAS. D. ADAMS,

Law and Insurance Office,

(FIRE AND LIFE)

NOTARY PUBLIC.

131 Main St., Woburn. Office hours, 7 to 9 P. M.

Boston office, 23 Court Street.

PICTURE COPYING.

If you have a small, old or faded picture, which you wish enlarged and finished, send it to us, and we will copy it in the finest and most artistic manner. We will copy it for a very low price, call on or address Mr. S. A. Grammer, 100 Broad Street, Woburn, Mass. All kinds of picture frames on hand, and made to order on short notice. All work was done.

30-52

S. A. GRAMMER,

(Successor to Grammer Bros.)

Manufacturer and dealer in Men's Boys', Ladies'

Misses' and Children's

Ladies' Button Boots of the famous KODDODI stock formerly known as DONGOLI, New York.

All goods warranted, and prices low.

For particular attention given to custom work.

For Building, one P. O., Woburn, Mass.

MANURE

for sale cheap, at BRYANT & KING's Woburn

Mass.

George A. Hobbs, Publisher. Office at 204 Main Street. $2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

WOBURN, MASS., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1885.

1885.
JANUARY. FEBRUARY. MARCH.

During these three months to reduce our stock and to make room for spring goods, we shall offer some of the

GREATEST BARGAINS IN

Furniture, Carpetings, Stoves, Rugs,
BLANKETS, COMFORTERS, &C., &C.

110 BLACK WALNUT MARBLE TOP CHAMBER SETS.

Former Prices from $30 to $200. OUR PRICES NOW FROM $14 to $20.

100 ASH CHAMBER SETS.

Former Prices from $30 to $150. OUR PRICES NOW FROM $27 to $145.

85 PAINTED CHAMBER SETS, ALL STYLES.

Former Prices from $16 to $35. OUR PRICES NOW FROM $14 to $45.

CARPETINGS, All Grades, at a discount of ten per cent. from previous to Jan. 1st. Parlor Stoves, Ranges, and Cooking Stoves, (all makes), at prices to suit every one. Blankets and Comforters in great variety and all prices.

Also our large stock of all kinds of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS which must be sold during the Winter months.

All our Great Bargains for Cash or on Easy Terms of Payment.

No. 151 Hanover Street, Boston.

W. P. B. BROOKS & CO.

ALEX. D. DAMON. FRED. D. SPERRY.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

First (Trin.) Congregational. Main street, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

North (Trin.) Congregational. Main street, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

First Baptist. Main street, corner of Main and Elm, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

First Methodist Episcopal. Main street, corner of Main and Elm, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

Methodist Mission Chapel. Montvale Avenue, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

Montvale, Rev. Wm. Kelloway, pastor.

First Universalist. Main street, corner of Elm and Elmwood, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

Unitarian Chapel. Minuteman street, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

First Trinity Episcopal. Main street, opposite Frank Devlin, Rev. J. F. Peabody, rector, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

All Nations. Main street, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

Roman Catholic. St. Charles, corner of Main and Elm, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

Methodist. Main street, pastor of Canisius, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

Montvale, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., pastor.

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1885.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, FEB. 27, 1885.

The JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. H. Hovey, 109 Main Street; R. Hobin, 156 Main Street; E. Cutters, Cummingsville, J. P. Tyler's, North Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot and at G. F. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

THE INAUGURATION.

Next Wednesday the inauguration of President Cleveland will take place at Washington, and on the same day the administration of the affairs of the Nation will pass from Republican to Democratic hands. That the change will be a costly one to the Nation we have no doubt, but the dye is cast, and it would be worse than folly to give way to vain regrets. Mr. Cleveland has been declared the people's choice for President and in less than a week from now he will be duly installed as head of the government for four years to come. The Republican party have held sway continuously for almost a quarter of a century and the record they have made in that period is one which they and the Nation have reason to be proud of. That party put down the greatest rebellion that history gives, any account of, saved the Union, and placed the country on a footing with other nations that commands the respect and confidence of the greatest as well as the least of them.

The inauguration is going to be a stupendous and exceedingly brilliant affair if reports from Washington can be relied on. The Democracy are coming up in huge masses from all points of the compass and already an army of them have pitched their tents on the field to make sure of seeing the sights. Many who will be there never saw a Democratic president, but the men who will occupy front places around the stand are those who have been voting for Gen. Jackson ever since his first inauguration and have an eye on public plunder. There will be no end to military companies, although the Democrats are not noted in this line, civic societies, brass bands, banners, and people, and the whole will wind up with the grandest inauguration ball ever given at the White House.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS.

A few days ago John P. Crane, Esq., Representative in the Legislature from this town, made an argument before the House Committee on Labor in favor of compulsory weekly payments of wages to employees in manufacturing establishments.

If Mr. Crane believes in that way it was right and proper that he should make an effort to have his views on the subject adopted by the Committee and Legislature. He is a large leather manufacturer here and employs in the business a great many men. For some time he has practised weekly payments and gave the Committee the result of his observation, which he said was highly satisfactory to employer and employee. He would on no account go back to the system of monthly payments still adhered to by a large share of the manufacturers in the State.

We believe with Mr. Crane that weekly payments of wages would be the best for all concerned. But at the same time we do not subscribe to the doctrine that the Legislature has a right to conduct the private affairs of citizens and run the individual business of this Commonwealth. It used to be true that when parties made a bargain it had to stand, but bargains now-a-days must have the sanction of the Legislature else they are null and void. The State is assuming too much power; it is disposed to meddle too much in private matters; it would curtail personal rights further than there is any need of, and exercise a general supervision over affairs with which they have legitimately no concern. The contract made between parties of sound mind ought to be allowed to stand, and it should be competent for employers and employees to stipulate the amount of wages and when they should be paid. Mr. Crane and the Legislature are disposed to think differently.

WORK IN THE LEGISLATURE.

On Tuesday last the resolve providing for biennial elections in this State was adopted by a vote of 158 to 55 by the House. This was a piece of work which will command the approbation of the people. For some reason or other the Woburn member voted against the resolve and thus put himself on record as opposed to giving the voters of the State an opportunity to express their opinion concerning the matter of biennial elections. Why he should vote to deprive the people of this privilege is not easily understood.

Another important measure was set forward a step in the House last Tuesday and on this our Representative, Mr. Crane, voted right. We allude to the law compelling proprietors of rum shops, except, taverns, to close their places at 10 o'clock in the evening and remain closed until 6 o'clock in the morning, which was passed to a third reading by a respectable majority. Many amendments were offered and dilatory pleas put in by the friends of rum-sellers, but they were all voted down and a third reading of the bill was ordered. Our objection to the bill is the exception it makes of innholders. That virtually renders it nugatory in practice, for all the person who wants to sell rum has got to do is to obtain a license to keep a tavern and he can sell until the cows come.

But all the same, our Representative is entitled to credit for his manly stand on the question and his sympathy for the temperance cause, to which he gives expression on all proper occasions.

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

Last Saturday the completion of the Washington monument was celebrated at Washington and on the same day the administration of the affairs of the Nation will pass from Republican to Democratic hands. That the change will be a costly one to the Nation we have no doubt, but the dye is cast, and it would be worse than folly to give way to vain regrets. Mr. Cleveland has been declared the people's choice for President and in less than a week from now he will be duly installed as head of the government for four years to come. The Republican party have held sway continuously for almost a quarter of a century and the record they have made in that period is one which they and the Nation have reason to be proud of.

In the celebration last Saturday Massachusetts was highly considered. The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, the oldest in the United States, having been in existence close on to two hundred and fifty years, was given the post of honor in the procession; Robert C. Winthrop was the orator; and Hon. John D. Long was delegated to read the oration, the physical condition of Mr. Winthrop being such as to prevent him from performing that duty or attending the celebration.

Though the weather was very cold and disagreeable the affair was pronounced a great success.

GRADE CROSSINGS.

There is a bill before the Legislature to prohibit the future building of railroads across roads and streets in this State at grade. We do not know whose brain should have the credit of originating the idea, but the owner of it must be a great deal more wise than wise, and besides is no friend to the prosperity of the Commonwealth. If the bill should become a law it would put an end to all railroad building and the business would stop where it is. It is absurd in theory and can never be made to work practically if the construction of railroads in this State is to be continued. Ours is a country of hills and hollows and roads have got to be laid out and made to conform with that fact and the idea that they must run over or under every highway, street or lane they come in contact with is ridiculous. It is said the notion is borrowed from the English, and if so that is a good reason why it should not be adopted in this country.

We should hope the Woburn members of the Legislature would oppose this foolish and impractical measure.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION.

The friends of temperance have not much to hope for from the present Legislature. They have made movements towards strengthening the present liquor laws and adding something new to the code, but their efforts have not met with much success so far, nor are they likely to. Some things asked for were not conceived in the highest degree of wisdom, notably that rum should not be sold within four hundred feet of certain places mentioned, but if the requests of the temperance people had been the very embodiment of good sense the result would have been the same—leave to withdraw. Legislatures must be educated up to the popular standard before anything can be hoped for from them.

The tussle in the Illinois Legislature over the election of a United States Senator to succeed Gen. Logan presents about the same complexion that has been worn by it for some weeks past. From this distance it looks like the longest kind of a deadlock that will not be easily or soon broken. Whenever a ballot occurs Gen. Logan receives the full Republican vote, but Morrison, his chief competitor, was at last accepted by the Senate.

During the season of Lent religious services will be held in St. Charles church every Wednesday and Friday evening at half past seven o'clock.

Mr. Amos Cummings asks the people to call at his store and see how cheap he is selling cotton cloth, hosiery, table linens and other domestic goods.

There is talk of the Illinois Legislature to the highest seat in the State government next fall. The idea is sensible one. Gov. Robinson's occupancy of it has placed him well towards the front in the line for the United States Senate and it seems but reasonable and the proper thing to do to send the Lieut. Gov. a step higher.

The Democrats claim the failure of the Republicans in the Oregon Legislature to elect a United States Senator as a Democratic victory. This may be true, but they are not entitled to very much credit for winning it.

The Six Odd Associates of Arlington will give their fifth annual masquerade in the Town Hall of that town on the evening of March 4th. Any Odd Fellows of Woburn who should attend would be sure of a warm reception and an elegant time.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.
J. L. Munroe—Coal.
W. H. Smith—Books.
E. D. Newson—Bank.
J. H. McDonald—Coal.
W. H. Smith—Books.
JOURNAL OFFICE—Wanted.
A. Cummings—"Important."
T. H. Hobin—Books.
County Com'ts—Pet. B. & L. R. R.
Merchants Adv'y Agency—Anthony.

Read the card "Wanted" in this paper.

Mr. Amos Cummings deals largely in dry and domestic goods.

Please peruse the card of Counsellor Adams in this paper.

The Governor has fixed on April 2nd for a public fast in this state.

In point of weather yesterday was as lovely as anything could possibly be.

J. B. McDonald leads in the coal business having everything used in that line.

Copeland, Bowser & Co., again advertise some great bargains in their store.

Very fine lot drinks can be procured at the popular drug store of Fred Leeds.

We have received the annual report of the Mass. Total Abstinence Society.

Munroe is selling gentlemen's furnishing goods at prices that defy competition.

Mr. W. W. Hill discourses on Diamond Dyes in this issue of the Journal.

There was a slight snow fall on Wednesday which was a relief after so much cold.

Mr. Amos Cummings is giving better bargains than any other store in cotton goods of all kinds.

J. B. McDonald has full stocks of coat, wood, lumber, hay, cement, lime, and salts at bottom figures.

Mr. Leonard W. Parks, manager at Freeman's, fell and injured his right leg last Wednesday.

Bear in mind the entertainment by the Mishawum Club next Tuesday evening. It will be a fine thing.

Rev. H. A. Westall will give the last lecture in his course Sunday evening, his subject being "Divorce."

Yesterday's warm sun was one too many for sleighing in our streets, and it was pretty much disappeared.

Duncane's currying shop is running full handed, the places of the strikers having been filled by other workmen.

Mr. Thomas H. Hill is selling tickets to European countries by popular routes very cheap. Give him a call.

Dr. J. H. Conway entertained at his residence last Wednesday evening.

The heirs of the late John McGovern will receive $3,000 which was the amount for which his life was insured.

John L. Munroe keeps every kind of coal used in this market, all of which he is selling at prices to suit customers.

No doubt Lyceum Hall will be crowded next Tuesday night to witness "Still waters run deep" by the Mishawum Club.

J. B. McDonald keeps and sells at popular prices all the kinds of coal used for domestic, steam and heating purposes.

Mr. J. Leathé, 261 Main street, is having the biggest kind of a trade in rubber boots and shoes. He sells very cheap indeed.

Children's Valentine Matinee Saturday afternoon, with music. Admission 5 cents. Skates 10 cents. Woburn City Rink.

During the season of Lent religious services will be held in St. Charles church every Wednesday and Friday evening at half past seven o'clock.

Mr. Amos Cummings asks the people to call at his store and see how cheap he is selling cotton cloth, hosiery, table linens and other domestic goods.

Several Woburn people attended the Washington monument celebration last Saturday. They brought back enthusiastic reports of the grand affair.

Clerk Johnson of the District Court has been visiting New Hampshire this week, and Mr. Edward Simonds has been clerk of Court pro tem.

Members of the Somerville city government came to Woburn last Monday to see our fire alarm gong work. It can be heard all over eastern Massachusetts.

People who buy wood, coal, hay, lumber &c., of J. B. McDonald, say there is no fair man to deal with in America than he is. Leave your orders with him.

Last Wednesday gave the sleighing a little the toughest twist it has had this season. The water ran downstream in rivulets big enough to float the American canary.

The loss of two overcoats at the High School some days since seems to go to prove that there are thieves about. They will not be likely to make another haul at that place.

Thanks for the complimentary to the fifth ball masque of the Six Odd Associates of Arlington to be given in the Town Hall of that beautiful village on the evening of March 4th proximo.

Mr. Gardner, so we hear, gave a handsome per cent of the proceeds of his exhibition of "Joseph and his brethren" at the Congregational church to the Sunday school, which was very generous.

We have an idea that Woburn's Representative and Senator have too much good sense to vote for the grade crossing bill now before the Legislature. Their constituents do not approve of the measure.

Tomorrow evening Gilead Hook & Ladd Company will give a reception at the H. & L. house in honor of their new trustee. We have an idea to think it about time to have an overhauling of the Board, and put some better timber into it.

The Six Odd Associates of Arlington will give their fifth annual masquerade in the Town Hall of that town on the evening of March 4th. Any Odd Fellows of Woburn who should attend would be sure of a warm reception and an elegant time.

The burning of Mrs. Doherty's hen-coop in Cummingsville on Monday evening called out the firemen but did not give them much work. The chief damage was the death of a nice bunch of choice poultry.

Mr. B. T. H. Porter, the insurance agent, and Miss Bouteille were united in the holy bonds of wedlock yesterday morning. They will please accept the congratulations of the Journal and its best wishes for their future peace and prosperity.

Mr. H. F. Davis, book-keeper at Freeman's machine shop, was hit in the eye by a scale from a piece of iron the other day and has to get along with one of those useful organs. The injury to the eye will not be permanent.

John Parker has joined the Woburn polo team. The boys are trying to strengthen themselves for the medal. They were beaten again by the Brockton City at Brockton last Wednesday evening. Will Kenney was referee.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Selectmen to approve bills, etc., will be held next Tuesday afternoon. All persons holding demands against the town will take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Mr. Hubbard Copeland, of the firm of Copeland, Bowser & Co., of Woburn, Stoneham and Reading, started yesterday for New Orleans to take in the world's fair now in tolerably successful operation in that city. We trust he will enjoy all of it and to the highest notch.

From one of the reports of the Woman Suffrage convention held in Boston last week we clip the following concerning one of the JOURNAL's reporters:—Mrs. Martha Sewall Curtis was the first speaker, and "Answered Some Objections" in an exceptionally bright manner. She recognized that the strongest objections to woman suffrage came from woman herself, and called upon all true hearted women to help the cause, asking where could be found a greater work of freedom than that which promised freedom to one-half the human race.

The Bay State Club, which is a Democratic organization to the backbone, indulged in their regular monthly dinner at the Parker House on Monday. The gathering was large, and they say in campaign times, enthusiastic. There were present from this town, Capt. J. P. Crane, Thomas H. Hill, James Maguire, Dr. George P. Bartlett, and Thomas Salmon. The following Woburn gentlemen were elected members of the Club: Jacob A. Hahn, James Skinner, Lincoln Emerson, James Maguire, Capt. John P. Crane, and Daniel W. Bond of North Woburn.

The petition of the Boston & Lowell R. R. Company to the County Commissioners to permit a road to cross streets in Woburn and Wilmington in extending their Woburn Branch, with the order of the Commissioners thereon, is published in this issue of the JOURNAL.

It will be seen that the hearing will be on the 27th of March. After this the Railroad Commissioners will have their say, and the work will begin on the extension in good earnest. The forums and ceremonies of the law must be complied with, and in this case it will only be forms and ceremonies.

The Woburn Coal Co. have put up a big sign at their office—the old stand of Munroe & Newton—which even those who run may read. Mr. Newton agent for the Company, is supporting this community with all kinds of the very best coal in the market at prices which nobody finds any fault with.

Dr. J. H. Conway entertained at his residence last Wednesday evening.

The heirs of the late John McGovern will receive $3,000 which was the amount for which his life was insured.

John L. Munroe keeps every kind of coal used in this market, all of which he is selling at prices to suit customers.

No doubt Lyceum Hall will be crowded next Tuesday night to witness "Still waters run deep" by the Mishawum Club.

J. B. McDonald keeps and sells at popular prices all the kinds of coal used for domestic, steam and heating purposes.

Mr. J. Leathé, 261 Main street, is having the biggest kind of a trade in rubber boots and shoes. He sells very cheap indeed.

Children's Valentine Matinee Saturday afternoon, with music. Admission 5 cents. Skates 10 cents. Woburn City Rink.

During the season of Lent religious services will be held in St. Charles church every Wednesday and Friday evening at half past seven o'clock.

Several Woburn people attended the Washington monument celebration last Saturday. They brought back enthusiastic reports of the grand affair.

Clerk Johnson of the District Court has been visiting New Hampshire this week, and Mr. Edward Simonds has been clerk of Court pro tem.

Members of the Somerville city government came to Woburn last Monday to see our fire alarm gong work. It can be heard all over eastern Massachusetts.

People who buy wood, coal, hay, lumber &c., of J. B. McDonald, say there is no fair man to deal with in America than he is. Leave your orders with him.

Last Wednesday gave the sleighing a little the toughest twist it has had this season. The water ran downstream in rivulets big enough to float the American canary.

The School Board held their regular monthly meeting at the Woburn High School last Friday evening to witness the League game between the Woburns and the Framers. The audience was large, and the game was well contested.

Attention is called to the card of E. & H. T. Anthony & Co., of New York herein published. There are very few people in this country who have not heard of the firm. The occasion of it

THE HOUSE OF LOVE.

It stood with windows open to the light;
And all the winds can laughing through the halls;
Set in such splendor on the world's glad heights,
A house of love, a house of love, a house of love;
Or sun and moon its bower had no need,
Like the fair bride, Jerusalem, above,
For love, for love, for love, for love;
This blessed legend writ, "The House of Love."

Once, in the dawning of a summer day,
Death's glorious angel stood beside the door
And said, "The world is but a dream;
There can be no sense of waves along a shore;
And love, with fearless eyes that looked afar,
Arose, and said, "I am a dream;
Filling the dark with radiance, like a star.
That shone through purple mist above the sea;

He came no more, but, with a noiseless tread,
A new sweet stranger to the threshold stood,
Upon his brow he wore a weary look;
And filled the house with dreams that shook the world.

Whispered his tender words from morn till night,
Told with fond tears his story sweet and brief;
Sat in the sun, put on his garments bright,
Smiled with his smile, let me not love me!

Deaths of the Presidents.

In a late letter I told you something of the last days of the presidents, but I omitted to say much as to their deaths. We have preserved the last words of some of them. John Adams and Thomas Jefferson both died on the same day, and that the 4th of July, 1826. They were friends during their later years, and Adams' last words were, "Thomas Jefferson still lives," but his story shows that he was mistaken. Jefferson had died an hour before, exclaiming, "Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace," and "I resign my soul to God," and my daughter to my country." John Quincy Adams gave his last breath in the capitol at Washington, saying, "This is the end of earth, I am content," and General Harrison, who died in the White House, said, "Sir, I wish you to understand the principles of government. I wish them carried out. I ask nothing more."

Garfield's last reported words, as he lay packed by his terrible wound, were, "Oh, that pain!" But Lincoln became unconscious when he was shot and remained so till he died. George Washington was sick during his last hours, he spent them in arranging his affairs. He told his wife to bring two which he had made and to burn one of them. He then grasped his pulse with one hand and counted the beats until he dropped back dead. Washington died of a cold. Polk of the cholera, Andrew Johnson of paralysis, and Gen. Harrison of cold, pleurisy and cholera morbus.

President Jackson was for 31 years a disabled man, and the latter part of his life was spent in almost continuous pain. Even on his death bed he was tortured by office-seekers. His deathbed scene was a most affecting one. A half an hour before his death his children and friends were standing around his bedside, and his adopted son Andrew had taken his hand and whispered in his ear: "Father, how do you feel? Do you know me?"

"Know you? Yes, I should know you all if I could see. Bring me my spectacles."

These were brought and put on him, and he said: "Where is my daughter and Marian? God will take of you for me. I am God's. I belong to him. I go but a short time before you, and I want to meet you all, white and black, in heaven."

At this all burst into tears, and the General said: "What is the matter with you my dear children? Have I alarmed you? Oh, don't cry. Be good children, and will all meet in heaven."

These were Jackson's last words. A short time after this he passed peacefully away. He died a Christian and a Presbyterian.

Thomas Jefferson was more of deist than anything else, and when he died he said he would be glad to see a preacher who called "a good neighbor," thereby intimating that he did not care to see him professionally. There was no preacher present at Washington's deathbed and there is no doubt as to his belief. The two Adamses believed in Unitarian doctrines, and it is said that John Quincy Adams, during his last years, never went to sleep without repeating that little child's prayer:

Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take.

There is considerable doubt as to Lincoln's Christianity, but his best friends believe him to have been a believer. He was certainly a great Bible reader, and understood it thoroughly. Frank Pierrepont was an Episcopalian and a church member. Generals Grant and Hayes attended the Methodist church while in the White House, and Garfield spent his Sundays at the Chapel of the Disciples. John Tyler was, I think, a Presbyterian, though his second wife was a Catholic. Dolly Madison was an Episcopalian, whatever her husband may have been, and the old church which she attended years ago still stands, and in it President Arthur worships today.—Cleveland Leader.

Proud to Call Himself a United States Farmer.

Senator Williams, of Kentucky, is proud to call himself a farmer, and he thinks there is no higher, honorable calling. He is a staunch friend of the agriculturists, and during his term has done vigorous battle for every measure that has come before the Senate for their benefit or relief. He says: "After all, give me the country raised boy. The boy who runs barefooted and stubs the nails off his toes and gets stone bruises on his heels grows up in the simple, unaffected ways of life which make him the better man."—Washington Star.

Biliousness.

It is very prevalent at this season, the symptoms being bitter taste, breath, offensive, tongue-coated, sick headache, drawstrings, diarrhea, loss of appetite, etc. It is for this last ten months presented your Emulsion, to patients suffering from lung troubles, and they seem to be greatly benefited by its use.

A Tribute to Woman.

A woman may fret and chafe because the pudding is overdone, or get her nerves all into a snarl if her husband happens to bring home company to dinner unexpectedly, but when it comes to wrapping up a sore finger she stands at the top of the heap, with a mien free of vinegar and a touch lighter than day.—Chicago Ledger.

Do not delay, but bear in mind that consumption often begins with a neglected cold or cough. Adamson's Botanic Balsam wins the day in curing coughs and colds. Price 55 and 75 cents. Trial bottles 10 cents.

No matter whether bonnets have little birds on them or not, the amount of bill is always the same.

A Man Must be at the Throttle.

When a locomotive rolled up to an early East Tennessee town, and the engineer, who was a man of small stature, got down to "oil around" two mormoneers looked at the engine for the first time; they examined it critically, were lost in admiration, thought it was "a big thing," but as one of them sized up the little engineer, he remarked: "It don't take much of a man to run her, does it, Jim?"

But he didn't know—it does look easy—a boy might stand on the footboard, open and shut the throttle; but, Jim, it does take a good deal of a man to stand there all through the hours of day and night, to know all the grades of the road, where he "must make her red-hot and pull her wide open" to get to the top of the hill and where to "short her off and let her roll." It does take much of a man to read the gauge, and know if the water is low or if there is plenty; to know when she is working easily, or laboring hard; to feel her pulse, as it were, as he stands in his place, and tell whether all is well; and then, if she "lets down," it does take much of a man to know just what to do to disconnect and block her up.

It does take much of a man to know there is a stretch of track to take a long look ahead or over, around curves, to watch the track for anything that may be in the way, and if there should be a tree, a rock, or a broken rail, or a misplaced switch—then there must be a man at the throttle, one who has the nerve to do any act quickly, one who has brains to think with, and a strong arm to act with who loses sight of himself and thinks of those behind him, all unconscious of the danger. It will take a man then Jim, to apply the brake to "threw her over and give her steam."

There is the gauge to watch and the water; the track must be watched and the signals—see if they are red or green. It is watch, watch, all the time, think and remember every figure on the time card and the mile post and the station, and the yellow tissue paper the telegraph man gave him at the last station—verily, eternal vigilance is the price of life! Yes, Jim, it does take much of a man to run her.—The Pointer.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," for Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Troubles, 15c. Liquid, 25c.

"Rough on Rats."

Chears out rats, mice, moths, flies, ants, bed-bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, 15c. Druggists.

"Rough on Bats."

Chears out rats, mice, moths, flies, ants, bed-bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, 15c. Druggists.

"Rough on Corns."

Ask for "Rough on Corns," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Pain."

Ask for "Rough on Pain," 15c. Private, Diphosporous, Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Rough on Corns."

Ask for "Rough on Corns," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hand or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," 15c. Quick,

THE WOBURN JOURNAL.

George A. Hobbs, Publisher. Office at 204 Main Street. $2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

VOL. XXXV.

NO. 11.

Many dollars are being saved by careful housekeepers in coloring over Ribbons, Feathers, Dress Goods, etc., with DIAMOND DYES.

We carry a full assortment and our sales have increased wonderfully. We give a list of them and you will notice the variety, compared with the few colors obtainable in our grandmother's days.

Yellow, Dark Brown, Cardinal, Cardinal, Violets, Dark Green, Pinks, Purple, Dark Blue, Brown, Olive Green, Blues, Magenta, Black, Olive, Dark Wine, Purples, Old Gold, Black, Dark Wine,
Also the special Dyes for Cotton—Blue, Scarlet, Yellow, Cardinal, Bronze and Gold Paint.

WILLIAM W. HILL, Druggist,
Opposite the Common.

Business Cards.

MOSES BANCROFT,
SEWING MACHINES AND FINDINGS,
101 MAIN ST., WOBURN, SOLE'S BLOCK
CENTRAL HOUSE

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable,
HALF HIRE & STRAW, FOR SALE,
212 MAIN ST., WOBURN

A choice assortment of Harnesses, Belts, Blankets
Whips, etc., constantly on hand and for sale.
G. F. JONES, Proprietor.

FOR

Chipped Hands and Face
—USE—
Leeds's Glycerine Lotion,
THE BEST THING OUT.

WILLIAM WINN & CO.,
AUCTIONEERS.

Sale of Real and Personal Estate attended to on reasonable terms. Offers left at WOBURN JOURNAL
Offices, E. H. Hill & Co., and at H. F. Smith's Tea
Shop, 101 Main Street, Woburn, will receive prompt attention.

WILLIAM WINN, S. E. PRIOR.

HARDWARE.

Farming Tools & Seeds,

PAINTER'S SUPPLIES,

SISTERS AND KITCHEN Ware,

L. THOMPSON, NO. 213 MAIN STREET

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

No. 223 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

219 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class
Bakery can be found.

324-592

W. A. REYNOLDS, DD. S.

Dental Rooms

Car, Winn and Pleasant streets. Open evenings.

Gas and Water administered.

Connected by telephone: No. Telephone, 549

GEORGE P. BROWN,

—DEALER IN—

Drugs and Medicines,

and other Doctor's sundries.

WINCHESTERS, 120, MASS.

Physician's prescriptions carefully compounded

and orders answered with care and dispatch. The public will find one stock of medicinal complete warehouses genuine and of the best quality.

— 16 —

SNOW & EARLE, Providence, R. I.

PIANOS TUNED FOR $1.50,

Order by Postal Cards, which may be obtained at

S. Horton's next door to Post Office, and H. F.

Smith's Tea Store, Woburn, and at Brown's Drug

Store, Woburn.

W. F. CLEMENT,

Woburn, July 10th, 1880.

— 11 —

THOMAS H. HILL & CO.,

Lyceum Building,

WOBURN, MASS.,

Real Estate Agency

Fire Insurance.

Stock and Mutual Companies.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Notary Public, Justice of Peace,

TELEPHONE 7225.

CHAS. D. ADAMS,

Conseiller-at-Law, Notary Public.

Past due claims collected, mortgages negotiated,

titles examined, legal papers drawn up, etc., etc.

Term reasonable.

Boston Office: 25 Court Street,

Evening Office: 16 Main Street, Woburn.

SUMMER TIME TABLE.

North Woburn Street Railroad.

Horse cars leave No. Woburn at 6:00, 5:00, 5:25,

4:45, 4:15, A. M., 10, 10:45, 11:30, 12:15, 1:30,

2:45, 3:45, 4:45, 5:45, 6:45, 7:45, 8:45, 9:45,

Leaves Woburn Center at 6:00, 5:00, 5:45, 6:45,

A. M., 12:05, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25,

7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25,

2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25, 6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25,

10:25, 11:25, 12:25, 1:25, 2:25, 3:25, 4:25, 5:25,

6:25, 7:25, 8:25, 9:25, 10:25

I WONDER.
If I this night, at set of sun,
Should find me in a lonely lane,
Would I have earned the glad "Well done?"—
I wonder.
Would I look back at dear ones here?
Would I go onward to the hereafter?
Would there be time for any tears?—
I wonder.
Would it then be so strangely sweet,
Where loved ones wait there own to greet,
That life would pass me by so fleet?—
I wonder.
Would all the countless trials were?
Perplex me never, never more?—
Would hearts be false, would o'er?—
I wonder.
He says, "Unto the weary rest,"
Unto the friendless home so blest;
And so to him I leave the rest—
No wonder. —
Boston Transcript.

Electric Light and the Eyes.

Medical journals have recently had something to say concerning the effect of electric lights upon the eyes, and have agreed that it is very injurious—much more so, in fact, than persons have any idea of, because many persons afflicted with defective vision or an eye trouble attribute it to cold or some other cause, when the blame really rests with the novel and popular mode of illumination. A Tribune reporter asked Dr. Samuel J. Jones, the well-known oculist, if he thought the electric lights made his business any better, and the reply was: "I'll not say anything about my business, but I will say that I would not work in or occupy a room lighted by electricity."

"Why not?"
Because I think too much of my eyes and am satisfied that the electric light would play the mischief with them."

"How does the new light act upon the eyes?"

"In the first place it is too brilliant and dazzling, producing too much of a strain on the optics and causing at times an affliction similar to snow blindness. Then it is too unstable, the flickering movement keeping the iris constantly agitated. In a light room, for instance, the iris is contracted to keep out a surplus of light, but going to a dark room it immediately begins to expand to get all the light possible, so that in a short time the room appears to have grown lighter and objects become more distinct. It follows, therefore, that a flickering light must keep the iris agitated and ultimately cause inflammation of the retina."

"Can you find any good points about the electric light?"

"There are several. It is a better illuminant than gas, not having the orange ray; it does not consume oxygen and give out noxious gases; and it does not give out heat—an important consideration in the summer time or in a close room."

"How about the incandescent light?"

"Well, to that I can find no objection, because it has about all the advantages of the ordinary electric light, is not dazzling, and maintains a steady glow."

"Is there no remedy against the ill effects of the ordinary light?"

"Yes—keep away from it."

"But if that means keeping away from a job?"

"Well, colored glass will neutralize the light to a certain extent, but that would be like wearing kid gloves to keep the hands warm when the thermometer is below zero." —Chicago Tribune.

About Thermometers.

"Thermometers are curious instruments," said Joseph Spitz, of the firm of L. Black & Co. "Sometimes we find one that is all right at certain points and at others it will vary several degrees."

"What causes the variations?"

"The irregularities of the tube. They are frequently imperfect. At some point the tube may be too large and when the mercury rises to that point it is depressed too much. The tubes have to be seasoned. This requires a year or two. Glass changes almost like wood. When it is new it expands, contracts and warps almost as badly as green wood. Frequently people come in and tell me that their thermometers registered fifteen or twenty degrees below zero when in fact it was only ten or twelve degrees below. All cheap thermometers vary more or less."

"Where are the best thermometers made?"

"In London. There are two manufacturers in this country, one at New Lebanon, N. Y., and the other at Rochester. The imported thermometers are too expensive for general use."

"How are they made?"

"The tube is blown into the size wanted, the top being left open. The bulb is heated to expel the air and while hot is inverted in a cup of mercury. As the tube cools the mercury is drawn up into the tube. The open end is then closed and the tube placed on a scale. It is put into water of a known temperature and the point to which the mercury rises is marked. A number of tests of this sort are made before the instrument is placed on the market."

"How can we tell whether our thermometers are accurate?"

"There is at Harvard University a place for testing thermometers. They are carefully examined at various temperatures and any variation is marked. A certificate is given with every thermometer examined." —Detroit Free Press.

Children and Tree-Frogs.

"When I was a small boy I heard a minister says: 'Children are like little tree-frogs.' I wondered what he could mean by such words as these, for I could see no resemblance between children and tree-frogs. It is said," remarked the minister, "that the tree-frogs become the color of the bark of whatever kind of a tree they are on. Little boys and girls are like them in this way; they partake of the habits of the children with whom they keep company. If they play with bad children, they will be likely soon to form the same bad habits which they keep company." —Philadelphia Call.

A Terrible Shell.

An Italian admiral has invented a sharpshell shell for the 100-ton guns; at thirty yards from the cannon's mouth it bursts, throwing forward seventy-five smaller projectiles, which in turn burst, strewing in fan-shape a thick shower of balls and fragments with terribly destructive effect. —Chicago Herald.

War on Physics.

RAID ON WHOLESALE DRUG STORES IN NEW YORK—A STARTLING STORY.

The New York Tribune, referring recently to a war being made on dealers in and manufacturers of quinine in that city, said that the analyses of samples purchased showed that some of them contained 50 per cent of worthless ingredients. Quinine is the active constituent in nearly one-fourth of the medicines prescribed by physicians; and there can therefore be no punishment too heavy for its adulteration, which may indirectly cause death in cases where the patient is dangerously ill. It is often prescribed for colds and, as a rule, but as it is an expensive drug, what more natural than that parents whose children are suffering from cold or cough, should resort to some simple or apparently harmless syrup? But here science steps in and shows that these preparations, as a rule, contain morphine and poison, and that their use, not indiscriminately, but at all, is dangerous. Only recently in Philadelphia and Evansville, the death of children from the administration of such mixtures has been reported. What, then, are people to do? Fortunately at this time comes the announcement that a remedy has been discovered free from impurities and poisonous ingredients, prompt in removing the cough, and instrumental in getting up the system. The remedy has been officially endorsed by the heads of the Boards of Health of Brooklyn and other cities; by the leading physicians of the State of Maryland; including Dr. C. Fawcett, for 33 years resident physician of the Union Protestant Infirmary, Baltimore; the Governor and Attorney General of the same State; the Mayor and Postmaster of Baltimore; Judges and Clerks of Courts; Congressmen and Federal officials. These gentlemen have stated publicly over their own signatures that their endorsement of the remedy in question, Red Star Cough Cure, is given from practical tests and personal observation; and that besides relieving promptly it has the rare quality of being free from narcotics, opiums or poisons. Adulteration of drugs will always go on, we suppose, as everybody here sees orderly at all times. Certainly there is little or no drunkenness or disorder; and the New Orleans policemen's life is positively not an unhappy one. —New Orleans Courier, The Argonaut.

Crescent City Policemen.

The policemen of New Orleans are simply curiosities—they look more like marionettes than like custodians of the peace. All of the force are small—there is no exception—there is not a good-sized man among them. Boston has the finest and largest men on the police force of any in the United States; and next, San Francisco, on an average; then come New York and Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Chicago, and other northern cities. In all of the above-named municipalities the most frequently met policeman's mug is a Milestone mug, with here and there a stalwart American thrown in so that the average tourist may not be mistaken as to the nature of the soil upon which he treads.

In the cities heretofore mentioned the members of the force are handsomely and cleanly uniformed, while in many of the southern cities they look like—well, they don't look like policemen, surely. They appear something like policemen here, but they have the trim little feet and hands, and bodies of uniformized dry-goods clerks. They carry their clubs in their hands at all times; and said clubs are, by the way, the only really vicious-looking things connected with the force. They wear three-piece hats and frock coats with brass buttons. Possibly these little cheap-faced gen'leman's are good enough for the work they perform, as everybody here sees orderly at all times. Certainly there is little or no drunkenness or disorder; and the New Orleans policemen's life is positively not an unhappy one. —Chicago Herald—Train Talk.

A "Figure 8" River.

"Queerest river ever I saw," said a man in the smoking car, "was out in California. That river actually crossed its own track twice, just like a bar might, one all on the same identical level, too where she crossed herself, I mean, it was on the same level; it didn't flow under ground nor nuttin' of that sort. It cut a figure 8 as slick as could be, and come right back to the starting point."

"I don't believe it," broke in a hard-headed old chap, "Every fellow that travels a little thinks he ain't smart unless he makes some big yarn. That's the most absurd thing I ever heard of." "But this ain't no yarn, I tell ye; it's the honor bright truth. She's a little river, and a spring-fed one. Where she starts she don't amount to much. Just a little rill. The springs feed her all the way down, she makes a twist and then a bend and comes round and hounds strikes herself again. There's some water in her, and right there a mining company pumps her dry, forces the water up into a trough that carries it across the running stream by a straight cut back to the starting place, where the hydraulics is. Now you see that I'm giving you straight goods. That are little river is called the 'figure 8,' and she is a figure 8, as sure as you live." —Chicago Herald—Train Talk.

A Machine to Reduce the Size of Noses.

"I have made a machine for reducing the size of a man's nose," said the manufacturer of surgical instruments in upper Broadway, "and I'm going to watch its effect closely. I read somewhere, years ago, of such a scheme having been tried with success on the nose of a celebrated heiress in London, but I never paid any attention to it until a customer called yesterday. He said he had observed that all persons who had worn glasses for a number of years had sharp and thin noses, and he believed that if a machine were made to press his nose, which was very big and broad, where eyeglasses ordinarily rested, it would reduce the size of that organ. I made a little arrangement of springs and a clasp which he could fasten just behind the seat of the bony-like couple, and glowed hopefully about for a vacant pew. Then one of the ladies said: 'They seem to be engaged.'

The lover-like couple separated like a dash, and the girl, with a very red face, angrily retorted: "Oh, you don't know I'd set here letting him squeeze my hand in public if we want to do."

The ladies were petrified, but the other passengers took it all in and there was a burst of applause that stopped the train.

Overtrated.

Out on the Burlington and Missouri River railroad, Nebraska, they imported a passenger brakeman from Boston. There is a heap of Boston talent on the B. & M., but this young man was refined until he was about 120 proof. He ran on the Beatrice branch, which everybody in Nebraska knows is called to rhyme with "the mattress." And when this young man looked in at the car door and shouted "Buy-ad-tractee! Buy-ad-tractee!" the entire community rose up as one man and puffed on him by thousands. Thanks to the severity of the weather, his compatriots reached Fremont street in a state of exertion, preservation. —One of Boston's Libels.

The Difference.

There is a story about a doctor who has been Cieff of the Teton nation, and king of all the Sioux tribes of Indians. His real name is Stanley Huntley, but his Indian name is Waukay-Waukay. He went out as a correspondent of a Chicago newspaper, cured an old chief at 2 o'clock in the morning, and astonished his patient by asking him, after a brief examination, whether she had made her will. He then advised her to sell for a lawyer and perhaps also her pastor. "Maggie I die," asked the lady. "I am afraid so," was the answer. "How much time do you give me?" asked the lady in despair. "Well," said the doctor, "if you treat your family and yourself as you do now there's no telling what will happen. If you sleep when you ought to, and use your judgment, you may be good for thirty years more." —Indianapolis Sentinel.

Jackson's Generosity.

It seems that the young man whose estate Gen. Jackson had administered, on asking possession of it when of age, and on examining the accounts thereto, had not found the customary charges which administrators bring in for their services, and had expostulated with Gen. Jackson for the omission. The answer is worthy of the man; it bears date May 29, 1861. "I have no charge," he says, "against your estate; I never charged an orphan one cent for either time or expense, and I am sure I will not begin with you." —Magazine of American History.

Jackson's Generosity.

Some of the ordinary expressions of the Chinese, according to a recent humor, are pointedly sarcastic enough. A blustering, bumptious, fellow they call "paper tiger." When a man overvalues himself, they compare him to a tear filling into a scale and weighing itself. Overrating a thing they call a "thumbtack making a bow." A spendthrift they compare to a rock, which goes off at once. Those who expend their charity on remote objects, but neglect their family, are said to "hang a lantern on a pole, which is seen afar, but gives no light below."

"I am firmly convinced that many married men are actually too dead to death," said a young old bachelor to a charming matron. "Why, you horrid creature!" she exclaimed, "what makes you think so?" "Because statistics show that women, as a rule, live longer than men," he growled. —New York Journal.

Actresses' Shoes.

"There are losing your grip on life, try Wells' Health Renewer." Does direct to weak spots.

Through on Toothache.

Instant relief for Neuralgia, Fauces, Ask for "Through on Toothache." 15 and 25cts.

Pretty Women.

Ladies who retain freshness and vivacity. Don't fail to try "Wells' Health Renewer."

The Book That Sells Best.

"There is more money in Bibles than in anything else," said Mr. J. R. Jones, one of the largest Bible printers in the United States. "There is a steady reliable trade for the good book, and I think I have made 2,000,000 of the different grades since I have been in business. The price ranges from ten cents for the kind given away by the Bible Society to the $300 bound in velvet and ivory. I have nearly ceased printing other books."

"But your mind is too full of other things," said Mr. Jones, "to give you time to read. You have to give up your time to your family and your work."

"If I did, child, it would be sure to be sure to be engaged."

The lover-like couple separated like a dash, and the girl, with a very red face, angrily retorted: "Oh, you don't know I'd set here letting him squeeze my hand in public if we want to do."

Wells' Health Renewer.

"Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor. Cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Debility. $1. Druggists.

Heart-Pains.

Palpitation, Drowsiness, Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness caused by "Wells' Health Renewer."

Rough on Coughs.

Ask for "Rough on Coughs." 15c. Golds, Sarsaparilla, Troches, 25c.

Rough on Rats.

Cleans out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, beetles, spiders, chipmunks, gophers, 25c. Druggists.

Heart-Pains.

Palpitation, Drowsiness, Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness caused by "Wells' Health Renewer."

Rough on Coughs.

Ask for "Rough on Coughs." 15c. Golds, Sarsaparilla, Troches, 25c.

Heart-Pains.

Palpitation, Drowsiness, Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness caused by "Wells' Health Renewer."

Rough on Coughs.

Ask for "Rough on Coughs." 15c. Golds, Sarsaparilla, Troches, 25c.

Wells' Health Renewer.

Palpitation, Drowsiness, Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness caused by "Wells' Health Renewer."

Rough on Coughs.

Ask for "Rough on Coughs." 15c. Golds, Sarsaparilla, Troches, 25c.

Wells' Health Renewer.

Palpitation, Drowsiness, Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness caused by "Wells' Health Renewer."

Rough on Coughs.

Ask for "Rough on Coughs." 15c. Golds, Sarsaparilla, Troches, 25c.

Wells' Health Renewer.

Palpitation, Drowsiness, Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness caused by "Wells' Health Renewer."

Rough on Coughs.

Ask for "Rough on Coughs." 15c. Golds, Sarsaparilla, Troches, 25c.

Wells' Health Renewer.

Palpitation, Drowsiness, Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness caused by "Wells' Health Renewer."

Rough on Coughs.

Ask for "Rough on Coughs." 15c. Golds, Sarsaparilla, Troches, 25c.

Wells' Health Renewer.

Palpitation, Drowsiness, Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness caused by "Wells' Health Renewer."

Rough on Coughs.

Ask for "Rough on Coughs." 15c. Golds, Sarsaparilla, Troches, 25c.

Wells' Health Renewer.</

THE WOBURN JOURNAL.

George A. Hobbs, Publisher. Office at 204 Main Street. $2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

VOL. XXXV.

WOBURN, MASS., FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 1885.

NO. 12.

Many dollars are being saved by careful housekeepers in coloring over Ribbons, Feathers, Dress Goods, etc., with DIAMOND DYES.

We carry a full assortment and our sales have increased wonderfully. We give a list of them and you will notice the variety, compared with the few colors obtainable in our grandmother's days.

Yellow,	Dark Brown,
Light Blue,	Crimson,
Scarlet,	Orange,
Brick-red,	Dark Green,
Green,	Pink,
Pink,	Terra Cotta,
Dark,	Dark Blue,
Slate,	Brick,
Purple,	Magenta,
	Old Gold,
	Gold,

Also the special Dyes for Cotton—Blue, Scarlet, Yellow, Cardinal, Bronze and Gold Paint.

WILLIAM W. HILL, Druggist,
Opposite the Common.

Business Cards.

MOSES BANCROFT,
SEWING MACHINES AND FINDINGS,
101 MAIN ST., WOBURN, SOLE'S BLOCK

CENTRAL HOUSE
Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable,
BALED HAY & STRAW, WOBURN.
A choice assortment of Harnesses, Robes, Blankets
Whips, etc., constantly on hand for sale.
19 G. F. JONES, Proprietor.

FOR Chapped Hands and Face
—USE—

Leeds's Glycerine Lotion,
THE BEST THING OUT.

WILLIAM WINN & CO.,
AUCTIONEERS.

Sales of Real and Personal Estate attended to on reasonable terms. Orders left at Woburn Journal or at F. Hill & Co., and at H. F. Smith & Co., 134 Main Street, Woburn, who will receive prompt attention.

W. M. WINN, S. E. PRIDE.

IRON WIRE.

Farming Tools & Seeds,
PAINTER'S SUPPLIES.

Stoves and Kitchen Ware,
L. THOMPSON, NO. 213 MAIN STREET

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,
Watchmaker & Optician,
No. 228 Main Street, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,
219 Main Street, Woburn.
Where anything and everything in a first-class
bakery can be found.

W. A. REYNOLDS, DD. S.

Dental Rooms

Cord, Wine and Peasant streets. Open evenings,
Gard and Ether administered. 52-53
Connected by telephone. No. Telephone, 7349.

GEORGE P. BROWN,
DRUG DEALER IN—

Drugs and Medicines,
And Dentist's Office.

WINCHESTER, MASS.
Physicians' prescriptions carefully compounded,
and orders answered with care and dispatch. The public will find our stock of medicines complete,
well arranged, and of the best quality.

49

SNOW & EARLE, Providence, R. I.

PIANOS TUNED FOR $1.50,

Order by Post Card, which may be obtained at
S. Horatio's next door to Post Office, and at Brown's Drug Store, Worcester.

W. F. CLEMENT,

Woburn, July 15th, 1880.

THOMAS H. HILL & CO.,

Lyceum Building,

WOBURN, MASS.,

Real Estate Agency

Fire Insurance.

Stock and Mutual Companies.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Notary Public. Justice of Peace.

TELEPHONE 7525.

CHAS. D. ADAMS,

COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW, Notary Public.

Past due claims collected, mortgages negotiated titles examined, legal papers drawn, insurance prepared,

Terms reasonable.

Boston Office: 23 Court Street.

Woburn Office: 101 Main Street, Woburn.

SUMMER TIME TABLE.

North Woburn Street Railroad.

House cars leave No. Woburn at 6:00, 7:00, 9:00, 12:00,

9:45, 11:30 A. M., 12:45, 3:20, 4:30, 5:40, 6:35, 7:45 P. M.

A. M., 12:00, 1:25, 3:30, 5:00, 6:10, 7:05, 8:10 P. M.

Saturdays at 9:15 P. M.

DEETER CARTER, Sept.

PICTURE COPYING.

If you have a small, old or faded picture, which you would like copied, send it to us in oil, Water-color, India-ink, or Crayon, and we will copy it in a manner and at a very low price, call on or address us, and we will pay all arreages in advance.

Telephone No. 739 at Office, 122 Main Street.

Mass. All kinds of picture frames on hand and made to order on short notice. All work well done.

60-62

S. A. GRAMMER,

(Successor to Grammer Bros.)

Manufacturer of a full line of Men's, Boys', Ladies'
Misses' and Children's

Ladies' Buttons. Buttons of the famous KODDO stock formerly known as DONGOLA. Our own style.

• All goods well made, and prices low.

For Building, our P. O., Woburn, Mass.

MANURE

for sale cheap, at BRYANT & KING's Woburn
Mass.

Many dollars are being saved by careful housekeepers in coloring over Ribbons, Feathers, Dress Goods, etc., with DIAMOND DYES.

We carry a full assortment and our sales have increased wonderfully. We give a list of them and you will notice the variety, compared with the few colors obtainable in our grandmother's days.

Yellow,

Light Blue,

Scarlet,

Brick-red,

Green,

Pink,

Dark,

Slate,

Purple,

Dark Brown,

Crimson,

Orange,

Dark Green,

Pink,

Slate Brown,

Brick,

Navy Blue,

Black,

Dark Blue,

Dark Green,

Dark Wine,

Dark Gold,

Gold.

Also the special Dyes for Cotton—Blue, Scarlet, Yellow, Cardinal, Bronze and Gold Paint.

WILLIAM W. HILL, Druggist,

Opposite the Common.

Business Cards.

BARGAINS

—IN—

CLOTHING!

MADE TO ORDER

—AT—

A. GRANT'S,

196 MAIN ST., WOBURN.

SAMPLE SUITS AND OVERCOATS
SOLD VERY CHEAP.

SHIRT PATTERNS CUT TO ORDER.

QUINCY MUTUAL,

Fire Insurance Company.

Mass. Standard Policy issued Full Value
Insured—No 3-4.

Cash Fund, Aug. 1, 1883, $175,000
Surplus and Reserve Fund, $100,000
Total Liabilities, $200,000
Amount at Risk, $86,108,899.

Interest paid on every policy, per cent, from previous to Jan. 1st.

Parlor Stoves, Ranges, and Cooking Stoves, (all makes), at prices to suit every one.

Blankets and Comforters in great variety and all prices.

Also our large stock of all kinds of HOUSEKEEPING GOODS which must be sold during the Winter months.

All our Great Bargains for Cash or on Easy Terms of Payment.

NO. 151 Hanover Street, Boston.

W. P. B. BROOKS & CO.

ALEX. D. DAMON.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

First Street, Congregational, Main street, corner of Common, Rev. Daniel March, D. D., Pastor.

Second Street, Congregational, Main street, Pastor, Rev. Dr. Anderson, Rev. Dr. Anderson, First Baptist, Main street, corner of Park.

First Methodist, Main street, corner of Park, Rev. Dr. F. N. Fiske, Pastor.

Methodist Chapel, Montvale Avenue, Rev. Dr. F. N. Fiske, Pastor.

First Unitarian, Pleasant street, corner of Winn, Rev. Henry A. Westall, Pastor.

Universalist Association, Minot street, North Woburn.

First Episcopal, Main street, opposite Frank.

Second Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Third Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Fourth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Fifth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Sixth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Seventh Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Eighth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Ninth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Tenth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Eleventh Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Twelfth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Thirteenth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Fourteenth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Fifteenth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Sixteenth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Seventeenth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Eighteenth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Nineteenth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Twenty-first Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Twenty-second Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Twenty-third Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Twenty-fourth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Twenty-fifth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

Twenty-sixth Episcopal, Main street, corner of Winn.

</div

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 1885.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, MAR. 13, 1885.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. H. Foster, 105 Main Street, R. Robie, 106 Main Street, E. F. Cutler's, Cummingsville, J. P. Tyler's, North Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot, and at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

NO POLITICS.

It is the annual custom of the Advertiser, some time in March, after getting the "pitch" from the JOURNAL, to define its position on matters pertaining to the town election. The JOURNAL has held back a little this year just to see how our esteemed neighbor would manage without the key-note. It however feared to wait any longer for us to lead off and so last week its spring announcement was made, hit or miss.

The Advertiser advocates, as usual in these annual fulminations, non-partisan nominations for town officers and the election of the best men we have among us. We cordially endorse this opinion, believing that party politics should cut no figure in our local affairs, and that only men of strict integrity and acknowledged ability should be chosen to rule and govern the town. A strong, honest citizens' movement is what is needed at this time. A reform in the management of the public business is demanded on all sides. Look at our taxes! The appropriations to defray the expenses of the town for the current year were nearly $150,000. Will any good, level-headed business man say, after carefully looking over the forty-seven items of expense, that this vast sum is necessary to "run" a town of 12,000 inhabitants for a single year?

But we will not argue the point. Reformation somewhere is imperatively needed. As a step towards it we respectfully suggest that a dozen or more of our leading citizens and heavy taxpayers, after thoroughly canvassing the matter, issue a call for a mass meeting of all the voters in town for a general discussion of the situation and action. If it should be the sense of this gathering, let a strong committee be chosen to select a ticket to be supported at the polls on election day, and to report at an adjourned meeting five days at least before Town Meeting. To "report at the polls," as has been the usual custom of the Democrats, is a fraud on the voters and leads to trouble and innumerable "splits." If the committee present the names of strong men they will bear the test of public scrutiny and grow stronger until election day; if weak ones, an opportunity is given to throw them overboard and take stouter ones.

We will not insist on this plan if a better one is suggested; but it, or something like it, ought to be adopted at once if anything in the shape of reform in town affairs is to be accomplished this spring.

A meeting to consider the matter of organizing a Trade Association will be held in G. A. R. Hall next Wednesday evening.

The annual Town Meeting will be held three weeks from next Monday. Are you ready, gentlemen and ladies, for the question?

The case of Marshall D. Sands for illegal sale of intoxicating liquor was continued to await a decision of the Supreme Court.

We have a large supply of all kinds of wood ready sawed and split for use, which we are selling at low prices.—J. B. McDonald.

Miss Lizzie M. Cummings of North Woburn is spending a few weeks with her brother, Professor W. W. Cummings, at Troy, New York.

At the close of the registry of voters on Wednesday afternoon 254 women had registered. This number fell below the estimate by 100 to 150.

People who want to buy the very best coal at the very lowest prices for all kinds of uses, will save money by giving us a call.—J. B. McDonald.

Miss Little Walker of this place was one of the bridesmaids at the very fashionable wedding of Miss Laura Ella Hardy and Dr. Charles E. Sprague at Melrose last week.

Michael Hevey, Dennis Kelly and Michael J. McMahon have been chosen delegates by the St. Charles C. T. A. Society to the annual convention at Arlington, Fast Day.

The Garland Oil Stove will heat a room well until warm weather, and do the work of a large family through the summer. This most excellent stove is sold at Jenkins' Hardware store.

Congressman Hayden will soon make an appointment from this Congressional District to fill a vacancy in the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Further information will be given next week.

Carter's Skating Academy is to be lighted with the gas-lamp for which Mr. Tremaine of Montvale is agent. Others are talking of taking it. See card of "Agents Wanted" in this paper.

Last week Mr. Charles R. Adams, the famous Boston teacher, gave one of his delightful musicals at the Commonwealth Hotel, among the prominent contributors to which was our Mrs. Phineas.

The Congregational Parish committee had no occasion to act in the matter of the Branch extension, Mr. J. B. McDonald, a member of the Committee, informs us that everything is settled.

We have had a week of real March weather since our last issue, with just a dash of cold that usual. High winds have prevailed, dust has been plenty, and things generally disagreeable.

Mrs. Dr. Wm. Butler delivered three grand addresses at the M. E. Church on Sunday—one at 10:30 a. m.; one to the Sunday School at 12, and another in the evening at 7; all were delighted who heard her.

The Watertown fire last Monday evening was plainly seen by persons here in our streets. At Winchester the alarm whistles sounded and it was supposed here that the fire was in that village, less than two miles away.

Persevering Division, S. of T., has chosen the following delegates to represent it in the convention to be held in Boston on the 26th instant.—H. Whitford, C. W. Dorr, G. E. Flanders, Mrs. G. E. Flanders and Miss Ward.

crib will be obliged to consult him. It is curious how these things work sometimes. On the whole, those who lay the flattening motion to their sons that President Cleveland is not going to make a clean sweep of the officers will wake up some fine morning and wonder what fools they have made of themselves.

For spring elections the Biddelford, (Me.) style is about the best that we have seen. They held their city election there last Monday and that everything might pass off harmoniously Boston detectives were employed to attend the polls, 130 special policemen were sworn in, and every Deputy Sheriff in Woburn county was on the ground all day long. This unusual parade of the law's minions so overawed and cowed down the spirits of the Republicans that the Democrats made a clean sweep from Mayor to dog-peddler, and held a grand jubilee over it at night.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

W. B. Clegg, Bank, E. D. Newton, Bank, J. B. McDonald, Coal, W. H. Hill, Coal, Pettingill & Co., Leland, E. F. Johnson, Adams, Sale, Pettingill & Co., Leland, Thomas H. Hill & Co., To Let, Charles H. Barnes, Carpenter, etc., Cutlery, etc., etc., Pictures, etc.

Mr. Parker Eaton is laid up with a badly sprained ankle.

See "To Let" by Thomas H. Hill & Co., in this paper.

"Living Pictures" promises to be a very fine entertainment.

Mr. Leath has a change in his card this week to which particular attention is called.

Mr. Charles M. Munroe's show windows are arranged with fine taste, and attract much attention.

Rev. N. B. Fisk gave notice last Sunday that he would preach a sermon to young men next Sunday.

E. D. Hayden, Esq. and wife returned from a visit of several weeks at Washington last Saturday.

The members of the School Board whose terms expire this year are Flagg, Cummings, Johnson and Conway.

The report of the Selectmen will suggest a remedy for the Pleasant street sidewalk, which ought to be adopted.

"Honest Politics" has a good readable article on the outside of this paper, for which a careful perusal is solicited.

By reference to his announcement in this paper it will be seen that Mr. Burgess is offering big bargains again this week.

A meeting to consider the matter of organizing a Trade Association will be held in G. A. R. Hall next Wednesday evening.

The annual Town Meeting will be held three weeks from next Monday. Are you ready, gentlemen and ladies, for the question?

The case of Marshall D. Sands for illegal sale of intoxicating liquor was continued to await a decision of the Supreme Court.

We have a large supply of all kinds of wood ready sawed and split for use, which we are selling at low prices.—J. B. McDonald.

Miss Lizzie M. Cummings of North Woburn is spending a few weeks with her brother, Professor W. W. Cummings, at Troy, New York.

At the close of the registry of voters on Wednesday afternoon 254 women had registered. This number fell below the estimate by 100 to 150.

People who want to buy the very best coal at the very lowest prices for all kinds of uses, will save money by giving us a call.—J. B. McDonald.

Miss Little Walker of this place was one of the bridesmaids at the very fashionable wedding of Miss Laura Ella Hardy and Dr. Charles E. Sprague at Melrose last week.

Michael Hevey, Dennis Kelly and Michael J. McMahon have been chosen delegates by the St. Charles C. T. A. Society to the annual convention at Arlington, Fast Day.

The Garland Oil Stove will heat a room well until warm weather, and do the work of a large family through the summer. This most excellent stove is sold at Jenkins' Hardware store.

Congressman Hayden will soon make an appointment from this Congressional District to fill a vacancy in the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Further information will be given next week.

Speaking of the changes soon to be made in the civil service of the country a prominent Democratic paper says, "it is not unreasonably expected that the new President will begin his work soon." Already the White House is besieged by hungry Democratic office-seekers who demand that the work of turning out Republican incumbents shall begin at once, and it is unreasonable to expect that the President can stand the pressure for any considerable length of time even if he desired to which is doubtful. Near home the untried have begun to move. The Boston Custom House will soon have a new head, Ex-Congressman Morse, who is at work for him, says Mr. Peter Butler is to have Mr. Worthington's place as Collector of the Port, but others are after it, and it is by no means certain that Mr. Butler will be the successful applicant for the soft place. Gen. Corse of Winchester, it is said, is keeping a lively eye on it, and he is a strong man every way. Col. J. W. Cowen, the irrepressible, wants Gen. Banks' place of U. S. Marshal and is strongly backed by leading Democrats of the State. But others are after that permanent too. Mr. Thomas H. Hill of Woburn, we are told, has friends seeking the office for him, and Hill is strong in Middlesex County. He has been importuned to accept the Woburn postoffice, but flatly declines on the ground that he would on no account interfere with the present incumbent. Judging from Democratic talk it is perfectly safe to say that Col. Grammer will not be disturbed either now or at the end of his present term. He is a valuable officer and has not been politically obnoxious to the Democracy. It is further said that Gen. Corse and Mr. Thomas H. Hill are to have control of the federal patronage in the Fifth and Sixth Congressional Districts, but how much truth there may be in the rumor we cannot say. These two gentlemen have for some time been "hunting in couples," but it would puzzle one to point to any conspicuous service they have ever rendered the party that entitles them to the privilege of parcelling out the spoils. There are scores of Democrats in the county and even here in Woburn who are as worthy to hold the office of Presidential almoner as Mr. Hill, but if reports are true he, with the aid of Gen. Corse, seems to have secured the inside track, and those who want fodder at the public crib will be obliged to consult him. It is curious how these things work sometimes. On the whole, those who lay the flattening motion to their sons that President Cleveland is not going to make a clean sweep of the officers will wake up some fine morning and wonder what fools they have made of themselves.

Messrs. Martin and Jacob Ellis have commenced moving the buildings on the line of the railroad extension. One house on Rock Avenue was taken away last week and the Allen and other places are being put into shape for removal.

There is but one opinion as to the propriety of keeping Mr. John Ferguson on the Board and at the head of the Atheneum Committee. No man has ever scrutinized the expenditures of the town more closely or triggered extravagances offener than he has.

Those who are interested in such matters will get their smoked glass ready for the eclipse of the sun which occurs next Monday. "Here it will begin at 20 minutes past 12 o'clock, P. M., and end at four minutes before 3 o'clock, being on two hours and 30 minutes.

The demand for lumber, shingles, lime, cement and other building materials, now that spring has come, promises to be brisk. No concern in Middlesex county has a larger or better supply than we keep constantly on hand, and no one sells cheaper.—J. B. McDonald.

We are glad to be informed that the Mendelssohn Club of this village propose to give a grand miscellaneous concert here in the near future, for which preparations are now being made. This Club is a first class musical organization, and its coming concert will be worthy a liberal patronage.

Last week Mr. Hugh H. DeLoria, for some time general manager of the Monroe & Newton rink, left for Macon, Ga., where he has gone into business. On Wednesday evening before he left the Woburn High School Polo Club and friends presented him with a hand-some pair of all-clamp skates, bag and strap in token of their good will towards him and kind services rendered.

Mr. Herbert L. Parker made the presentation, which was appropriately responded to by Mr. DeLoria. Immediately following this Mr. E. D. Newton, proprietor of City Rink, presented him with a gold medal appropriately inscribed for faithful and meritorious services rendered as manager of that place of amusement. Mr. Frank Carlton, floor manager, presented the medal in behalf of Mr. Newton.

Attention is called to the card "Living Pictures" in this paper. The arrangements for this art exhibition have been under the personal supervision of Mr. Albert Thompson, the painter. Mrs. S. C. Phinney will give selections from the operas of Faust, Mignon, and the Bohemian Girl, which are carefully traced of the signature shown to be John Carter. The names of the other jurors are given correctly.

Attention is called to the card "Living Pictures" in this paper. The arrangements for this art exhibition have been under the personal supervision of Mr. Albert Thompson, the painter. Mrs. S. C. Phinney will give selections from the operas of Faust, Mignon, and the Bohemian Girl, which are carefully traced of the signature shown to be John Carter. The names of the other jurors are given correctly.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title will all be removed before the day of sale, so that the purchaser will obtain a clean title, merely subject to a mortgage and to unpaid taxes, the amounts of which can readily be ascertained. It would hardly seem that a half interest in upwards of 14,300 square feet of land, with good stores and offices already yielding an annual rent of some $2000 to the owner of half of the property, should go begging.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title will all be removed before the day of sale, so that the purchaser will obtain a clean title, merely subject to a mortgage and to unpaid taxes, the amounts of which can readily be ascertained. It would hardly seem that a half interest in upwards of 14,300 square feet of land, with good stores and offices already yielding an annual rent of some $2000 to the owner of half of the property, should go begging.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title will all be removed before the day of sale, so that the purchaser will obtain a clean title, merely subject to a mortgage and to unpaid taxes, the amounts of which can readily be ascertained. It would hardly seem that a half interest in upwards of 14,300 square feet of land, with good stores and offices already yielding an annual rent of some $2000 to the owner of half of the property, should go begging.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title will all be removed before the day of sale, so that the purchaser will obtain a clean title, merely subject to a mortgage and to unpaid taxes, the amounts of which can readily be ascertained. It would hardly seem that a half interest in upwards of 14,300 square feet of land, with good stores and offices already yielding an annual rent of some $2000 to the owner of half of the property, should go begging.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title will all be removed before the day of sale, so that the purchaser will obtain a clean title, merely subject to a mortgage and to unpaid taxes, the amounts of which can readily be ascertained. It would hardly seem that a half interest in upwards of 14,300 square feet of land, with good stores and offices already yielding an annual rent of some $2000 to the owner of half of the property, should go begging.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title will all be removed before the day of sale, so that the purchaser will obtain a clean title, merely subject to a mortgage and to unpaid taxes, the amounts of which can readily be ascertained. It would hardly seem that a half interest in upwards of 14,300 square feet of land, with good stores and offices already yielding an annual rent of some $2000 to the owner of half of the property, should go begging.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title will all be removed before the day of sale, so that the purchaser will obtain a clean title, merely subject to a mortgage and to unpaid taxes, the amounts of which can readily be ascertained. It would hardly seem that a half interest in upwards of 14,300 square feet of land, with good stores and offices already yielding an annual rent of some $2000 to the owner of half of the property, should go begging.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title will all be removed before the day of sale, so that the purchaser will obtain a clean title, merely subject to a mortgage and to unpaid taxes, the amounts of which can readily be ascertained. It would hardly seem that a half interest in upwards of 14,300 square feet of land, with good stores and offices already yielding an annual rent of some $2000 to the owner of half of the property, should go begging.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title will all be removed before the day of sale, so that the purchaser will obtain a clean title, merely subject to a mortgage and to unpaid taxes, the amounts of which can readily be ascertained. It would hardly seem that a half interest in upwards of 14,300 square feet of land, with good stores and offices already yielding an annual rent of some $2000 to the owner of half of the property, should go begging.

Attention is called to the adjournment of the sale of the Fox property, so called, as advertised in another column. This property, situated in the very centre of the town, and having a frontage of nearly 160 feet on Main street, opposite the postoffice, would be a valuable acquisition to any one. The sale is a forced one, and there will be a chance to buy at bottom figures. We are informed that the clouds on the title

$3.00 SHOES.

N. Johnson's Shoes for Men's Wear. All Calf Skin, Glove Calf, Top, Solid Sole, leather Bottom and Counter. There is no shoe in the market for $3, equal to this shoe.

Boys' Sizes, $2.50.

Men's Calf Shoes for $2.50. Warranted Solid Leather Bottoms and Counters, Button, Congress or Lace.

Boys' Sizes, $2.00.

A Full Line of A. F. Smith's Ladies' French Kid Button Boots

$3.50 per pair.

You never can buy them in Boston less than $4. None genuine unless stamped A. F. Smith on bottom.

A. F. Smith's Glove-top, and Kid-fixed or All Kid Button Boots for $2.50.

James Phelan's Kid, Button, Box-top Boots, $2.00. The best shoe in the market for the money.

A few special bargains for Women's Wear.

SAMPLE BOOTS.

Great and Kid, Sizes 4, 4 1/2, 5, 5 1/2, 6, 6 1/2, 7, 7 1/2, 8, 8 1/2, 9, 9 1/2, 10, 10 1/2, 11, 11 1/2, 12, 12 1/2, 13, 13 1/2, 14, 14 1/2, 15, 15 1/2, 16, 16 1/2, 17, 17 1/2, 18, 18 1/2, 19, 19 1/2, 20, 20 1/2, 21, 21 1/2, 22, 22 1/2, 23, 23 1/2, 24, 24 1/2, 25, 25 1/2, 26, 26 1/2, 27, 27 1/2, 28, 28 1/2, 29, 29 1/2, 30, 30 1/2, 31, 31 1/2, 32, 32 1/2, 33, 33 1/2, 34, 34 1/2, 35, 35 1/2, 36, 36 1/2, 37, 37 1/2, 38, 38 1/2, 39, 39 1/2, 40, 40 1/2, 41, 41 1/2, 42, 42 1/2, 43, 43 1/2, 44, 44 1/2, 45, 45 1/2, 46, 46 1/2, 47, 47 1/2, 48, 48 1/2, 49, 49 1/2, 50, 50 1/2, 51, 51 1/2, 52, 52 1/2, 53, 53 1/2, 54, 54 1/2, 55, 55 1/2, 56, 56 1/2, 57, 57 1/2, 58, 58 1/2, 59, 59 1/2, 60, 60 1/2, 61, 61 1/2, 62, 62 1/2, 63, 63 1/2, 64, 64 1/2, 65, 65 1/2, 66, 66 1/2, 67, 67 1/2, 68, 68 1/2, 69, 69 1/2, 70, 70 1/2, 71, 71 1/2, 72, 72 1/2, 73, 73 1/2, 74, 74 1/2, 75, 75 1/2, 76, 76 1/2, 77, 77 1/2, 78, 78 1/2, 79, 79 1/2, 80, 80 1/2, 81, 81 1/2, 82, 82 1/2, 83, 83 1/2, 84, 84 1/2, 85, 85 1/2, 86, 86 1/2, 87, 87 1/2, 88, 88 1/2, 89, 89 1/2, 90, 90 1/2, 91, 91 1/2, 92, 92 1/2, 93, 93 1/2, 94, 94 1/2, 95, 95 1/2, 96, 96 1/2, 97, 97 1/2, 98, 98 1/2, 99, 99 1/2, 100, 100 1/2, 101, 101 1/2, 102, 102 1/2, 103, 103 1/2, 104, 104 1/2, 105, 105 1/2, 106, 106 1/2, 107, 107 1/2, 108, 108 1/2, 109, 109 1/2, 110, 110 1/2, 111, 111 1/2, 112, 112 1/2, 113, 113 1/2, 114, 114 1/2, 115, 115 1/2, 116, 116 1/2, 117, 117 1/2, 118, 118 1/2, 119, 119 1/2, 120, 120 1/2, 121, 121 1/2, 122, 122 1/2, 123, 123 1/2, 124, 124 1/2, 125, 125 1/2, 126, 126 1/2, 127, 127 1/2, 128, 128 1/2, 129, 129 1/2, 130, 130 1/2, 131, 131 1/2, 132, 132 1/2, 133, 133 1/2, 134, 134 1/2, 135, 135 1/2, 136, 136 1/2, 137, 137 1/2, 138, 138 1/2, 139, 139 1/2, 140, 140 1/2, 141, 141 1/2, 142, 142 1/2, 143, 143 1/2, 144, 144 1/2, 145, 145 1/2, 146, 146 1/2, 147, 147 1/2, 148, 148 1/2, 149, 149 1/2, 150, 150 1/2, 151, 151 1/2, 152, 152 1/2, 153, 153 1/2, 154, 154 1/2, 155, 155 1/2, 156, 156 1/2, 157, 157 1/2, 158, 158 1/2, 159, 159 1/2, 160, 160 1/2, 161, 161 1/2, 162, 162 1/2, 163, 163 1/2, 164, 164 1/2, 165, 165 1/2, 166, 166 1/2, 167, 167 1/2, 168, 168 1/2, 169, 169 1/2, 170, 170 1/2, 171, 171 1/2, 172, 172 1/2, 173, 173 1/2, 174, 174 1/2, 175, 175 1/2, 176, 176 1/2, 177, 177 1/2, 178, 178 1/2, 179, 179 1/2, 180, 180 1/2, 181, 181 1/2, 182, 182 1/2, 183, 183 1/2, 184, 184 1/2, 185, 185 1/2, 186, 186 1/2, 187, 187 1/2, 188, 188 1/2, 189, 189 1/2, 190, 190 1/2, 191, 191 1/2, 192, 192 1/2, 193, 193 1/2, 194, 194 1/2, 195, 195 1/2, 196, 196 1/2, 197, 197 1/2, 198, 198 1/2, 199, 199 1/2, 200, 200 1/2, 201, 201 1/2, 202, 202 1/2, 203, 203 1/2, 204, 204 1/2, 205, 205 1/2, 206, 206 1/2, 207, 207 1/2, 208, 208 1/2, 209, 209 1/2, 210, 210 1/2, 211, 211 1/2, 212, 212 1/2, 213, 213 1/2, 214, 214 1/2, 215, 215 1/2, 216, 216 1/2, 217, 217 1/2, 218, 218 1/2, 219, 219 1/2, 220, 220 1/2, 221, 221 1/2, 222, 222 1/2, 223, 223 1/2, 224, 224 1/2, 225, 225 1/2, 226, 226 1/2, 227, 227 1/2, 228, 228 1/2, 229, 229 1/2, 230, 230 1/2, 231, 231 1/2, 232, 232 1/2, 233, 233 1/2, 234, 234 1/2, 235, 235 1/2, 236, 236 1/2, 237, 237 1/2, 238, 238 1/2, 239, 239 1/2, 240, 240 1/2, 241, 241 1/2, 242, 242 1/2, 243, 243 1/2, 244, 244 1/2, 245, 245 1/2, 246, 246 1/2, 247, 247 1/2, 248, 248 1/2, 249, 249 1/2, 250, 250 1/2, 251, 251 1/2, 252, 252 1/2, 253, 253 1/2, 254, 254 1/2, 255, 255 1/2, 256, 256 1/2, 257, 257 1/2, 258, 258 1/2, 259, 259 1/2, 260, 260 1/2, 261, 261 1/2, 262, 262 1/2, 263, 263 1/2, 264, 264 1/2, 265, 265 1/2, 266, 266 1/2, 267, 267 1/2, 268, 268 1/2, 269, 269 1/2, 270, 270 1/2, 271, 271 1/2, 272, 272 1/2, 273, 273 1/2, 274, 274 1/2, 275, 275 1/2, 276, 276 1/2, 277, 277 1/2, 278, 278 1/2, 279, 279 1/2, 280, 280 1/2, 281, 281 1/2, 282, 282 1/2, 283, 283 1/2, 284, 284 1/2, 285, 285 1/2, 286, 286 1/2, 287, 287 1/2, 288, 288 1/2, 289, 289 1/2, 290, 290 1/2, 291, 291 1/2, 292, 292 1/2, 293, 293 1/2, 294, 294 1/2, 295, 295 1/2, 296, 296 1/2, 297, 297 1/2, 298, 298 1/2, 299, 299 1/2, 300, 300 1/2, 301, 301 1/2, 302, 302 1/2, 303, 303 1/2, 304, 304 1/2, 305, 305 1/2, 306, 306 1/2, 307, 307 1/2, 308, 308 1/2, 309, 309 1/2, 310, 310 1/2, 311, 311 1/2, 312, 312 1/2, 313, 313 1/2, 314, 314 1/2, 315, 315 1/2, 316, 316 1/2, 317, 317 1/2, 318, 318 1/2, 319, 319 1/2, 320, 320 1/2, 321, 321 1/2, 322, 322 1/2, 323, 323 1/2, 324, 324 1/2, 325, 325 1/2, 326, 326 1/2, 327, 327 1/2, 328, 328 1/2, 329, 329 1/2, 330, 330 1/2, 331, 331 1/2, 332, 332 1/2, 333, 333 1/2, 334, 334 1/2, 335, 335 1/2, 336, 336 1/2, 337, 337 1/2, 338, 338 1/2, 339, 339 1/2, 340, 340 1/2, 341, 341 1/2, 342, 342 1/2, 343, 343 1/2, 344, 344 1/2, 345, 345 1/2, 346, 346 1/2, 347, 347 1/2, 348, 348 1/2, 349, 349 1/2, 350, 350 1/2, 351, 351 1/2, 352, 352 1/2, 353, 353 1/2, 354, 354 1/2, 355, 355 1/2, 356, 356 1/2, 357, 357 1/2, 358, 358 1/2, 359, 359 1/2, 360, 360 1/2, 361, 361 1/2, 362, 362 1/2, 363, 363 1/2, 364, 364 1/2, 365, 365 1/2, 366, 366 1/2, 367, 367 1/2, 368, 368 1/2, 369, 369 1/2, 370, 370 1/2, 371, 371 1/2, 372, 372 1/2, 373, 373 1/2, 374, 374 1/2, 375, 375 1/2, 376, 376 1/2, 377, 377 1/2, 378, 378 1/2, 379, 379 1/2, 380, 380 1/2, 381, 381 1/2, 382, 382 1/2, 383, 383 1/2, 384, 384 1/2, 385, 385 1/2, 386, 386 1/2, 387, 387 1/2, 388, 388 1/2, 389, 389 1/2, 390, 390 1/2, 391, 391 1/2, 392, 392 1/2, 393, 393 1/2, 394, 394 1/2, 395, 395 1/2, 396, 396 1/2, 397, 397 1/2, 398, 398 1/2, 399, 399 1/2, 400, 400 1/2, 401, 401 1/2, 402, 402 1/2, 403, 403 1/2, 404, 404 1/2, 405, 405 1/2, 406, 406 1/2, 407, 407 1/2, 408, 408 1/2, 409, 409 1/2, 410, 410 1/2, 411, 411 1/2, 412, 412 1/2, 413, 413 1/2, 414, 414 1/2, 415, 415 1/2, 416, 416 1/2, 417, 417 1/2, 418, 418 1/2, 419, 419 1/2, 420, 420 1/2, 421, 421 1/2, 422, 422 1/2, 423, 423 1/2, 424, 424 1/2, 425, 425 1/2, 426, 426 1/2, 427, 427 1/2, 428, 428 1/2, 429, 429 1/2, 430, 430 1/2, 431, 431 1/2, 432, 432 1/2, 433, 433 1/2, 434, 434 1/2, 435, 435 1/2, 436, 436 1/2, 437, 437 1/2, 438, 438 1/2, 439, 439 1/2, 440, 440 1/2, 441, 441 1/2, 442, 442 1/2, 443, 443 1/2, 444, 444 1/2, 445, 445 1/2, 446, 446 1/2, 447, 447 1/2, 448, 448 1/2, 449, 449 1/2, 450, 450 1/2, 451, 451 1/2, 452, 452 1/2, 453, 453 1/2, 454, 454 1/2, 455, 455 1/2, 456, 456 1/2, 457, 457 1/2, 458, 458 1/2, 459, 459 1/2, 460, 460 1/2, 461, 461 1/2, 462, 462 1/2, 463, 463 1/2, 464, 464 1/2, 465, 465 1/2, 466, 466 1/2, 467, 467 1/2, 468, 468 1/2, 469, 469 1/2, 470, 470 1/2, 471, 471 1/2, 472, 472 1/2, 473, 473 1/2, 474, 474 1/2, 475, 475 1/2, 476, 476 1/2, 477, 477 1/2, 478, 478 1/2, 479, 479 1/2, 480, 480 1/2, 481, 481 1/2, 482, 482 1/2, 483, 483 1/2, 484, 484 1/2, 485, 485 1/2, 486, 486 1/2, 487, 487 1/2, 488, 488 1/2, 489, 489 1/2, 490, 490 1/2, 491, 491 1/2, 492, 492 1/2, 493, 493 1/2, 494, 494 1/2, 495, 495 1/2, 496, 496 1/2, 497, 497 1/2, 498, 498 1/2, 499, 499 1/2, 500, 500 1/2, 501, 501 1/2, 502, 502 1/2, 503, 503 1/2, 504, 504 1/2, 505, 505 1/2, 506, 506 1/2, 507, 507 1/2, 508, 508 1/2, 509, 509 1/2, 510, 510 1/2, 511, 511 1/2, 512, 512 1/2, 513, 513 1/2, 514, 514 1/2, 515, 515 1/2, 516, 516 1/2, 517, 517 1/2, 518, 518 1/2, 519, 519 1/2, 520, 520 1/2, 521, 521 1/2, 522, 522 1/2, 523

[For the Journal.]

Influence of Rum in Local Politics.

MR. EDITOR.—The influence of rum in local politics is a question which should long have been considered in all its bearings, by the intelligent citizens of this community. In national and local politics there are many influences which have a tendency to assist good government and promote all that which is for the best interest of the human family in the direction of human affairs; on the other hand there are many influences injurious in their tendencies to the welfare of the people. Of these, the worst and most poisonous in the nature of the influence it exerts is rum, and unless it is speedily crushed by the combined intelligence of all parties it will become an overwhelming power in the direction of both national and local politics. The influence of rum is always exerted in the protection of its own interest, which, when secured, is always an injury to the best interests of the people at large. By means of fraud, poison, and threats its ignorant supporters are bound in inseverable chains to be worked at the will of their master. Like a mighty king it has complete control of its vassals who, awed into submission at the sight of such power, have neither the courage nor intelligence to break the chains of servility and ignorance by which they are bound.

Its baneful influence is felt in this town by the power which its advocates exert in the direction of public matters. Its interest is in all cases paramount to others; its representatives make use of the power vested in them to protect and fasten it; they legislate for one purpose, namely, the rum interest; for one element, the rum element.

It is not true, this interest was crushed? this element suppressed within certain limits? The question is a fair one and should interest all those who believe in government for the people and by the people. Day by day, we see this influence growing stronger and sapping the vital force of good and honest government; we see a class of men springing into power who have neither qualifications nor ability requisite to represent the people in the framing or execution of laws, men who, as a general rule, do not possess even ordinary intelligence and are unable to apply what little they may possess to the consideration of any matter which aims at advancing the interest or promoting the welfare of any class except that to which they belong, in the guardianship of whose interests their small share of intelligence is completely absorbed.

It is sincerely hoped that in the approaching election the intelligent voters of Woburn, irrespective of party, will unite to defeat that power which, if not checked in time, will, by its poisonous influence, corrupt the purity of our local government.

Yours etc.

HONEST POLITICS.

A Temperance Lecture.

The United States House of Representatives got a temperance lecture at a recent night session. It had a license bill for the District of Columbia under discussion. Mr. Baldwin, of Colorado, secured the floor and said:

"The bill is a flimsy pretext to impose a license tax of $100 a year. A license for what? A license to poison and ruin thousands of men. A license to disorganize and disarrange millions of families out of the 55,000,000 people existing in this country. If we are going to legislate upon the temperance principle, let us legislate upon a theory that the practical judgment of this world will recognize and respect, and that is, if a man sells liquor, he shall sell pure liquor, just as the man who sells flour shall sell unpoisoned flour."

One smiling gentleman go down to Welcker's and drink twelve courses of liquors, commencing with a sup of brandy, then a drink of whisky, next a glass of Sauterne, after that some J ohannissberger, and after you have gone through all these twelve courses, you come here with a bill of this character, in the name of righteousness and godliness and decency, and preach sobriety to us. Why don't you stand up with me and say that any rum-seller who sells wine, or whisky, or Sauterne, or Johannissberger, or any other wine or liquor—and I have been acquainted with them all—that anyone who sells adulterated wine or liquors shall be sent to the penitentiary, and not quibble over a little license provision of $100 per year and kill 100,000 men?"

Medical Advice by Telephone.

Husband.—My wife has a severe pain in the back of her neck, and complains of a sort of soreness in the stomach.

Physician.—She has marital colic.

Husband.—What shall I do for her?

[The girl at the "central" switches off to a machinist talking to a saw-mill man.]

Machinist to Husband—I think she is covered with scales inside, about an inch tick. Let her cool down during the night, and before she fires up in the morning, take a hammer and pound her thoroughly all over, and then take a hose and hit it to the fire-plug, and wash her out.

Husband has no further need of this doctor.—Medical Journal.

Take It This Month.

Spring rapidly approaches; it is important that every one should be prepared for the distresses of life of the changing season. This is the time to purify and strengthen the system, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which stands unequalled as a spring medicine, and has endorsements of a character seldom given to proprietary medicines. A book containing statements of the various diseases which has accomplished, will be sent upon application to C. L. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar.

Mr. E. B. Knobell telegraphed the Royal Astronomical Society, Burlington House, London, from Brookline, Braintree, on Jan. 6, that Encke's comet was readily picked up that evening near the computed place. It appeared faint, with slight condensation of light. The predicted elements will require but little correction.

18 Negroes.

Who left the United States for Liberia last year have lately returned, being unable to stand the climate. Everybody going to a new climate should have a bottle of Sulphur Bitters with them as a safeguard against disease.—Hartford Courant.

Saved the Captain's Eye.

The largest magnet in the world, kept in the city of Dublin, Ireland, by which in fair weather messages can be transmitted across the channel and sometimes as far as Liverpool and London. This magnet on one occasion did what was considered at that time an extraordinary service. One of the captains of the Cunard line of steamships, on his way from New York to Queenstown, had his eye pierced with a sail needle carelessly left in the sail by one of the sailors. Fortunately the sight of the eye was not harmed. Upon reaching Queenstown the captain sent his vessel to Liverpool in charge of the first officer and proceeded to Dublin, where a consultation of the most eminent oculists of the day was held, at the head of which was Dr. Wild, oculist to Queen Victoria. The examination showed that the captain was in danger of losing his eye if an operation was performed. Dr. Wild lit upon what was looked upon as a novel method of extracting the needle. He had the captain blindfolded and led into the room where the huge magnet was. In the presence of all the faculty he was placed with his side toward the magnet, so that the eye containing the needle would be nearest to it. The keepers were taken off the magnet, the bandage removed, and in an instant the broken needle was clinging to the magnet and sight saved. The same captain is still in the service of the Cunard Company and can see as far as at any one of his officers or crew.

Powerful Water.

Uncle Zach Baker, of Benton county, is interested in a mineral spring. He has not attempted to introduce a bill offering the spring as an amendment to the constitution, a piece of legislation, though, which may be expected of him.

"What is the water good for?" asked the speaker of the house.

"Good for everything. It will cure any case of the yellow jaundice in the world. Tell you what's a fact. A fellow come along some time ago with a yellow dog. He was the yellster dog I ever saw, but he fell in that spring, and when he came out he was as white as a sheet."

"How is it for rheumatism?"

"I'll tell you what's a fact. Do you know young Alf Wilson?"

"I think so."

"Well, Alf had the rheumatism so bad that he had to carry one leg on his shoulder. He drank the water for three weeks and can now jump a ten-rail fence."

"Will it cure lying?"

"Will it? Tell you what's a fact. A Little Rock newspaper man come up there some time ago, and now you can almost believe half of what he says."

—Akron Traveller.

"Rough on Coughs."

Ask for "Rough on Coughs," for Coughs, Cold, Sore Throat, Hoarseness. Troches, 15c. Liquid, 25c.

"Rough on Rats."

Closes out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bats, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, loco, Druggists.

"Rough on Rats."

Ask for "Wells' Rough on Corns," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hard or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Corns."

Ask for "Wells' Rough on Corns," 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hard or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Pain."

Ask for "Wells' Rough on Pain," 15c. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Thin People."

Wells' Health Renewer restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Debility. $1.

"Whooping Cough."

and the many Threats of death of children, promptly, pleasantly and safely relieved by "Rough on Coughs" Troches, 15c.; Balsam, 25c.

"Mothers."

If you are failing, broken, worn out and nervous, use "Wells' Health Renewer." $1. Druggists.

"Life Preserver."

Instant relief for Neuralgia, Faceache, Ask for "Rough on Toothache," 15c. and 25c.

"Rough on Toothache."

Ask for "Wells' Rough on Toothache," 15c. and 25c.

"Pretty Women."

Ladies who would retain freshness and vivacity, don't fail to try "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Caterpillar Throat Affections."

Hacking, Irritating Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, cured by "Rough on Coughs," Troches, 15c. Liquid, 25c.

"Rough on Itch."

"Rough on Itch" cures hiccups, eruptions, ringworm, tetter, salt rheum, frosty feet, childhoods.

"The Hope of the Nation."

Slow, development, puny, scrawny, and delicate, use "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Wide Awake."

three or four hours every night coughing Get immediate relief and sound rest by using Wells' "Rough on Coughs," Troches, 15c. Liquid, 25c.

"Rough on Pain."

Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Great Men's Sons."

A Washington letter writer says: The newspapers are obliged to record altogether too much foolishness and dissipation on the part of the sons of distinguished men in public life. It is unfortunate that some men who assume to be able to govern the affairs of the country at large are unable to regulate their own families. Some of these young men seem to be fitting themselves for the penitentiary, if not the gallows. They ought to be made to realize that drink is the great leveler, and the level is that of the gutter, whatever the rank of the offender or the offender's family.

"Educated and Experienced."

Hood's Sarsaparilla, recommended by C. L. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass., who have a thorough knowledge of pharmacy, and many years practical experience in the business. It is prepared with the greatest skill and care under the direction of the chemist who originated it. Hood's Sarsaparilla may be depended upon as thoroughly pure, honest, and reliable medicine.

"Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites."

In simplest Conscription seen to possess remedial powers of great efficacy. It heals the irritation of the throat and lungs. Makes pure blood and builds up and fortifies the system against further ills by disease.

"It is the cold weather probably that prompts a correspondent to say that he hopes that the man who stands in front of the fire keeping the heat from every body else may have the same chance hereafter."

Mr. E. R. Hoyt, a mechanical engineer at the New Orleans Exposition, was severely injured by a lightning stroke while on his boat. He was conveyed to his residence, and after only three applications of S. Jacobs Oil, all the swelling and pain disappeared, he resumed his duties.

"18 Negroes."

We make a specialty of Wedding Invitations, Visiting, Dining, Dinner and Correspondence Cards. We have a select assortment of Valentines, Easter and Birth Day Cards. Call and examine. STEVENS & MANCHESTER, 37 West St., Boston.

Notes.The Household.

LEMON JELLY.—One package gelatin; let it stand one hour in a little warm water, then add one quart of boiling water, the juice of three or four lemons and a pint and a half of sugar; strain and set away to harden. Break into bits when served, as it looks prettier than when in a solid mass.

CHOCOLATE CARMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One cup of granulated sugar, one cup molasses, one fourth cup milk, a piece of butter as large as an egg; when nearly done add small cup grated chocolate; boil till it will harden when dropped in cold water; pour into flat buttered pans. When it gets stiff mark into squares. Very nice.

</div

THE WOBURN JOURNAL, FRIDAY, MARCH 20, 1885.

The Woburn Journal

FRIDAY, MAR. 20, 1885.

THE JOURNAL is for sale at the stores of S. H. Brown, 105 Main Street, R. Reber, 156 Main Street, E. Cutters, Cummingsville, J. P. Tyler, North Woburn, Cooper's News Stand at the Centre Depot, and at G. P. Brown's, Winchester.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
All advertisements, to insure insertion in this paper, must be handed in as early as 10 o'clock on Thursday forenoon.

OUR SCHOOL BOARD.

Radical changes in this important branch of our town government are imperatively demanded. There are cranks on the Board whose influence, if they cannot be got rid of this year, should be neutralized by the introduction of some common sense and business qualifications. Quarrels among the members and a disposition to foster political cliques and favor religious denominations have already greatly damaged our schools and will eventually destroy their usefulness unless something is done at the next Town Meeting to squelch the unseemly way by the election of men of character and ability to fill the places of those who go out. We want no politics or theology in our School Board, and the Lord willing, we don't mean to have any.

Two annual reports have been made and sent to the printer—a majority and minority one—which on the face of it shows a bad state of things in the Board. A wrangle over the printing of the minority report is in fierce progress, and what the upshot of it will be cannot now be foretold. It is evident that one or two men, who are totally unfit for the position, have undertaken to bulldoze the rest of the members into adopting their unbusiness-like ideas, and out of this arises much of the difficulty. It is a bad state of things, to remedy which calls for prompt and judicious action on the part of the voters of the town. The women must come to the rescue and help reform the personnel of the Board and save the usefulness and credit of our schools. Next week we propose to give the reports of the Committee and Superintendent considerable studious attention and print the result.

¶ The Boston Democracy are just now experiencing the sweets of a first class family quarrel, and it looks as though the bosses must go. For some years the party have been ruled by a few men as with an iron rod, having ensured which until patrician has ceased to be a virtue the young blood now propose to throw of the heavy yoke and make a gallant stand for their rights. This latter element in the city government, by "combining" with the Republican members, have already made several important points, at which the massbacks are becoming alarmed. The Democratic City Committee are to be elected in April, at which time interested spectators may be reasonably certain of seeing the fury.

Thomas H. Hill, Esq., denies with emphasis the statements made by the JOURNAL last week to the effect that he and Gen. Corse of Winchester were to have the disposal of the federal patronage in this district under the new administration. He says such an arrangement has never been mentioned, hinted at or thought of by him, nor has any person the least grounds for surmising or believing anything of the kind is contemplated. In justice to ourselves it is proper to state that the JOURNAL derived the information on which the article was based from purely anti-Republican sources.

¶ The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Washington made the new President an official call the other day ostensibly to pay their respects to him, but really to get him to banish wine and liquors from state dinners, after the manner of Mr. Hayes. The meeting was very cordial and pleasant, and a great many delightful commonplaces passed back and forth, but the ladies went away dissatisfied, for not a word did the President lisp about the object of their visit, and they of course were too well bred to state in terms what that object was. The call was a failure.

¶ The resolution in favor of biennial elections in this State has passed both branches of the Legislature by good majorities. It will now have to be submitted to the next Legislature and, if approved, will go to the people for sanction or otherwise. There can be little doubt as to what their verdict will be.

LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements.

W. E. Carter—Blink, E. D. Newton—Ring, T. C. Evans—Station, J. L. D. Dyer—Saloon, P. O. Box 270—To Let, W. H. C. —For Sale, John McCarthy—For Sale, C. S. Goss—Kester & Co., C. H. C. —For Sale, G. H. Carter—Cows for Sale, First Nat. Bank—Statement, Edward C. —For Sale, J. W. Johnson—Probate Notice, Peterman's Co.—Woburn, H. P. —For Sale, Notice, H. H. Henry's Minstrels—Entertainment.

The front of John C. Buck's store is being remodeled.

Mr. Copeland is expected home from his New Orleans trip next Friday.

Mr. George H. Ayer, who has been travelling in the West, has got back home.

— Mr. James Dooley is up from Down East visiting his old home and friends here.

— G. F. Jones lost a valuable horse Sunday by death, and John D. Gilman had one run away.

— Richard Reynolds for maintaining a liquor nuisance was fined $50 and costs in court Friday.

— G. R. Gage & Co. have an important change in their card this week. Prices—25, 35, 50 cents—are very low.

— Rev. J. Frank Winkley will preach his farewell sermon at Trinity church on Easter Sunday.

— Mr. Patrick Calhan is erecting a large house on his estate on Winn street, just north of his factory.

— Mr. William F. Kenney entertained a Belmont audience Wednesday evening with recitations.

— Mr. George H. Carter of Woburn has two fine new-winch bows for sale. Read his card in this paper.

— Mrs. Lavigne, nee Fay, is making large additions to her residence on Main street near the Winchester line.

— William Tracy has been missing from his home since last Saturday. He is about 32 years old and six feet tall.

— Chicago and other Western papers speak in the highest terms of H. H. Henry's Minstrel troupe. It is a fine one.

— A very light snow storm visited this section on Monday night, all traces of which had vanished by Tuesday noon.

— The regular mid-monthly meeting of the Board of Selectmen took place last Tuesday evening. Business was light.

— Mr. Thomas Hill, whose office is in Lyceum Hall building, is selling tickets to Europe by popular lines very cheap.

— First rate speakers will address the business meeting next Wednesday evening. Let there be a rousing attendance.

— The grand carnival at Carter's Academy is postponed from the 8th to the 15th of April. No further postponement.

— By application to Box 279 Woburn P. O., one may learn of a good house partially furnished to let. See card in this paper.

— If the ladies would find out just how cheap they can buy goods let them take a good look at the card of Mr. F. S. Burgess.

— The report of the School Board shows that the number of pupils enrolled is 2,530; number of teachers, 59; schools, 51.

— There is no better coal minded out of the earth than I have in my yards. I have all the varieties used and sell cheap.—J. B. McDonald.

— To make way for the rail road extension, the house bought by the Company from Daniel McCarthy is being moved on to Bedford street.

— Many of our tanners are putting in large stocks of hides and the factories are nearly all running full-handed. The business is brightening up.

— H. H. Henry's Minstrel company, which plays in Lyceum Hall, next Thursday evening, is composed of 25 of the best artists in the country.

— If builders will consult their best interests they will call at my office for estimates on frames, lumber, shingles, lathes, lime, etc.—J. B. McDonald.

— William C. Kenney, of the firm of Kenney and Murphy, is a prominent candidate for the Board this year, if he will only allow his name to be used.

— Rev. N. B. Fisk will officiate at All Saints' Chapel, Montvale, next Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m. A cordial welcome will be extended to all visitors.

— Mr. John McCarty has a new carriage-house for sale on Richardson street. The purchaser must remove it, as the owner wants the land on which it stands.

— Messrs. C. A. Smith & Son have a change in their card today. It will be worth the while of our lady readers to turn to the card and make a note of its contents.

— Mr. E. E. Thompson, Treasurer of the Savings Bank, is quite ill at his home on Montvale Avenue. We hope, to see him at his post again in a few days.

— The top of the house occupied by Thomas Lord and Mr. Phelps on Wood's Hill, Montvale Avenue, was burned off yesterday afternoon. The furniture was badly injured.

— I think it will be for the interest of citizens of Woburn and neighboring towns to purchase coal, wood, lumber, lime, cement, etc. at my establishment, and a great many delightful commonplaces passed back and forth, but the ladies went away dissatisfied, for not a word did the President lisp about the object of their visit, and they of course were too well bred to state in terms what that object was. The call was a failure.

— The weather continues to be as disagreeable as ever. We don't expect to believe it is an actual fact that the temperature on last Wednesday here averaged just about zero.

— There was a smart rain storm last Sunday night with the wind southwest. It cleared off however before morning, the wind changed to the northwest, and Monday was a real March day.

— Mr. C. M. Munroe has a special announcement in this paper respecting children's suits. This is a chance to get a big bargain, for it is a genuine offer on Mr. Munroe's part.

— The report of Truant officer, Thomas Mulkeen shows that there were 35 truants from school in 1884-5; two arrested; one sent to the Reform School, and one placed on probation.

— Work has been commenced on the estate bought by Dr. John M. Harlow, next north of the Hudson school. The old building will be moved away and the Doctor's own residence moved to it.

— Some very fine manufactured goods from the establishment Messrs. G. R. Gage & Co., start tomorrow for the World's Fair at New Orleans. There will be nothing neater on exhibition there.

— Mr. David Ronco has moved into one of the new stores in the Tufts College block, where he now has in successful operation one of the neatest and handsomest tailoring establishments in Middlesex County.

— Last Sunday Rev. Fr. Murphy of St. Charles Church defined his position on the school question and matters went the same. Others have discussed the question and it is to be hoped the talk will amount to something.

— H. H. Henry's Premium Minstrels, which will give an entertainment in Lyceum Hall on next Thursday evening, are first class in every particular and one of the best that travels. The prices—25, 35, 50 cents—are very low.

— James Deary a fish pedler, will try to have John Daly a one-armed fisherman of Winchester interfere with his trade on Centre street, knocked him down, and put in heavy licks on his face: $100 and costs.

— An entertainment will be given by Perseverance Division, S. of T., in Fidelity Hall on next Wednesday evening consisting of music, readings, recitations, dialogues, etc. Ample preparations for the same are being made by the committee.

— If there was any unusual stir or commotion here on St. Patrick's Day this scribbler failed to see it. Of course a good many young Catholics of both sexes indulged in considerable lively foot-shaking to nice music in the evening, and some of the old folks probably improved the occasion for a bit of a "time"; but there was no rush or extraordinary carryings-on. Good St. Patrick's memory was honored just middling and not a mite more by his friends in Woburn.

— Two McDermott boys and one named Smith of Stoneham while passing along Montvale Avenue last Saturday thought it would be very funny to sling a rock through a window. They found just the rock and just the window, and having the proper amount of muscle put the rock into the parlor of the residence of Mr. Marshall Blanchard. Mr. B. was there to receive it, and gave chase, but boys most always run faster than men and it was so this time. The police were notified and officer McSweeney got hold of the right one. He was in Court Monday morning. The father settled for the glass and paid costs of Court.

— The women say that they can get just as favorable bargains in dress and fancy goods at Smith & Son's as in Boston, and in some things better. Smith & Son understand that if they would do a successful business they must make prices that will prove an inducement strong enough to keep our people from going to the city to trade, and this is just what they have been doing all along, and are doing every day. In this way Smith & Son have changed the course of trade here a good deal in the last few years, and there has been a material dropping off in the number of women who go to the city to purchase their dry goods.

— There was a very pleasant party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Nason on Court street last Tuesday evening. Some thirty or forty of their good friends organized a house-warming for them which was carried out very successfully indeed. By means of a rear window in their new residence the company managed to smuggle in a fine, brain-new carpet and had it all nicely laid on the parlor floor before mine host and hostess were aware of what was going on; but when the valuable present was discovered they were not only greatly surprised, but very thankful for it. A nice supper was enjoyed by the merry company, and a delightful evening was spent in social intercourse, etc.

— The exhibition of "Living Pictures" at the Unitarian vestry last Wednesday evening drew a full house. It was worthy of all praise as an art show, a liberal bestowal of which it received from the audience. Likewise it was something out of the common path, and its novelty attracted a large audience as well as the fact that it was gotten up by people of taste and experience in art matters. Mrs. Phinney's singing was a very pleasing feature of the exhibition. She sings with the spirit and understanding also, and when at her best, "in notes almost devine"—to adopt the words of the exhibitor.

— On motion of Mr. Mark Allen it was voted to organize a Board of Trade. On motion of Mr. E. W. Champney a committee was appointed on permanent organization to report at the next meeting. The Chair appointed as such committee, W. W. Hill, F. S. Burgess, who, at the close of an excellent speech, called Col. William T. Grammer to the Chair. Mr. F. S. Burgess was chosen Secretary. On taking the chair Col. Grammer made some appropriate remarks which were warmly applauded by the meeting. He was followed by Mr. W. W. Hill who explained the character of the proposed organization and touched on the benefits that were sure to flow from it. An interesting letter from W. V. Kellogg, Esq., whose engagements in the extension of the Woburn Branch and of the Woburn Laundry and Dye House! were to the rescue and help reform the personnel of the Board and save the usefulness and credit of our schools. Next week we propose to give the reports of the Committee and Superintendent considerable studious attention and print the result.

— The Boston Democracy are just now experiencing the sweets of a first class family quarrel, and it looks as though the bosses must go. For some years the party have been ruled by a few men as with an iron rod, having ensured which until patrician has ceased to be a virtue the young blood now propose to throw off the heavy yoke and make a gallant stand for their rights. This latter element in the city government, by "combining" with the Republican members, have already made several important points, at which the massbacks are becoming alarmed. The Democratic City Committee are to be elected in April, at which time interested spectators may be reasonably certain of seeing the fury.

Thomas H. Hill, Esq., denies with emphasis the statements made by the JOURNAL last week to the effect that he and Gen. Corse of Winchester were to have the disposal of the federal patronage in this district under the new administration. He says such an arrangement has never been mentioned, hinted at or thought of by him, nor has any person the least grounds for surmising or believing anything of the kind is contemplated. In justice to ourselves it is proper to state that the JOURNAL derived the information on which the article was based from purely anti-Republican sources.

¶ The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Washington made the new President an official call the other day ostensibly to pay their respects to him, but really to get him to banish wine and liquors from state dinners, after the manner of Mr. Hayes. The meeting was very cordial and pleasant, and a great many delightful commonplaces passed back and forth, but the ladies went away dissatisfied, for not a word did the President lisp about the object of their visit, and they of course were too well bred to state in terms what that object was. The call was a failure.

— The resolution in favor of biennial elections in this State has passed both branches of the Legislature by good majorities. It will now have to be submitted to the next Legislature and, if approved, will go to the people for sanction or otherwise. There can be little doubt as to what their verdict will be.

— Mr. James Dooley is up from Down East visiting his old home and friends here.

— G. F. Jones lost a valuable horse Sunday by death, and John D. Gilman had one run away.

— Richard Reynolds for maintaining a liquor nuisance was fined $50 and costs in court Friday.

— H. H. Henry's Premium Minstrels, which will give an entertainment in Lyceum Hall on next Thursday evening, are first class in every particular and one of the best that travels. The prices—25, 35, 50 cents—are very low.

— James Deary a fish pedler, will try to have John Daly a one-armed fisherman of Winchester interfere with his trade on Centre street, knocked him down, and put in heavy licks on his face: $100 and costs.

— An entertainment will be given by Perseverance Division, S. of T., in Fidelity Hall on next Wednesday evening consisting of music, readings, recitations, dialogues, etc. Ample preparations for the same are being made by the committee.

— If there was any unusual stir or commotion here on St. Patrick's Day this scribbler failed to see it. Of course a good many young Catholics of both sexes indulged in considerable lively foot-shaking to nice music in the evening, and some of the old folks probably improved the occasion for a bit of a "time"; but there was no rush or extraordinary carryings-on. Good St. Patrick's memory was honored just middling and not a mite more by his friends in Woburn.

— Two McDermott boys and one named Smith of Stoneham while passing along Montvale Avenue last Saturday thought it would be very funny to sling a rock through a window. They found just the rock and just the window, and having the proper amount of muscle put the rock into the parlor of the residence of Mr. Marshall Blanchard. Mr. B. was there to receive it, and gave chase, but boys most always run faster than men and it was so this time. The police were notified and officer McSweeney got hold of the right one. He was in Court Monday morning. The father settled for the glass and paid costs of Court.

— The women say that they can get just as favorable bargains in dress and fancy goods at Smith & Son's as in Boston, and in some things better. Smith & Son understand that if they would do a successful business they must make prices that will prove an inducement strong enough to keep our people from going to the city to trade, and this is just what they have been doing all along, and are doing every day. In this way Smith & Son have changed the course of trade here a good deal in the last few years, and there has been a material dropping off in the number of women who go to the city to purchase their dry goods.

— Two McDermott boys and one named Smith of Stoneham while passing along Montvale Avenue last Saturday thought it would be very funny to sling a rock through a window. They found just the rock and just the window, and having the proper amount of muscle put the rock into the parlor of the residence of Mr. Marshall Blanchard. Mr. B. was there to receive it, and gave chase, but boys most always run faster than men and it was so this time. The police were notified and officer McSweeney got hold of the right one. He was in Court Monday morning. The father settled for the glass and paid costs of Court.

— The women say that they can get just as favorable bargains in dress and fancy goods at Smith & Son's as in Boston, and in some things better. Smith & Son understand that if they would do a successful business they must make prices that will prove an inducement strong enough to keep our people from going to the city to trade, and this is just what they have been doing all along, and are doing every day. In this way Smith & Son have changed the course of trade here a good deal in the last few years, and there has been a material dropping off in the number of women who go to the city to purchase their dry goods.

— Two McDermott boys and one named Smith of Stoneham while passing along Montvale Avenue last Saturday thought it would be very funny to sling a rock through a window. They found just the rock and just the window, and having the proper amount of muscle put the rock into the parlor of the residence of Mr. Marshall Blanchard. Mr. B. was there to receive it, and gave chase, but boys most always run faster than men and it was so this time. The police were notified and officer McSweeney got hold of the right one. He was in Court Monday morning. The father settled for the glass and paid costs of Court.

— The women say that they can get just as favorable bargains in dress and fancy goods at Smith & Son's as in Boston, and in some things better

LOVE.

BY WILLIAM BRUNTON.

How true love clings and clings about the soul,
How true love clings and clings on every wing,
The magnet of its trust, turned on the poor,
How true love clings!

It matters not that storms may blow and sail,
Glad and true love still is the perfect song,
It joy like sunbeams, still is your poor soul.

It will not live in any depth or shoal,
The parts divine its generous giving flings,
It asks of part of life, it claims the whole;
How tenderly our true love clings!

Notes.

"Value the friendship of him who stands by you in the storm." That depends on who owns the umbrella.

There is a woman in Pekin, Ill., who has finger nails an inch in length. Her husband does not belong to any club.

If the gymnasium is a good moral place, why do they keep so many bare and have young men hanging on to them all the time?

One of the most important questions to be decided is, "What does the rollerskating rink deacon think when he comes into the room with the floor?"

The sultan of Turkey has bought his numerous wives a tricycle. If that does not reduce their number fast enough he will try a roller skating rink.

The statement that roller skating is dangerous probably originated from the fact that so many heart-breaking young ladies may be found at the rinks.

"If bees come after you," says an exchange, "stand still, with head bowed." That's a pretty way to give in! Swing your hat and run.

The bee's legs are said to be very powerful. It can draw twenty times the weight of its body. We always supposed a bee's strongest point was in its tail.

A scientific gentleman in London is trying to produce cats without tails. This should not be a very difficult undertaking if he has a good sharp cleaver.

An Illinois man sneezed a bullet out of his nose the other day. Some ladies who will persist in looking into the muzzles of their guns to see if they are loaded must suffer the consequences.

The grandson of a celebrated poet has been arrested for stealing chickens. The old man took to poetry, while the grandson took to poultry. Some persons regard one crime about as reprehensible as the other.

It is said that a person "can do almost anything he wants to on roller skates with sufficient practice." The trouble is, however, that he does so many things he doesn't want to in acquiring the practice.

A Sunday school teacher asked a little girl of her class if she had been baptized. "Yes," said the little girl, "two times!" Why, how could that be?" exclaimed the teacher. "It didn't take the first time," said the little girl.

"What's that you have in your hand?" asked Mrs. Gimlet of her husband as he brought home a roll of manuscript. "Brains, madame," replied Mr. Gimlet, pompously. "Are you surprised at that fact?" "Not in the least," she replied, "I know you didn't carry them in your head."

A Congressman's Cow Trade.

Representative O'Neill, of Missouri, is a veritable son of the soil. Among his constituents he is a granger himself. His district lies in the upper part of St. Louis, but as it embraces the hilly goat and garden-truck suburbs of the metropolis of the Mississippi, his constituency is somewhat rural. To this element O'Neill has long been a walking encyclopedia of information concerning crops and live stock. During the last campaign while visiting, he met one of his farmer constituents, driving a cow. He at once began to air his knowledge of bovine breeding. In the height of his enthusiasm he offered to buy the cow. The farmer was not anxious to sell, but said he would take $65 for her.

"Drive her up to my house," said O'Neill, "and I'll be there to pay you the money."

The farmer regretted that he had consented to his favorite cow, and said: "Let me tell you, Mr. O'Neill, the cow is a gentle creature and a good milker, but she has no upper teeth."

"Of course that changes the trade," said Mr. O'Neill. "You wouldn't expect me to take a cow with no upper teeth, but bring me a good milker, with sound upper teeth, and I'll buy her."

When the story got out there was great excitement in the cabbage end of his district. The grangers swore they would not have a Congressman who was "blamed fool enough to believe that cows had upper teeth." As a result, O'Neill was only re-elected by the skin of his own upper teeth—Washington Republican.

Years ago, when a young minister in a trying position on West, we fell into a deep rut of disengagement, and poured out our sorrows in a letter to an eminent doctor of divinity, who had grown up with a new city and become one of the foremost divines and educators of the state. His reply was characteristic of the man, "My dear brother, stick. All that I have ever accomplished in this new country has been my sticking power. I have seen two generations of driftwood sweep past my door, but I am here yet. Stick, brother, stick."—Journal of Education.

The Care of Children.

—A leading medical journal thinks it is about time mothers should be apprised of the preparations containing morphine and opium, and given for the cure of colds and coughs. The chemist of the Brooklyn Board of Health, Otto Grothe, Ph. D., a graduate of the University of Berlin, has recently published a ready-made a remedy and a specific article for such complaints has come to his notice.

He refers to the newly-discovered Red Star Cough Cure, which he found purely vegetable.

For years the lava plains of Idaho have been a terror to emigrants because of the supposed lack of water, the fluid having often to be hauled a distance of twenty miles, but by chance the other day a lake which never goes dry was discovered, and now the route is to be altered so as to pass the lake and the terror and danger of the route are reduced to a minimum.

An Island with a Gold Mine.

The little island in the Hardanger fjord, known as Bommelon, which two years ago was an uninhabited and desolate spot, is now a busy scene of extensive gold-digging. Numerous English artisans and Norsk bricklayers and carpenters have for months been actively engaged in boring and sinking shafts into the rock, and in preparing houses and shelter for the men and machinery that have been drawn hither by the report of the discovery, in 1882, of gold in the Storhangen mine. This discovery had been anticipated in 1862 by the find of a piece of pure gold, which was at once deposited in the Mineralogical museum of Christiana, where it has since remained apparently unheeded.

The mine is now worked by an English firm, trading under the title of the Oscar Gold Mining company, which is worked under the scientific direction of Mr. Murchison. Considerable amusement seems to have been created among Norskmen by a somewhat ambiguous statement set forth in the company's circulars, which oracularly announces that "the gold finds at Bommelon are either nature's greatest success or her greatest illusion."—Indispensable News.

Oil on Troubled Waters.

The British correspondent of the Sanitary Engineer writes: "Very interesting experiments have lately been made at Folkestone with respect to pouring oil on troubled waters, or, in other words, the rough sea; and the results have been highly satisfactory. The life boat, fully manned, was used to test the difference between the rough sea and the oil area. Twenty-five gallons of fish oil were pumped through a long pipe extending some little distance into the sea. The current carried the oil a mile to the eastward in line with the eye of the pier, and this acted as a breakwater, so that the broken water on the land side quickly became much smoother. I understand permanent machinery will soon be put up at the entrance of Folkestone Harbor for the purpose of oiling the waves in stormy weather, so as to enable ships to enter the harbor in safety."

—"Rough on Coughs." Ask for "Brough on Coughs," for Coughs, Cold, Sore Throat, Hoarseness. Troches, 15c. Liquid, 25c.

—"Rough on Rats." Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bed-bugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, 15c. Dragists.

—Heart Pains. Dropped Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness cured by "Wells' Health Renewer."

—"Rough on Corns." Ask for "Wells' Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hard or soft corns, warts, bunions.

—"Rough on Pain" Porous Plaster. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

—Thin People. "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Obesity, $1.

—Whooping Cough, and many the Throat Affections of children, promptly, pleasantly and safely relieved by "Wells' Health Renewer."

—"Rough on Coughs." Troches, 15c. Liquid, 25c.

—"Rough on Colds." If you are failing, broken, worn out and nervous, use "Wells' Health Renewer."

—"Rough on Rats." Instant relief for Nourish, Faeces, Ask for "Rough on Toothache," 15c. 25c.

—Pretty Women. Ladies who will retain freshness and vivacity. Don't fail to try "Wells' Health Renewer."

—Catarrhal Throat Affections. Hacking, irritating Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, cured by "Rough on Coughs," Troches, 15c. Liquid, 25c.

—Life Preserver. If you are losing your grip on life, try "Wells' Health Renewer." Goes direct to weak spots.

—"Rough on Toothache." Instant relief for Nourish, Faeces, Ask for "Rough on Toothache," 15c. 25c.

—Pretty Women. Ladies who will retain freshness and vivacity. Don't fail to try "Wells' Health Renewer."

—"Rough on Pain" Porous Plaster. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

—The Hope of the Nation. Children, slow in development, pancy, and delicate, use "Wells' Health Renewer."

—"Rough on Coughs." The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eructions, and positively cures Piles, or no purgative required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by W. W. Hill.

—Trade-Unions. Speaking of these arbitrary associations in this country, the Mechanical News says: "They have a right to object to any rule which a firm may impose, and to give notice of such objection in a respectful manner. The wisdom or expediency of any action they may take is their own affair. If they demand that no workman shall be employed in a shop unless he wears chin-whiskers, and make that a condition of remaining themselves at work, we may be amazed at their folly, but we cannot question their right in a free country. But force of any kind, assault and battery, shodding, incendiary, threats, and lawlessness of whatever description are things against which they must set their faces in a way not to be doubted or misunderstood, if they expect to carry the American people with them."

—Don't Go Disengaged! Because the doctors say you cannot live, I was troubled with Drapex, and given up to die. But after using Sulphur Bitters I am well. It is the best medicine for all kidney diseases I ever saw.—Mrs. J. Brown, Bridgewater, Conn.

—For years the lava plains of Idaho have been a terror to emigrants because of the supposed lack of water, the fluid having often to be hauled a distance of twenty miles, but by chance the other day a lake which never goes dry was discovered, and now the route is to be altered so as to pass the lake and the terror and danger of the route are reduced to a minimum.

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

Samuel E. Gardner, of Providence, R. I., writes: "I cannot say enough in praise of Balsam."

For years the lava plains of Idaho have been a terror to emigrants because of the supposed lack of water, the fluid having often to be hauled a distance of twenty miles, but by chance the other day a lake which never goes dry was discovered, and now the route is to be altered so as to pass the lake and the terror and danger of the route are reduced to a minimum.

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

From John P. Wyman, formerly postmaster, State Office, Boston: "Such a touch cannot be said of Adamson's Balsam. It is as best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen; and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are affected."

THE WOBURN JOURNAL.

George A. Hobbs, Publisher.

Office at 204 Main Street.

$2.00 a Year. Single Copies 5 Cents.

VOL. XXXV.

Many dollars are being saved by careful housekeepers in coloring over Ribbons, Feathers, Dress Goods, etc., with DIAMOND DYES.

We carry a full assortment and our sales have increased wonderfully. We give a list of them and you will notice the variety, compared with the few colors obtainable in our grandmother's days.

Yellow	Dark Brown
Light Blue	Chestnut
Scarlet	Brownish
Green	Orange
Blue	Terra Cotta
Yellow	Dark Blue
Red	Brown
Scarlet	Navy Blue
Purple	Magenta
Yellow	Old Gold
Blue	Black
Scarlet	Dark Wine

Also the special Dyes for Cotton—Blue, Scarlet, Yellow, Cardinal, Bronze and Gold Paint.

WILLIAM W. HILL, Druggist,
Opposite the Common.

Business Cards.

MOSSES BANCROFT,
SEWING MACHINES AND FINDINGS,

101 MAIN ST., WOBURN, SOLES BLOCK

CENTRAL HOUSE

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable,

BALED HAY & STRAW, For Sale.

212 MAIN ST., WOBURN.

A choice assortment of Harnesses, Robes, Blankets, Whips, etc., constantly on hand and for sale.

19 G. F. JONES, Proprietor.

FOR

Chapped Hands and Face

— USE —

Leeds's Glycerine Lotion,

THE BEST THING OUT.

WILLIAM WINN & CO.,

A UCTIONEERS.

Sales of Real and Personal Estate intended to be realized on the 1st of April, 1883, at Woburn, Soles Block, 101 Main Street, Woburn, with immediate prompt attention.

W. WINN, S. E. PRIOR.

HARDWARE.

Farming Tools & Seeds,

Painter's Supplies,

Stoves and Kitchen Ware,

L. THOMPSON, NO. 213 MAIN STREET

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

W. F. ESTABROOK,

29 Main Street, Woburn.

Where anything and everything in a first-class

Bakery can be found.

GEORGE W. NICHOLS,

Watchmaker & Optician,

NO. 228 MAIN STREET, 14

BAKERY.

LIFE.

When violet bloom and soft winds play—
When fleckless skies float o'er the earth—
When a youth, in joy and mirth—
Life's aim is health, we say.

When summer joys have all gone by—
When frowning skies hang over the world—
When a youth, in health, are frittered—
Life's aim is usefulness, we sigh.

When summer joys have all gone by,
—Emma Carlton, in the Current.

How Yankee Pioneers Used to Live Out West.

Henry G. Little and wife of Grinnell, Iowa, paid a short visit to the original home of his family in Newbury. They are a well-preserved couple of about threescore and ten years, whose lives have not been essentially different from many of their age, of New England birth and parentage who have lived in the great west, yet in the skilled hands of a graphic writer it might be made more interesting to us who have always lived in New England than any novel of the present day. Mr. L. was born in New Hampshire, and being one of a large family on a small farm, was early thrown for support upon his own resources. Managing in one way and another to get sufficient education, he drifted to Connecticut to teach school, and there found his wife, and they were married in 1836 and joined a company, most of whom were from Connecticut, and emigrated to Illinois. They settled in Henry county and formed a township, and remembering from whence they came gave it the name of Wethersfield. No other settlement was within fifteen miles. The rich virgin soil of the prairie brought forth luxuriant crops. Game was abundant. In short, Nature provided for them all her treasures in rich abundance; yet, in the greatest plenty there was also great want, and there was practically no market for their crops, and hence no money for other wants. The postage of 25 cents on every letter from home was a serious tax to meet. Some of the company were lovers of the wood, but a dollar or two a mile was more than could be afforded for this gratification. Tobacco could be raised in plenty, but they could devise no pleasure to give it body and flavor till one day a Kentuckian came along and told them to take the toughest log that could be found, and with wedges split open end an inch or so wide, put in their tobacco and then knock out the wedges, and they thus had a press that met all their wants. It may well be doubted whether the late Wm. W. Hause of Hawkeye fame with all his mechanical ability and knowledge of tobacco, could devise anything better suited to the end desired. Afterwards some of the settlers kept a cleft log, with tobacco free to all comers, in their front yards, for years. A market for their pork was one of the first obtained, that by teaming it along forty miles they obtained the great price of one dollar and fifty cents per hundred.

Mr. Little told a humorous story of his efforts to get himself a pair of trousers and coat. He first shot a deer, and then undertook to tan its hide, and finally succeeded, and himself made the trousers. For the coat he was more fortunate, for an Indian came along with an extra deer skin, and they soon made a coat and the coat changed owners. Thus they lived—gradually but steadily bettering their condition as settlers, increased in numbers, and after a while a county organization was formed, and all the paraphernalia of courts, officers, etc., was maintained. For two or three years Mr. L. was chosen to the office of sheriff, and this included the collection of the state and county taxes, amounting to about $20,000, all paid in coin. For the performance of these duties his accommodations would hardly satisfy Mr. Sheriff Herrick or Collector Jenkins of Essex. There was not a bank or any other place of deposit, not even a safe, in the whole county, and he was compelled to keep the portion due the state until the close of the year. How, then, could he safely care for so large an amount of money? In his own graphic language, there were always in the West men that he could "tie to." He would take a bag of gold or silver, of $20,000 or more, and go to one of these men and ask him to take care of it for him, he not daring to take a receipt lest it should be stolen, and his friends thereby get into trouble; and in no case was there ever a failure to deliver the money when it was called for. One time he asked a friend to take charge of a bag of gold. The friend was somewhat nervous about taking such a trust, and said his wife could hide things better than he could. He turned to the wife, and she took it and said she would keep it as safely as possible. After some months he called for it, and she had the key to the attic of her log cabin, and taking down the family ragbag, said: "I put your money in this bag," and putting in her hand took out the money safe. The farmer's workshop had slept every night in the room, with no idea of the value in the room.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

You are disturbed at night and broken of your sleep by a cold, dry, rattling, aching cough. It is a sore throat at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP for CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is inestimable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it. It cures rattles and diarrhea, ague, the stomach and bowels. It cures colds, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP is the plan of the best, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

The Commissioner of Education places the number of medical students in this country in 1873 at 8,681; in 1883 we had 15,151.

Gentle Spring.

Among spring preparations, do not neglect that which is most important of all—your own body. During the winter the blood absorbs much impurities, which, if not expelled, will break out in scrofula or other disease. The best medicine for this is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It expels every impurity from the blood, and gives strength to every function of the body. Sold by all druggists.

It is not very generally known that Queen Victoria, was once called Queen Alexandria Victoria, and that the oaths of allegiance were in that name.

Wood which is odoriferous is generally the most durable in exposure.

Temperance.

"All that man hath will he give for his life." Labor, weariness, hunger, cold, are as nothing in the balance against liberty. And yet he will sell himself, little by little, to a habit that makes him a slave. He only is lost, whose body is the servant of his soul, and whose soul is the servant of God.

"One never knows when the W. C. T. U. women finish anything," said a gentleman at the National Convention, rather despondently. "One department suggests another, and they don't look to me as if they ever expected to stop this wholesale national house-cleaning they have undertaken. And the worst thing about it is they act just as they expected to succeed. They are resolute, and petition, and organize who have lived in the great west, yet in the skilled hands of a graphic writer it might be made more interesting to us who have always lived in New England than any novel of the present day. Mr. L. was born in New Hampshire, and being one of a large family on a small farm, was early thrown for support upon his own resources. Managing in one way and another to get sufficient education, he drifted to Connecticut to teach school, and there found his wife, and they were married in 1836 and joined a company, most of whom were from Connecticut, and emigrated to Illinois. They settled in Henry county and formed a township, and remembering from whence they came gave it the name of Wethersfield. No other settlement was within fifteen miles.

The rich virgin soil of the prairie brought forth luxuriant crops. Game was abundant. In short, Nature provided for them all her treasures in rich abundance; yet, in the greatest plenty there was also great want, and there was practically no market for their crops, and hence no money for other wants. The postage of 25 cents on every letter from home was a serious tax to meet. Some of the company were lovers of the wood, but a dollar or two a mile was more than could be afforded for this gratification. Tobacco could be raised in plenty, but they could devise no pleasure to give it body and flavor till one day a Kentuckian came along and told them to take the toughest log that could be found, and his friends thereby get into trouble; and in no case was there ever a failure to deliver the money when it was called for. One time he asked a friend to take charge of a bag of gold. The friend was somewhat nervous about taking such a trust, and said his wife could hide things better than he could. He turned to the wife, and she took it and said she would keep it as safely as possible. After some months he called for it, and she had the key to the attic of her log cabin, and taking down the family ragbag, said: "I put your money in this bag," and putting in her hand took out the money safe. The farmer's workshop had slept every night in the room, with no idea of the value in the room.

With all her other troubles—in Egypt and Ireland, and Asia—old England has also been passing through a serious agricultural crisis, in which the ancient proverbial expression, as good as wheat, lost its force for the price of that commodity touched the lowest point it has reached in the life of this generation. What brought on the crisis, what were its effects, and what remedies have been proposed, are questions that concern the American almost as much as the Englishman, whether he be a producer or a consumer of wheat; and they are very aptly and clearly discussed in an article by William E. Bear, editor of the Mark Lane Express, in the Nourm AMERICAN REVIEW for April. In the same number, Charles Dudley Warner presents an interesting Study of Prison Management, while Robert Buchanan, the English poet, discusses Free Thought in America. T. V. Powderly, The Army of the Discontented, and Prof. Hunt, How to Reform English Spelling. The first steam vessel of Europe commenced plying on the Clyde in 1812.

It is estimated that there are 200,000,000 Mohammedans in the world. Over 5,000,000 on chums have been granted by the U. S. Government. Gen. Wolsey has received $465,000 in bounties for his military services.

"Mark Twain" is going to England in May next to give readings from his own works.

The city of Berlin budget will this year cover $15,000,000. It is the highest on record.

Going up-stairs should be one of the slowest and most deliberate acts of a man's life.

The value of a ton of pure gold is $602,799.21, and a ton of silver, $37,604.84.

The merchant service of the world consists of 53,157 vessels, which include 8,433 steamers.

A German scientist says the attractive power of the earth is 12,310,000,000,000,000 tons.

The people of Maine have decided not to transfer their State election from September to November.

California raised in 1884 a bushel of wheat for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Fifty-eight million dollars is the estimated value of the finger rings of this country actually worn.

The exhibit of colored people at the New Orleans Exposition shows a great diversity of industries.

Portugal has 1,074 women to every 1,000 men, the largest preponderance of any country in Europe.

The Kansas House of Representatives has four girls among its pages, and its docket clerk is a woman.

There never was a time when "trifles" played so important a part in house decorations as at present.

The devastating insect, the phylloxera, destroyed 120,000 acres of grapevines in France last year.

Just sixteen years ago the interest on the national debt was $143,000,000, a year. It is now $58,000,000.

An international exhibition of epicurean art is to be held at Pankow near Berlin, from May 1 to September 1.

The potato, introduced into England in 1600, was first eaten as a sweetmeat, stewed in sack-wine and sugar.

A woman in Germany was recently sued for breach of promise of marriage, and mulled in £350 and costs.

Dr. Tolmache.

"Rough on Coughs." Ask for "Rough on Coughs" for Coughs, Colds, Throat, Hoarseness, Trachea, Liquid, 25c.

"Rough on Rats." Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bedbugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, 15c. Druggists.

"Heart Pains." Palpitation, Irregular Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness cured by "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Rough on Corns." Ask for "Wells' Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hard or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Pain." Poulticed Plaster. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Thin People." "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Debility, 81.

"Whooping Cough." The many thousand cases of children, promptly, pleasantly and safely relieved by "Rough on Coughs" Trichlor, 15c; Balsam, 25c.

"Mothers." If you are failing, broken, worn out and nervous, use "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Life Preserver." If you are losing your grip on life, try "Wells' Health Renewer." Goes direct to weak spots.

"Rough on Toothache." Instant relief for Neuralgia, Faceache, Ask for "Rough on Toothache," 15 and 25c.

"Pretty Women." Ladies who retain freshness and vivacity. Don't fail to try "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Cataract Throat Affections." Coughing, irritating Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Trachea, Liquid, 25c.

"Wide Awake." "Rough on Pain" Poulticed Plaster. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Thin People." "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Debility, 81.

"Rough on Coughs." Ask for "Rough on Coughs" for Coughs, Colds, Throat, Hoarseness, Trachea, Liquid, 25c.

"Rough on Rats." Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bedbugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, 15c. Druggists.

"Heart Pains." Palpitation, Irregular Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness cured by "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Rough on Corns." Ask for "Wells' Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hard or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Pain." Poulticed Plaster. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Thin People." "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Debility, 81.

"Whooping Cough." The many thousand cases of children, promptly, pleasantly and safely relieved by "Rough on Coughs" Trichlor, 15c; Balsam, 25c.

"Mothers." If you are failing, broken, worn out and nervous, use "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Life Preserver." If you are losing your grip on life, try "Wells' Health Renewer." Goes direct to weak spots.

"Rough on Toothache." Instant relief for Neuralgia, Faceache, Ask for "Rough on Toothache," 15 and 25c.

"Pretty Women." Ladies who retain freshness and vivacity. Don't fail to try "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Cataract Throat Affections." Coughing, irritating Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Trachea, Liquid, 25c.

"Wide Awake." "Rough on Pain" Poulticed Plaster. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Thin People." "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Debility, 81.

"Rough on Coughs." Ask for "Rough on Coughs" for Coughs, Colds, Throat, Hoarseness, Trachea, Liquid, 25c.

"Rough on Rats." Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bedbugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, 15c. Druggists.

"Heart Pains." Palpitation, Irregular Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness cured by "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Rough on Corns." Ask for "Wells' Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hard or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Pain." Poulticed Plaster. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Thin People." "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Debility, 81.

"Whooping Cough." The many thousand cases of children, promptly, pleasantly and safely relieved by "Rough on Coughs" Trichlor, 15c; Balsam, 25c.

"Mothers." If you are failing, broken, worn out and nervous, use "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Life Preserver." If you are losing your grip on life, try "Wells' Health Renewer." Goes direct to weak spots.

"Rough on Toothache." Instant relief for Neuralgia, Faceache, Ask for "Rough on Toothache," 15 and 25c.

"Pretty Women." Ladies who retain freshness and vivacity. Don't fail to try "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Cataract Throat Affections." Coughing, irritating Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Trachea, Liquid, 25c.

"Wide Awake." "Rough on Pain" Poulticed Plaster. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Thin People." "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Debility, 81.

"Rough on Coughs." Ask for "Rough on Coughs" for Coughs, Colds, Throat, Hoarseness, Trachea, Liquid, 25c.

"Rough on Rats." Clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, ants, bedbugs, skunks, chipmunks, gophers, 15c. Druggists.

"Heart Pains." Palpitation, Irregular Swellings, Dizziness, Indigestion, Headache, Sleeplessness cured by "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Rough on Corns." Ask for "Wells' Rough on Corns." 15c. Quick, complete cure. Hard or soft corns, warts, bunions.

"Rough on Pain." Poulticed Plaster. Strengthening, improved, the best for backache, pains in chest or side, rheumatism, neuralgia.

"Thin People." "Wells' Health Renewer" restores health and vigor, cures Dyspepsia, Headache, Nervousness, Debility, 81.

"Whooping Cough." The many thousand cases of children, promptly, pleasantly and safely relieved by "Rough on Coughs" Trichlor, 15c; Balsam, 25c.

"Mothers." If you are failing, broken, worn out and nervous, use "Wells' Health Renewer."

"Life Preserver." If you are losing your grip on life, try "Wells' Health Renewer." Goes direct to weak spots.

"Rough on Toothache